State Treasurer Mathues Enters Action Against Bank Directors.

BONDS AS SECURITY

President Gwinner Is Advised to Immediately Get Possession of the Railroad.

BLIND CONFIDENCE IN CLARK

This Is Demonstrated When Directors Discover They Are Held Responsible to the Commonwealth for State Money.

Neither the state nor any other depositors are likely to lose anything by the closing of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, following the suicide of Cashier T. Lee Clark. That is the belief growing out of the confidence felt in the men who direct the bank's affairs.

State Treasurer Mathues started proceedings to protect the state against any possible loss of state funds. Judgments aggregating $2,500,000 have been entered in common pleas court No. 2 against the directors of the bank. This is simply a precautionary movement to insure the return to the state treasury of the full amount transferred from there to the Enterprise bank.

Aside from this incident, preliminary steps were taken to gain possession of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company, owned and controlled by William H. Andrews, Francis J. Torrance, Arthur Kennedy and W. C. Hagan.

Received Suggestion from Chicago.

President Fred Gwinner of the Enterprise bank late yesterday afternoon received a telegram from a Chicago railroad official advising him to take immediate steps to secure control of the railroad in New Mexico. The message was a lengthy one and was shown by Mr. Gwinner to at least one other director in the bank. Mr. Gwinner has been doing contracting work for the Pennsylvania railroad for the past 25 years, and has a wide acquaintanceship among railroad officials.

The proposed move toward securing possession of the Santa Fe Central is considered a most important one. It will be talked over this afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors at the Enterprise bank.

One of the bank officials was asked last night what would be the object in going after the road. He suggested that the bank might be fortified against any large loss by gaining possession of the road owned by the men who are alleged to have built it with money loaned them by Cashier Clark.

Bank May Own the Road.

"It may be that when the papers of Cashier Clark are opened it will be found that the bank legally has control of the Santa Fe Central road," said the official. "We have not yet looked over the securities of Cashier Clark or the Enterprise bank, and we do not know yet just what we have. Perhaps Clark held all or nearly all the bonds of the road for the money it is said he advanced, or, perhaps, as treasurer of the company, he kept the bonds in his possession."

The most remarkable incident in connection with the proceedings yesterday at the Enterprise bank was the discovery that the bank directors were utterly ignorant of the fact that any of them were under bond to the state.

Early yesterday morning President Gwinner had a telegram from State Treasurer Mathues. The latter wanted to know if Gwinner was under bond to the state. The dispatch was shown to all the directors when they met at the bank shortly after noon. All declared they were positive they had never signed any such bond.

Confidence in the Cashier.

When news of the court proceedings started by the state treasurer was carried to the bank the directors were puzzled. Upon investigation and with the assistance of Attorney Thomas P. Trimble they discovered all were under bond to the state for double the amount of the state funds in the Enterprise bank.

"This simply shows what confidence we had in Lee Clark," said Director August Langenheim.

The discovery demonstrated that Cashier Clark had the unbounded confidence of everyone connected with the bank. It is said Clark often had the directors sign papers which they never even took the trouble to look over. It seemed

$20,000 in Cash Deliberately Burned by Cunliffe

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—When told at midnight of the recovery of the $80,000 and convinced of the truth of it, Cunliffe broke down for the first time. During his spell of gloom he said, in reply to a question as to where the balance of $20,000 was: "You needn't look any further; I honestly burned that money in my hotel room, for it had the stamp of the same Pittsburgh bank and I feared that the money would lead to my detection."

Supt. Thornhill of the Pinkerton men believes Cunliffe's statement that he destroyed the money. "The case is now completed," he said. "I will leave here at 5:08 in the morning with Cunliffe for Pittsburgh."

RACE SUICIDE SCORED BY BISHOP OF LONDON

He Declares the Sinful Practice Has Spread Like Blight Among the Middle Classes.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The falling birth rate was the subject of interesting comment by the bishop of London, Dr. Ingram, in an address to the clergy of his diocese in St. Paul's cathedral this afternoon.

Like President Roosevelt, the bishop warned his hearers of the dangers of this decrease. It was impossible, the bishop said, to describe with what dismay he viewed this diminution of the birth rate, not only in England, but in the colonies. It appeared to him to be an artificial diminution by artificial means. The practice had spread like a blight among the middle classes, and must be viewed by the Church of England as a sin, he said. The prevailing love of comfort was largely responsible for this, and the clergy must learn themselves to teach others to live the simpler and heartier life which their forefathers lived.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AMPLIFIES HIS VIEWS ON RATE REGULATION

Chief Magistrate Makes a Notable Speech at Raleigh, North Carolina—Greeted by Cheering Crowds in Old Tar Heel State.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 19.—The ovation which President Roosevelt received during his journey through a portion of Virginia yesterday was continued today, as he traveled through North Carolina. Beginning with his arrival at Raleigh at 9 o'clock this morning, he was greeted by cheering crowds at Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Lexington, Salisbury and Charlotte, the demonstration in this city being a fitting farewell of the citizens of the old Tar Heel state.

The feature of the day was the President's visit to the fair which is in progress at Raleigh. Here he delivered an address which dealt with the important question of railroad ownership and the organizations of capital and labor. His speech was given close attention, and he frequently was interrupted by hearty applause. He was accompanied to the fair grounds by Mrs. Roosevelt and she, too, was the recipient of much attention.

At Durham, where a stop of about 10 minutes was made, the President devoted his remarks to the students of Trinity college, who were gathered in force to greet him. A flatcar had been converted into a gaily decorated stand and from this the President spoke. He was accompanied to the stand by Lieut. Gov. Winston, who officiated at Raleigh, owing to the absence of Gov. Glenn, caused by the death of his brother, and by United States Senators Simmons and Overman. Both of the senators are graduates of this college. In the course of his remarks to the students the President said:

"There must be no coercion of opinion, if collegiate training is to bring forth full fruit. You men of this college, you men throughout the south who have had collegiate training, bear a peculiar burden of responsibility. I want you to have a good time and I believe you do. I believe in play with all my heart. Play when you

PHILANTHROPIES' FUNDS ARE TIED UP IN THE BANK

United Presbyterian Women Startled to Hear That Money for Three of Their Charitable Institutions Is Not Available.

Special Telegram From
ANNA R. STRATTON, Staff Correspondent.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., Oct. 19.—The closing of the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny has come as a tremendous shock to the United Presbyterian women who are in attendance at the meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. The entire checking accounts for the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged, the Orphans' home and the New Columbia hospital were placed with the Enterprise National bank. The books of the institution were closed last Tuesday for the annual meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association, which will be held next Friday. During the last few days contributions amounting to several hundred dollars were received from various churches and immediately deposited to the credit of the trio of institutions conducted under the auspices of the association.

With the money tied up by the receivership and the winter coming, when the running expenses are greatly increased, the women are full of anxiety. A new wing, costing $20,000, has just been added to the Home for the Aged and is now about ready for a housewarming, the furnishing committee having completed its task. The New Columbia hospital is almost ready for occupancy.

Though anxious for the welfare of their institutions, the women here are full of sympathy for the members of the family of the cashier, T. Lee Clark, several of them having been most active and efficient workers in the United Presbyterian Women's association.

PENROSE REITERATES HIS STRONG DENIAL

Has Neither Notes Nor Interest in the Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 19.—Senator Penrose today reiterated his statement of last night that he had no notes in the Enterprise National bank, knew nothing about its affairs and had not been more interested in this institution than he would be in any other state depository. He also emphatically denied that he held any financial or other interest in the Pennsylvania Development Company organized by ex-Senator W. H. Andrews.

"Were the state funds deposited in the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny at your request, or as a result of your political influence at Harrisburg?" Senator Penrose was asked.

"No more so than they have been placed in the 100 and more other banks throughout the entire state."

"Was your interest greater in this bank than in the others you mention?"

"I cared no more for this institution than I do for the other depositories of the state's funds."

"Have you any personal interest in this bank?"

"Absolutely none. No more so than you have, presuming that you have none at all."

MR. ROOSEVELT MEETS GEN. JACKSON'S WIDOW

President Expresses Delight on Greeting the Distinguished Woman of the South.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 19.—The feature of President Roosevelt's visit here was his meeting with the widow of Stonewall Jackson, who was present as the head of a committee of women appointed by Mayor McNinch to receive Mrs. Roosevelt. When the President was introduced he took her hand and remained talking for fully five minutes.

"Mrs. Jackson, you do not know how glad I am to meet you. Why, it is worth the whole trip down here to have a chance to shake your hand."

He referred to her grandson, Jackson Christian, whom he appointed to a cadetship at West Point. "He is a mighty fine fellow, Mrs. Jackson, a mighty fine fellow, by Jove."

The citizens' committee stood in waiting while he escorted Mrs. Jackson to Mrs. Roosevelt and introduced them.

While the President was speaking in the park Mrs. Jackson entertained Mrs. Roosevelt at her home, a hundred Charlotte women assisting. After Mrs. Roosevelt had returned to the car, she sent a handsome bouquet of American Beauty roses and a note to Mrs. Jackson.

Cunliffe Tells How Temptation Got Him

"I don't know what possessed me to take that money. I had signed for $400,000 earlier in the day, and never a thought of stealing it came into my head. Finally, about 10 minutes before I left the office, the idea came that I might as well take that package of $100,000. Instead of throwing it in the safe, I tucked it under my arm and walked out, bidding the fellows good night and hoping to see them early in the morning. I went home to my family and told my wife that I was going out and would be back at midnight. Then I hurried for a train.

"It's a pretty big responsibility to put on a fellow for a salary of $85 a month—this business of handling a million dollars a day. And putting a fellow under bonds is enough to make a fellow steal, anyway. Don't you know that if these companies would put their clerks at work on their honor there wouldn't be a third of the crimes committed?"

SUIT CASE HOLDS CUNLIFFE'S SPOIL

Brother-in-Law Is Dumbfounded When Fortune Tumbles from It.

ADAMS AGENT TAKES ROLL

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BRISTOL, CONN., Oct. 19.—Nearly $80,000 of the money stolen by George Edward Cunliffe, October 9, from the Adams Express Company in Pittsburgh was recovered tonight at the home of Joseph W. Boardman, Cunliffe's brother-in-law. For just a week the fortune had lain in an old suit case unknown to Boardman, who was holding the valise expecting its owner would call for it any day. The exact sum found was $79,953.55.

As the result of the statement made by Cunliffe in Bridgeport tonight, that he had sent $80,000 of the plunder to his brother-in-law, Boardman, in Bristol, a representative of the Associated Press called at the Boardman home tonight and asked Boardman if that was so. Boardman, who is a young man and the agent here for the Electric Express Company of Hartford, said he had received no money, but that on October 12 a dress suit case came to his house from Bridgeport and, as there was no name on it, he had not opened it.

His wife signed for the case, and Boardman placed it in a closet, thinking it was sent to him as an agent of an express company, to be called for later. Boardman told the Associated Press representative that if he wished he would send for the police and they could break open the case. Chief Meine and Capt. Belden of the police force were then sent for and in their presence the case was torn open.

Huge bundles of money in bills tumbled out on the floor, also a black suit of clothes, a pair of shoes and two shirts. As the money was being counted Superintendent J. C. Curtis of the Adams Express Company's New England agency and William F. Minster, superintendent of the Pinkerton detectives, drove up to the house and were shown in. Mr. Curtis counted the money and found a total of $79,953.55. There were five bundles of $100 bills, making a total of $50,000, and the rest, with the exception of $3.55, which was in a pocket in the coat, was $50 bills.

No one was more surprised at the display of money than Boardman himself.

Mr. Curtis packed the money in the valise and took the late train for Hartford.

Boardman says that he has received no word from Cunliffe for 18 months and that if the fugitive had come this way he would have informed the police. Cunliffe's wife is Boardman's sister, and he says he had letters from her since Cunliffe disappeared, asking him to do all he could to find the missing man.

It is further alleged that Smith changed the lists in the private office of T. Lawrence Eyre. Bail in the sum of $500 was furnished by Smith, who will be given a hearing Saturday morning. Other arrests are rumored.

PRISONER CONFESSES

He Had Hoped to Make a Deal for Leniency With Express Company.

TELLS STORY OF HIS CRIME

Says He Yielded to an Impulse of the Moment, but Knew He Would Be Caught Even If It Took Twenty Years to Do It.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Oct. 19.—Edward Cunliffe, the trusted employe of the Adams Express Company in Pittsburgh, who stole $101,000 from the company the night of October 9, was captured here this morning. Tonight nearly $80,000 of the plunder stolen by him was recovered at the home of Cunliffe's brother-in-law, Joseph W. Boardman, in Bristol. The money was in a suit case sent from Bridgeport to Boardman, and had not been opened up to the time that Boardman's house was visited. Boardman knew nothing of the money being in the house.

With scores of Pinkerton detectives searching throughout the length and breadth of the land for him, Cunliffe has been in Bridgeport living at the Arlington hotel since Tuesday, October 10, spending his money with a lavish hand in riotous living. He was arrested by Policeman John O'Connell, Superintendent of Pinkerton Detectives David C. Thornhill and Pinkerton Detective W. W. Minster at 10:10 o'clock this morning at the Tremont hotel.

Superintendent Thornhill, who is in charge of the corps of Pinkerton men at work on the case, had a talk with the prisoner tonight in a restaurant where he was taken for supper. After Cunliffe had been taken to his cell, Thornhill gave orders to two of his men to go to Bristol, Conn., where Cunliffe was formerly employed by the Adams Express Company as a clerk. The detectives had a theory that the money stolen by Cunliffe might have been hidden there.

Cunliffe intimated he expected to make a deal for leniency with the Adams Express Company in Pittsburgh when he returns tomorrow night. Word was received by Chief Birmingham tonight that members of the Pittsburgh police department will arrive here tomorrow afternoon to take Cunliffe back. This apparent delay is to afford the Pinkerton men a chance to work on the prisoner, who is anxious to get back home.

Bought a Suit of Clothes.

The Bridgeport police were apprised of Cunliffe's presence this morning through the Pinkerton detectives, who arrived here at 12:30 last night from New York city, picking up a clue that they had lost several days before at Newark, N. J. The Bridgeport police, acting with the Pinkerton men, had Cunliffe located in a short time. They learned that on arriving here Tuesday, October 10, he went to the clothing store of Sam Harris, near Main and Goldenhill street, and said he wanted to buy a suit of clothes.

"I came here from New York to have a good time," said he. "I'm looking for a cheap place to stay. Can you tell me where to go?"

Mr. Harris directed Cunliffe to the Arlington hotel, just across the street, and he left returning half an hour later with the information he had made arrangements to stop there. He bought a $10 suit, extracting from his pocket a roll of bills of large proportions. The clothier thought it inconsistent that a man looking for a cheap place to stay should carry as much money as appeared to be in the roll, and he said off-hand:

"What are you doing with all that money?"

"Oh, I just got through in New York and thought I'd take a run up here to look for a job. I don't care particularly whether I find work or not," said Cunliffe.

Slowly Trailed Him.

From that time on, Cunliffe has been spending his time in the Arlington, the Tremont in Middle street, the Savoy hotel in John street, and other similar places. So well had he evaded notice, however, that not the slightest inkling of his presence had reached the police.

The Pinkerton detectives had succeeded in tracing Cunliffe as far as Newark on the night of the crime, but there their clue ended. They supposed that, going as far as Newark, he would stop in New York, and on inquiring into his past life learned he formerly worked in Hartford and Bristol in this state.

Thinking that he might want to revisit some of the old scenes, with the daring that always characterizes criminals who commit crimes of the proportions of Cunliffe's, they decided to keep a close watch on all Connecticut cities. It was some time before they finally ascertained he had really come to Bridgeport on the day following his crime, and last night several of the Pinkerton men left New York under charge of Superintendent Thornhill.

"We camped out all night looking around for Cunliffe," said Superintendent Thornhill this morning. "It was not a question of choice, though, for there was not a room in any of the Bridgeport hotels to be had. The firemen visiting here from Allentown, Pa., and an unusually large number of transients, had taken every available room."

Cunliffe Is Shadowed.

At any rate, the detectives satisfied themselves they were ready to nail their man. Detective Dooley of the Hartford force, who had been intimately acquainted with Cunliffe when he worked in Hartford, had met the Pinkerton agents here by appointment to assist in his identification when the time came.

Supt. Birmingham this morning, after a conference with Supt. Thornhill, assigned Detective Sergeant Cronan to cover the room rented by Cunliffe in the Arlington Hotel, to which he did not return last night. They had made inquiries enough to satisfy them they would find their man in Middle street some time during the morning. In the event of his return to the Arlington, however, Detective Cronan was to place him under arrest.

The Pinkerton men and their assistants, including Detective Dooley of Hartford, and other men who were posted about the city, covered the trains, the outgoing trolley cars and in fact every possible loophole of escape.

"Superintendent, will you give us authority to arrest this man?" asked Supt. Thornhill of Supt. Birmingham this morning. "Yes, and if you need assistance call on any policeman you see," was the reply.

With these assurances, Supt. Thornhill left headquarters, followed at a safe distance by Capt. Arnold to shadow the haunts of the fugitive.

Quarry Is Caught.

Detective Dooley was stationed at Middle street and Fairfield avenue, while Supt. Thornhill was lounging idly about the Tremont hotel, when along came Cunliffe with a young man of about 24 years of age, said to be a Bridgeporter. Thornhill called on Policeman O'Connell and with Detective Minster, they swooped down on the criminal without his having the slightest inkling of what was to happen.

"You're under arrest," said Supt. Thornhill, grasping Cunliffe's shoulder. Detective Minster and Policeman O'Connell also got a grip on the man.

Cunliffe turned pale and his lips trembled for an instant. Then assuming an air of indifference, he said: "All right, boys. Go ahead."

Thornhill and the others took Cunliffe to police headquarters along with his youthful companion. In police headquarters he was led immediately to the office of Supt. Birmingham, where with Capt. Arnold, Policeman O'Connell and the Pinkerton men present he made a complete confession, with the very important exception of the whereabouts of the vast amount of money. Supt. Birmingham scrutinized a circular bearing a photograph of the fugitive and a history of the crime. Looking at Cunliffe he said quietly: "Will you answer some questions from me?"

Admits His Identity.

"Yes," replied Cunliffe in a firm voice.

"Is this your picture?" pointing to the circular.

"Yes."

"Well, Cunliffe, men trusted as you ought not to steal."

"I know it."

"Didn't you know you would be caught if it took 10 years to find you?"

"Five minutes after I took the money I knew they would catch me if it took 20 years."

"Why did you think of such a thing, Cunliffe?" asked Supt. Birmingham earnestly.

"Well, half an hour after I took it I was sorry. I wanted to put it back, but it was too late. That was the first dishonest act I ever committed, and I regretted too late."

"Tell me this, Cunliffe, can that money be gotten now?"

"Yes."

"Is it in safe hands?"

"Yes."

"Will you get it?"

"Not now."

"All right."

That terminated the interview.

His Companion Locked Up.

Cunliffe was led to the second tier of cells in police headquarters, and a close watch was kept on that section of the cells during the day. A young man who was brought in with Cunliffe, whose name the Pinkerton men retain, although they assert he is a Bridgeporter, was detained for some time.

"He's not mixed up in the case at all as far as we know," said they. "We think he's an honest fellow and perfectly innocent of any wrongdoing. We are simply detaining him here to prevent any possible information reaching certain parties from whom we are trying to learn something of the money."

Cunliffe appears to take his arrest philosophically. To Detective Dooley of Hartford he said:

"Why didn't you arrest me? I suppose there's something in it for the man who caught me?"

"I wasn't over a block away when they did nail you," replied Dooley.

"Why didn't you whistle; I'd have come back to you?" said Cunliffe jocosely.

Asked to say something about the crime Cunliffe replied to a Gazette reporter that he would talk about anything but the actual crime.

"You know, boys," said he, "there's a time for all things, and I don't think it's time for me to say anything much about this crime just now."

"I was born in New York city, and came to Hartford when I was about 16 years old. My wife and four children are now living in Pittsburgh. I worked in Hartford for the United States Express company, as well as the American Express Company, back as far as 1893. I was always honest with these companies and got promoted finally to being agent in Bristol for one of the companies. My wife's folks come from Bristol. Her father, Joe Boardman, lives in East Hartford, now. He's well able to take care of her until I get out of this trouble. He'll have to, I guess.

"I don't know what possessed me to take that money. I had signed for $400,000 earlier in the day and never a thought of stealing it came into my head. Finally, about 10 minutes before I left the office, the idea came that I might as well take that package of $100,000. Instead of throwing it into the safe I tucked it under my arm and walked out, bidding the fellows good night and hoping to see them early in the morning. I went home to my family, told my wife that I was going out and would be back at midnight. Then I hurried for a train. I knew all the fast trains and I took them. I reckoned New York would be too hot for me when my train got there, and I took the first train I could out of there. I don't know why I came to Bridgeport.

Didn't Find a Loophole.

"I knew there was no chance to get away, unless I found a loophole. The loophole, I thought, I might find here, but I didn't. It's a good thing they caught me this morning, though, for this afternoon I would have been far away from here. I figured that not over a week was safe so near New York.

"My only regret through it all has been my wife and family. I have four children, and I knew my wife and family would be continually haunted by the detectives searching for me. I didn't write home, because I knew the mail would be watched.

"Now boys, I know I've been having a good time since I came here. I've been knocking around a good deal. But through it all I have kept a level head and a strong eye.

"I have been around some of these places with men and women buying drinks, and that sort of thing, but I have not done anything here I would want to conceal from my family. That I say truthfully."

Cunliffe talked without reserve. He discussed freely the theft of a messenger named Love, who worked near him for the Adams Express Company.

"Why, that fellow was working for $45 a month, and he finally took a package containing $5,500. He, like a chump, began to buy diamonds right away. They brought him in the office one night, and the Pinkerton detective had his hand on Love's arm, where he had sewed the bills in the lining of his coat. They had to let him go then, but a week later they caught him.

Blames His Salary.

"It's a pretty big responsibility to put on a fellow for a salary of $65 a month—this business of handling a million dollars a day. And putting a fellow under bonds is enough to make a fellow steal anyway. Don't you know that if these companies would put their clerks at work on their honor, there wouldn't be a third of the crimes committed. It didn't use to be that way in the old days in Hartford, did it?" said he to Detective Dooley.

Cunliffe is a machinist by trade. He went from Hartford to Pittsburgh at the time of a machinists' strike, ignorant of the fact he was going as a strike-breaker. Refusing to "scab it," he secured employment from the express company two or three days after submitting his application. He was soon advanced to the position of acting money clerk, carrying great responsibility with it.

Victor Curtis, local agent of the Adams Express Company, was instantly recognized at police headquarters by Cunliffe, who addressed him by name. Curtis couldn't recall him.

Cunliffe is evidently waiting for some proposition of leniency, if he will return the money. He says he has spent only $400 of it, and can get the remainder if he wishes. He will be left in Bridgeport for a couple of days, at least, while the search for the money is pursued and will probably consent to returning to Pittsburgh without the delay necessary to secure requisition papers.

"Cunliffe is a most dangerous sort of a man as a criminal," said Superintendent Birmingham. "He's very shrewd and would be a hard man to deal with if we didn't have him dead to rights."

EXPRESS ROBBER NO OUTLAW HERO

Cunliffe's Comparatively Easy Capture Takes Away the Glamor of His Deed.

EVEN SLEUTHS SURPRISED

The news of Cunliffe's arrest reached the Pittsburgh office of the Pinkerton agency shortly before noon yesterday. C. H. Hiner, local manager of Adams Express Company, was at once notified and conferred with Supt. H. J. Biderman of the detective agency. While they were together additional details were received from Bridgeport. These stated that the prisoner had made a full confession and had agreed to come back to Pittsburgh without extradition papers. In the meantime Supt. Thomas A. McQuaide of the Pittsburgh city detectives was notified of the capture.

The story of the arrest spread quickly through the city and Cunliffe's stock as an outlaw hero fell perceptibly. Since he fled with the $100,000 roll of bank notes he has been spoken of on the streets as a second Robin Hood. It was expected that he would be able to evade capture for a long time, and even if apprehended, would be caught in some far distant country. When it became known that he had gone back to his old home and had fallen into a veritable trap set by the detectives, he was laughed at and spoken of as a bungling thief.

"Credit is due the Pinkerton agency," said Supt. McQuaide. "To run a man to earth so promptly indicates that the operatives who were pursuing Cunliffe had their plans well laid and that they were enabled to close in on him without losing too much time on false clues.

Cunliffe's Fatal Error.

"Cunliffe, if he really tried to escape being caught, made a bad play when he returned to his old home. Had he been familiar with the deductions of a good detective he would have known that one of the first places to be 'covered' would be his old haunts. There he was certain to be recognized sooner or later. There he should expect to meet some of Pinkerton's shrewdest men. Once established there and 'shadowed' there was no safe means for his exit without being followed.

"When Cunliffe left Pittsburgh, with practically a day's start on his pursuers, he had the situation in his own hands. His decision as to his destination then was largely instrumental in deciding his fate. If he had tried to embark on a ship at any United States port it is probable that he would have been caught before this. Without confederates to aid him, he would have to remain immuned inland. This was the best thing for him to do. It was up to him to seek some quiet isolated place and 'lay low,' grow whiskers and live quietly in one place.

"It is peculiar, however, that men who are pursued are always nervous. Henry VI. was told by Richard of Closter that suspicion always haunts the guilty mind; 'thus flies the hart at each bush an officer.' This is what bothered Cunliffe. Evidently he did not know which way to turn. He was a man who must have known enough about railroad movements to have picked a score of routes which would have taken him to places where identification would have been almost impossible.

It's Easy in the Story Books.

"It is a fact, nevertheless, that the fugitive usually forgets these things and walks straight into a trap. I have no doubt the detectives of the Pinkerton agency had studied their man well enough to know his temperament and to feel beforehand that he would do something foolish.

"Cunliffe seems to have been repentant. Probably he was only half-hearted in his efforts to get away. He says that he was about to start on a long journey. If this was the case, he must have been a little weak-kneed about making up his mind.

"People read Sir Conan Doyle's 'Sherlock Holmes' stories and then call Cunliffe a very dumb outlaw. On the Doyle standard he is, but it must be remembered that all of the 'Sherlock Holmes' yarns are built on a false hypothesis. In fiction the author plans the means of escape for the criminal. Just think a moment. The author is sitting in the quiet of his study. He probably has a brandy and soda upon his writing table. Outside in the garden he sees the flowers and in the trees the robins are singing. He has perfect peace of mind and can make and mature his plans without perturbation.

"Does the criminal have these surroundings? Not much. He fears each bush an officer,' is nervous and jumps at conclusions with undue haste. Instead of escaping trouble, he runs into it. The most desperate men are usually the ones who longest escape capture. They are often cornered, and expect to be. They go well armed, are good shots and are compelled to fight their way to liberty.

"Cunliffe is not a born criminal. He is a quiet fellow who acted upon the impulse of the moment. He ensnared himself, but at the same time full credit must be given the detectives who so promptly and effectually set the snare to catch him."

WILL NOT LOSE BY ENTERPRISE CRASH

to be customary to sign anything that Cashier Clark presented. In this way, the directors say, they likely became bonded to the state for the funds on deposit.

Mr. Langenheim said it was usual, when large sums were asked for, to have the request submitted to the board of directors. Notes representing large sums were always acted upon by the board, or, at least, that was the rule.

Knew Nothing of the Notes.

"But we knew nothing of these notes held by politicians," said Mr. Langenheim. "When they told me William H. Andrews had several hundred thousand dollars for which Clark held notes, I asked, 'Who is Andrews?' It is a fact I never heard of the man before. I don't pay attention to politics. Then I tried to learn something about this Santa Fe railroad that I understand Clark was interested in with Andrews, Kennedy, Torrance and Hagan. I never heard of the road. I have no idea how much is outstanding on these notes, and I guess we won't know until Examiner Cunningham gets through with the books."

Examiner Cunningham said he would make no statement to the press or to anyone but the comptroller of the currency at Washington.

"I informed the comptroller on Wednesday of the condition of the bank and asked that it be declared insolvent and closed, and I have not discovered anything to influence me to change my mind," said Mr. Cunningham.

Will Pay All Indebtedness.

A meeting of the officers of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company and the Pennsylvania Development Company was held yesterday at the residence of Francis J. Torrance. The latter is too ill to leave the house and his business associates visited him. At the conclusion of the meeting the following statement was issued and signed by Arthur Kennedy, Francis J. Torrance, W. H. Andrews and W. C. Hagan:

The Santa Fe Central railway was built by the Pennsylvania Development Company and completed about two years ago. It extends from Santa Fe south about 120 miles, connecting the Denver & Rio Grande, the Santa Fe system and the Rock Island system. This road is in good condition, and earning much more than operating expenses, and the earnings are steadily increasing. W. H. Andrews is president of the railway company, Arthur Kennedy president of the Pennsylvania Development Company, Francis J. Torrance, vice president of both companies, W. C. Hagan secretary of both companies. Mr. Clark was treasurer of both companies, and had custody of their securities. The railroad has no notes out. We are not aware of any notes of the Pennsylvania Development Company in the Enterprise National bank, and the company has no record of such. If, however, Mr. Clark used any notes of the company in his bank, they will be paid.

May Be Controlled by Bank.

The fact that there seems to be some doubt as to whether the development company has notes in the Enterprise, and because it is asserted that Cashier Clark held the securities of the company, and any notes in the Enterprise will be paid, allows the inference that the Pennsylvania Development Company is really in control of the bank's directors. It is certain that the securities of either company will be held by the bank for the notes that may remain unpaid. For this reason it is thought the owners of the two companies can safely say all notes will be paid. Something of this nature will be discussed at the directors' meeting today.

Francis J. Torrance is a very sick man, according to his family and the attending physicians. Only a few intimate friends of the family are allowed to visit him. He was informed yesterday morning of the death of Cashier Clark and was terribly shocked. The two have been closely allied in a business way for several years, and up until a few days ago Cashier Clark made almost daily visits to see Mr. Torrance.

Guard and Bloodhound Confront the Inquirer

An inquirer called last night at the residence of Fred Gwinner, Sr., president of the Enterprise National bank. The house sets back off California avenue and is surrounded by a lawn and a high fence. Behind the gate stood a giant Teuton, a huge cudgel in his right hand. The situation looked bad in the darkness, but the visitor decided quickly to force a way through to the house if possible. He pushed open the gate and took a few steps. There was a deep-throated growl and a rush. A villanous-looking big Russian bloodhound took a bite at the visitor's trousers. The inquirer was seen immediately after in California avenue, unhurt, but cautious. From the other side of the fence he heard:

"Mr. Gwinner is sick. Too many people come to see him. He goes to bed."

DENIES REPORTED DEPOSIT.

Treasurer Mathues Declares $50,000 Additional Was Not Sent Enterprise Bank Just Previous to Closing.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—"I most certainly did not. I haven't been in Harrisburg since Tuesday and such a deposit was not made then or since. I do not think it would have been made without my knowledge," was the reply of State Treasurer William M. Mathues tonight, when asked if the report was true that a $50,000 state deposit was made in the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny the day previous to its closing.

"That report is absolutely false. For two months we have been drawing upon our various depositors to pay the school appropriation and have collected in all about $4000,000. Some time in September I notified Mr. Clark of the Enterprise bank, that I would draw on him for $50,000 on October 1, and he rang me up on long distance telephone and asked if I could not wait until November 1, because he had $160,000, or $165,000 worth, I forget which, of Pittsburgh city warrants which would be lifted on November 1. I then ordered the draft withdrawn, but it had gone on and was met. I then ordered the $50,000 returned to the bank.

"I can say without qualification that no Republican leader ever solicited me to place state funds in that bank. I have used it as a depository since being in office, for I considered the bank a sound one. I cannot give the exact amount on deposit there at this time without consulting my books, but I believe it is about $800,000. The state is amply protected by bonds we have on file and not a cent will be lost by the commonwealth."

NONE OF ITS BUSINESS.

State Banking Department Not Concerned in the Affairs of the Enterprise National Bank.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—"The state banking department has nothing whatever to do with the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, or with any other national bank," said John W. Morrison, deputy commissioner of banking, tonight, when his attention was called to a report from Pittsburgh that he and Commissioner Berkey were in that city together last week and made an examination of the Enterprise bank.

"I have never been inside the Enterprise bank, and, moreover, I never knew anything about its affairs, and know nothing about it now, except what I have seen in the newspapers," continued Mr. Morrison. "The commissioner's visit to Pittsburgh last week was purely for the purpose of appearing before the supreme court in a case in which he was one of the attorneys.

"The commissioner thought to kill two birds with one stone while there, and he asked me to go along to introduce him to the state bank examiners in that section. He never had an opportunity of meeting the examiners personally, and he thought it would be a good idea to get acquainted with them while he was in Pittsburgh. My visit to that city at the time the commissioner was there was purely a personal one, and had no connection whatever with the Enterprise bank or its affairs, or with any other bank.

"I see that some of the newspapers say Commissioner Berkey and I met Controller of the Currency Ridgley during our visit to Pittsburgh. That is a mistake. I have never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Ridgley. The state banking department had no supervision over the Enterprise and we have no official information at the department about it."

PLUMMER WOULD CONDUCT OFFICE ALONG STRICT BUSINESS LINES

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Hon. J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, tonight gave the following written statement:

"If I am elected state treasurer, I shall conduct the office along strict business lines. I shall be most careful and rigorous in exacting adequate security for all depositories of state funds. No political influence shall govern or control me in my selection of state depositories. I have no political promises to keep and no political engagements to fulfill."

BOARD OF TRADE HAS TROUBLE ABOUT QUORUM

Many of North Side Body's Members Are Required to Attend Bank Investigation Below Stairs.

The North Side board of trade met under difficulties yesterday, business which was going on in the closed Enterprise National bank below stairs interfering considerably with getting a quorum. The meeting was called at 4 p. m., but it was 4:45 p. m. before business could begin.

Frank B. Kohen, a prominent member, came early, but he was summoned to the bank on business connected with the examination of the bank's affairs. Kohen did not return to the board of trade rooms. Thomas W. Harvey, a clerk in the bank and also a member of the board, was kept in the bank on the same business, and W. T. Bradberry, vice president of the bank and president of the board of trade, did not show up at all at the board meeting, so that when a quorum was finally secured William Dice had to act as chairman. The board meets in the bank building.

The committee on banquet was empowered to make all arrangements for the feast, which will be given in Lower Allegheny. A committee consisting of W. T. Bradberry, Thomas W. Harvey and Adam Hoffman, was appointed to confer with the officers of the American Steel and Wire Company with a view to abating the ore dust nuisance caused by the company's furnaces. The committee on wharves and landings was instructed to confer with Frank Sproat and others relative to the establishment of suitable landings on the river front below Federal street. A motion to change the time of meetings from 4 to 7:30 p. m. was laid over until the next meeting.

RIDGELY HERE ON BUSINESS.

Currency Comptroller, While In Pittsburgh, Directs Scrutiny of Enterprise Bank.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—William B. Ridgely, comptroller of the currency, today when shown a statement connecting his recent visit to Pittsburgh with the failure of the Enterprise National bank and saying he at that time had a conference with several Republican politicians, said his visit to Pittsburgh was on personal and private business, although while there he conferred with Bank Examiner Cunningham about the affairs of the bank.

Mr. Ridgely said he spoke to no one except Mr. Cunningham on the subject and instructed him to make an examination without any reference to the election or politics in any way.

PROMPT ACTION TO SECURE STATE

Judgment Is Entered on Four Bonds Against the Enterprise National Bank.

SUM AGGREGATES $2,500,000

Prompt action has been taken by the state authorities to insure the commonwealth against loss in the closing of the Enterprise National bank. State Treasurer William L. Mathues instructed his subordinates to take immediate action and yesterday judgment was entered on four bonds aggregating $2,500,000, against the bank and the securities on the bonds which were given to secure the state funds on deposit therein.

The first bond is dated may 24, 1898, and was for $300,000 to secure $40,000 deposited during the incumbency of James S. Beacom as treasurer. The sureties signing this bond as directors and the value of their property over their liabilities as set forth in the bond follow: Frederick Gwinner, $500,000; John Selling, $50,000; J. McKinney, $200,000; Charles F. Stifel, $175,000; A. F. Schwerd, $100,000; William T. Bradberry, $50,000, and Harry Landgraff, $15,000.

On August 22, 1898, the deposit of the state as shown by a bond of that date was increased by $50,000. To secure this a bond of $100,000 was given, it being signed by the following sureties, with the value of their property in excess of their liabilities following each name: Frederick Gwinner, $500,000; John Selling, $50,000; Charles F. Stifel, $175,000; James T. Arnold, $200,000; W. T. Bradberry, $150,000, and David Morrison, $25,000.

The next bond is for $1,000,000 to secure a deposit of $500,000. The bond is dated April 16, 1901, and was given during the term of James G. Barnett as state treasurer. The sureties given with their respective property values over their liabilities as given in the bond follow: Frederick Gwinner, $500,000; James McKinney, $250,000; Charles F. Stifel, $150,000; Henry Landgraff, $10,000; William T. Bradberry, $100,000; John Selling, $50,000; Frank B. Smith, $200,000; David Morrison, $25,000, and Albert F. Schwerd, $100,000.

The fourth bond, executed during the incumbency of Frank G. Hartis, is dated June 27, 1902. The bond is for $1,000,000 to secure $500,000. The sureties thereon and their properties' net worth follow: Frederick Gwinner, $500,000; James P. McKinney, $300,000; John Selling, $75,000; David Morrison, $25,000; William T. Bradberry, $100,000; Albert F. Schwerd, $100,000; Charles F. Stifel, $75,000, and Frank B. Smith, $200,000.

The bonds were all quietly filed in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday and judgment in favor of the state and against the sureties, individually, was entered in the judgment blotter.

All information with regard to the state deposits in the suspended bank must come from State Treasurer Mathues himself. The attaches of the treasury at Harrisburg decline to give out any information in the absence of Mr. Mathues, who will not be at the department before Monday. Assistant Cashier Dewey said yesterday that the state funds in the bank were amply protected against any loss to the commonwealth and that the state cannot lose by the failure. Officials of the state department of banking say the state had no supervision over the bank and that they have no means of knowing anything about its affairs.

KAISER IN AUTO COLLISION.

Emperor of Germany Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury in Front of the Castle.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—Emperor William had a narrow escape from serious injury this evening. His majesty was crossing the street in front of the castle in his auto car, when an automobile cab approached at high speed.

The chauffeur of the emperor's car saw the cab when it was almost upon him and turned his machine sharply. The cabman at this moment also saw the danger and threw the brakes on with full force. Nevertheless, the two machines collided with a considerable shock. Emperor William's car took him into the court of the castle. The other car was disabled.

She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. TRYING TO FOOL THE WORKERS

Allegheny Citizens Are Paying Off Debts Contracted in the Campaign of 1903.

WYMAN PROUD OF HIS TOWN

The Wyman crowd in Allegheny is paying off its political debts contracted in 1903 in the hope of getting the workers to help out in this campaign. When the men receive their money they go over to Republican headquarters and announce they are ready to fight the fusion ticket.

After the county fight of 1903 many of the bills contracted by the Citizens party were not paid. In some instances court proceedings had to be instituted before creditors could get their money. One man had to advertise that he would sell the furniture in the Third avenue headquarters at constable's sale before he could collect what was coming to him. Many bills were not paid at all and in some cases effort was made to settle for 50 cents on the dollar.

In Allegheny the Citizens machine went to pieces after the 1903 election. R. H. Jackson, who was chairman of the committee in that contest, flopped the following spring to the Republican camp. He made numerous speeches telling how he regretted ever having been connected with the Citizens. He was not made the leader of the Republican party and this fall he flopped back to the Citizens, being again made chairman for Allegheny.

Jackson discovered that while he had been flopping, the bills contracted in 1903 had not been paid. It was found that it would be necessary to do some liquidating if the fusionists were to hope to retain any workers. Yesterday the Citizens started to pay off. The janitor was among the first to get his money. Then several bands and some quartets were paid. A liquor bill for over $100 was also squared.

The men who had to wait two years for their money are not being fooled. They say the debts could have been paid when due and if they had to wait two years for the 1903 bills they would never be paid for the work done in 1905. Many of the creditors collected and then went over to Republican headquarters, where they exhibited the checks and said they could be counted on to work for the whole Republican ticket.

A big banner was strung across Federal street yesterday in front of the Citizens headquarters. The work was done by city employes. The whole payroll has been ordered for the fusion ticket. Last night it reported at Citizens headquarters, where a "smoker" was held to meet the county candidates. Mayor James G. Wyman made a speech in which he said he was proud of his record as executive of Allegheny and told the "boys" to vote the fusion ticket. He said there had been much talk about the North Side government, but he knew of nothing in his administration to make him ashamed.

Joseph Stewart of Allegheny yesterday filed nomination papers showing he has been named by the "Independent" party of the North Side as its candidate for mayor. He also claims the Citizens party nomination.

The Republican county committee will meet tomorrow afternoon to make plans for the campaign. Chairman Ford says the detail work is well in hand and beginning next week many meetings will be held each night.

The Republicans of the Twenty-fifth ward held a well-attended meeting last night, in the Morse school. Speeches were made by Daniel Ashworth, William Dodds and others. A resolution indorsing the Soldiers' Memorial hall and urging all Republicans of the county to vote in favor of its erection, was unanimously adopted.

The headquarters of the Fourteenth ward Republicans have been opened for the campaign at 3706 Forbes street. The rooms are intended for the use of all the Republicans of the ward, and will be open day and evening. It is the intention to have speakers and music at the headquarters each evening.

A Republican mass meeting was held last night in the Wilkinsburg Republican headquarters. Attorney R. M. Ewing presided. Fred W. Edwards, Charles A. Muehlbronner, John A. Fairman, Robert E. Stone and Thomas J. Ford addressed the meeting.

PRICE USES THE LASH.

Unmercifully Flogs Citizens at Republican Meeting in Millvale.

William B. Kirker, candidate for prothonotary, and Charles B. Price, candidate for county commissioner, addressed a large gathering of Republican workers in Mechanics' hall last night. Both speakers predicted a sweeping victory for the Republican ticket and scored the Citizens party administration. In referring to the character of the men whom the Citizens had placed in office after enlarging upon Mayor Hays' past and prison record of Supt. "Buck" Wallace, and inefficiency of Director Moore, Mr. Price turned his attention to Allegheny. In contrast, he cited the records of John A. Fairman, candidate for recorder of deeds, and Irvin K. Campbell, candidate for county commissioner, both of whom served terms in confederate army prisons during the war of the rebellion.

Mr. Kirker spoke of how the Citizens officials had failed to make good their claims that the former Republican administration had been corrupt and accused the Citizens of breaking every pledge they had made and seeking offices only for graft. Other speakers were the Hon. R. I. Riley, Borough Solicitor C. E. Theobald of Millvale and Prof. J. C. R. Johnston.

"Babes in the Wood."

"Babes in the Wood" at the Belasco theater continues to attract splendid audiences. On Thursday night a theater party of 300, consisting of the delegates of the bridge convention attended the performances in a body and some special features were added for their benefit. The sale of seats for the second and last week indicate that "Babes in the Wood" will play to large business.

"Nancy Brown."

"Nancy Brown," the particularly bright and tuneful musical comedy which serves to entertainingly introduce Miss Mary Marble in the laughable role of the matrimonal broker, will hold the boards at the Alvin theater next week, where it will doubtless repeat its successes which extend clear across the American continent.

CREDIT MEN HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

National and Local Officers Talk on Prosperous Condition Throughout Country.

MERIT OF ADJUSTMENT BUREAU

Members of the Pittsburgh Association of Credit Men and guests of the association were banqueted at the Union club last night, where, after the dinner, the prosperous condition of the country and the merits of the adjustment bureau of the association were discussed. The gathering was attended by 250 men, among them some of the most prominent business men of Pittsburgh and vicinity.

W. A. Given, president of the Pittsburgh branch of the National Association of Credit Men, presided as toastmaster. The out-of-town guests were O. G. Fesenden of New York, national president of the association; C. E. Meek of New York, secretary-treasurer of the national association; J. Harry Tregor of Baltimore, ex-president of the national association; O. H. Powell, president of the Columbus (O.) association, and W. H. Irvin, president of the Wheeling (W. Va.) association.

William A. Given.

President Given, who is treasurer of the Pittsburgh Drygoods Company, briefly outlined the objects of the Association of Credit Men and then introduced National President Fesenden, who spoke of the general business conditions of the country. He said the country was never in a more prosperous condition, and that business and financial men report that the country is on the high wave of the most prosperous times in its history.

Ex-President Tregor, Mr. Powell, Mr. Irwin and Mr. Meek spoke along the same lines, declaring that business in their home cities is in the most healthy condition. Thomas H. Sheppard, treasurer of the Arouthnot-Stevenson Company, spoke of the inauguration and benefits of the adjustment bureau.

The principal speech of the evening was made by George E. Reynolds, trust officer of the association and general counsel of the adjustment bureau. Mr. Reynolds said in part:

> The chief merit of the adjustment bureau is the fact that in each estate which it handles its working is constantly under the guidance of a committee of creditors. They may say whether a business shall be continued, when, how, and at what prices it shall be sold. In other words, their discretion is co-extensive with their interests, that of recouping their loss. On the other hand, adjustments through legal proceedings, as by bankruptcy, while their declared object is the same, are fettered by restrictions and legal rules, which frequently conflict with the best interests of the creditors.
>
> It is true that the creditors may elect the trustee who is their mouthpiece; it is true that the creditors have a voice in all the proceedings; but, if we turn to actual practice, we shall find the creditors depending on the trustee, and the trustee depending on the creditors, and therefore both lacking the proper initiative.
>
> The success of the bureau to date reveals the deficiencies of adjustments through bankruptcy. In the first place the business of a drygoods store, of a cigar store and of a restaurant has been continued at a profit, of which step the bankruptcy court would have hesitated to approve and permit. In the two last mentioned cases, there has been no perceptible reduction of the assets, which will bring as much today as they would a month ago, and thus the returns to the creditors are greater than could be secured through bankruptcy. Another feature of the adjustment bureau is the saving of attorney's and receiver's fees which, by the dual administration by receivers and then by trustees in bankruptcy, has depleted many estates.
>
> In brief, the object of the bureau is to prevent loss on accounts against failing, insolvent or fraudulent debtors, as far as may be possible, by investigating and reporting, or causing to be investigated and reported, the financial condition of such debtor, whose condition is questioned; to arrange for the taking over of stocks and other property of such debtor by bill of sale, deed or otherwise, or acquiring a lien thereon, and the holding, and disposing of the same for the benefit of the creditors, when the same may be deemed advisable; to secure concerted action in the nomination of efficient and trustworthy assignees, receivers and trustees in bankruptcy; and to transact such other business pertaining to insolvent or bankrupt estates as shall be germane to the objects of the bureau.

The officers of the association are: President, W. A. Given, first vice president, A. R. Darragh; second vice president, Enoch Rauh; third vice president, George W. Ryan; Treasurer, W. H. Cochrane; secretary, W. L. Danahey.

More Deaths Than Last Year.

LEARN WHAT TO AVOID.

Scranton Officials Here in Quest of Second-Class City Pointers.

"How Not to Do It" is the title of a book which the Scranton public officials, now visiting Pittsburgh, might write when they get home, although they are too polite to give their opinions while they are here. Scranton has the population of a second-class city, but at present is working under a third-class city charter, and as the purpose is to give the city a second-class government next year, certain city officials are here looking up data.

The Scranton officials are Edward Elsele, the controller, and W. C. Williams, the treasurer. They will remain here until tomorrow. They have talked with Controller Larkin and Director Bigelow and found them willing to give all the information in their power. Other department heads will be quizzed by the Scranton men before they leave for home.

PARTIAL BLINDNESS IS CAUSED BY OLD INJURY

Thomas James, a wealthy resident of Braddock, and for many years master mechanic at the Edgar Thomson steel works, is in a Philadelphia hospital in a serious condition. A long time ago he received a trivial injury to his right eye. Two months ago the eye began to trouble him again and after suffering for several weeks he went to Philadelphia to consult an oculist. It is reported that the sight of the right eye is gone, and that the left eye is seriously affected.

COSTLY CHINA MISSING.

Janitors at Exposition Are Accused of Looting Booths.

Philip Mercer of 65 Fulton street; Thomas Broadax of 122 Clark street; Ulysess Wilson of 59 Roberts street, and Nat Reed of Franklin, Pa., negro janitors employed at the Exposition, were arraigned before Magistrate Kirby yesterday on a charge of being implicated in robberies from the exhibition booths at the Exposition.

Miss Gertrude Zeigler, who has a display of china art ware, and S. Reisenstein, who has a similar exhibition, have lost several hundred dollars' worth of chinaware. Lieut. Dean recovered some of the property in the janitors' quarters and the hearing was continued to enable the police to make further search.

At a meeting of the committee on presbyterian missions of the Presyterian church, held in the chapel of the First church, Sixth avenue, yesterday afternoon, it was decided to take action at once towards erecting a new church on the site of the recently destroyed McKees Rocks church. Plans were also considered for the erection of the new Morningside church.

Give the Boys a Chance.

A great store like this is prone to confine its advertising news to the wants of grown-ups, with occasional mention of those pretty articles of dress that become young ladies and girls, but the boy, bless his heart, is generally left out.

Here's a talk on requisites for boys, such things as clothing and articles that go with it, such things as articles that engage the attention of boys at play, some words on books, those things that tend to broaden the boy's minds—all in all a right good bit of reading for those who have boys in their charge.

Boys' Fine to Finest Clothing—

Before going into details regarding boys' autumn clothes, the attention of mothers is asked to this special in white wash suits. You know that for dress-up occasions white wash suits are worn the year through.

Construction is to be pushed on the Uniontown & Wheeling short line railroad at once. It is an important line, its route passing through a rich but slightly developed region. While the line does not touch this city it is of some importance here, since its traffic will affect the immediate region. The only surprising thing is that this promising route was not covered long ago.

Trade in the far east is receiving renewed attention since the war is ended and the Chinese boycott abated. The departure of an official of the Crucible Steel Company of this city, to establish agencies in Japan, China and Korea is a reminder of the Pittsburgh interest in this matter. Many Pittsburgh products will find markets in Japan and China and in Russia, during the period of reconstruction.

President Roosevelt touched up the railroad rate question in his speech at Raleigh yesterday. He is as firm as ever for asserting the power of the government to declare what is a reasonable rate and to enforce it. This may be done by the interstate commerce commission, or by a commerce court. The body to decide and the means of enforcement are details to be considered by congress. The principle of regulation is what the President insists upon.

A sensible suggestion regarding future competitions for the Vanderbilt cup is that offered by Baron de Turckheim. Instead of automobile races at tremendous speed along the public roads, that are not only extremely dangerous, but of no practical benefit, he recommends the holding of touring events to demonstrate the respective advantages of the various types of cars. The Automobile club of France has already declined to promote a race for the Vanderbilt cup.

While the annual report of Judge Advocate General Davis shows an increase of 551 cases before general court martial, the number has been swelled by the many deserters who have been caught and brought to trial. An increase of the reward paid to civil officers for the apprehension of deserters has occasioned greater vigilance on their part. Offenders have not increased in numbers to an alarming extent, but more than usual have been brought to punishment during the past year.

Kogoro Takahira, Japanese minister at Washington, declares his government is well satisfied to have the United States in the Philippines, considering the fact of advantage. He also gives fresh assurance of the adherence of Japan to the policy of the open door, wherever its influence may extend. There is reason to accept these assurances in all sincerity. Japan has a great burden of debt left by the war, it needs peace, amicable relations and an open door for its own commerce in order to recuperate. It has the resources, particularly the human energy.

The prince and princess of Wales started yesterday on their long contemplated journey to India which, it is announced, will cost fully $1,000,000, since a retinue of 200 persons will accompany the royal couple. In India three trains will be required for the party, which will occupy six months in its tour of the country. It will probably be found the results will justify the expense. The natives of India demand a sight of royalty about once in so often. While no signs of serious disaffection have been observed among them, the necessity of affording them an opportunity to manifest their loyalty to the British crown is recognized.

Yesterday's brief announcement, in the Official Gazette of Tokyo, of the emperor's coming visit to the Ise shrines, forecasts an uncommon occurrence. These Shinto shrines rank first among all the shrines of Japan in point of sanctity, though not of antiquity. They are visited annually by tens of thousands of pilgrims, who return with charms to be placed in the miniature shrine found in every Japanese home. Every six months a great festival is held which is supposed to effect the purification of the entire nation from the sins of the preceding half year. Though the temples of Ise are held in such high regard, only at rare intervals are they honored by a personal pilgrimage of the mikado.

Baseless Assumptions.

Enterprise National bank affairs are too tangled for anyone to make an intelligent statement of its actual condition or the details of causes leading to the disaster. There has been much rambling talk, there have been many reckless charges and there has been a concerted effort on the part of certain politicians and organs to charge the whole trouble to state deposits. In fact there has been ill-concealed rejoicing over the catastrophe on the part of unscrupulous and hopeless anti-Republican organs.

In due time the public will know all the facts and will be able to draw proper conclusions. In the meantime sensible people will hold judgment in abeyance. The state treasury will not lose a dollar of the public funds and has taken prompt and vigorous action for its protection. If the bank extended unusual courtesies to any one it was not by any understanding with the state treasury, a fact that appears in the recent drafts made by the treasury on this particular depository.

With so much understood it ought to be plain to all except the wilifully blind that whatever of frenzied finance has been going on it has no connection with the state campaign. If individuals have committed wrong they should suffer, but the assumption that politics or state deposits have wrecked the bank is wholly without warrant in any of the known facts. Too much "one man power" is apparent in the comments of bank officials—a fault that has wrecked many financial institutions, including the well-remembered Penn bank, which was not even accused of having political connections. These considerations will probably have no weight with the political scandalmongers, who hope the bank disaster will prove a "good enough Morgan for this campaign," but they will appeal to conservative citizens who have no axes to grind.

Express Robber Caught.

Cunliffe, the express robber, was arrested in Bridgeport, Conn., yesterday, the Pinkertons having followed the unvarying principle that a casual criminal will seek the scenes of his early life. He confessed and expressed his willingness to come back without extradition formalities, saying he took the money on sudden impulse and has spent none of it. Apparently he does not yet realize the enormity of his offense.

It is as The Gazette said the day after the robbery was discovered. Cunliffe has not succeeded in getting away, but he has sacrificed his chance for a happy life with his loved children. He may succeed in making a compromise with his former employers whereby he will retain part of the money and suffer only a light prison sentence. Yet the stain will be on him; his children will be handicapped by the disgrace of their father. If he could keep the whole amount he stole it would be dearly bought money.

On the other hand the easy capture of the culprit should not blind the express companies and the banks to the lesson of greater precautions. They have no right to tempt poorly paid young men by putting in their hands very large sums of money without having a check upon them. Men are cheap enough to divide such responsibility between two or more.

Remarkable Logic.

By a bit of remarkable muddy reasoning the Dispatch arrives at the conclusion that Gov. Pennypacker's arraignment of Mayor Weaver resulted in a non sequitur. Gov. Pennypacker appeared in the Philadelphia meeting as the Dispatch quotes him "not as governor of the commonwealth, but as one who has dwelt among you," and he did not deny that right to Mayor Weaver. The governor praised the mayor for vetoing the gas franchise and for officially instituting prosecutions and reforms, but he condemned the mayor for pledging his "administration in all its parts * * * to bring about this fall the overwhelming defeat of the organization."

Gov. Pennypacker did not deny Mayor Weaver the right as "one who has dwelt among you" to use his utmost effort to defeat the organization, but condemned the mayor's pledge to use every part of his administration to that end, an obvious abuse of the powers entrusted to him. The mayor may do what he pleases but he has no right to use his office for any purpose other than that for which it was intended. He has no right to send out the police to do partisan work while the persons and property of the people are unprotected; he has no right to order firemen to corral votes while houses burn; he has no right to use any power of his office for a wholly partisan end; yet he pledged himself to do that. Now imagine Gov. Pennypacker saying to that Philadelphia meeting: "I now pledge myself to use my administration and every part of it to secure the overwhelming defeat of the Democratic party." Wouldn't the Dispatch howl?

Chinese Students in Japan.

In a recent editorial on the subject of American business interests in China, The Gazette referred to the tendency of the Chinese to retain valuable concessions for themselves instead of disposing of them to foreign capitalists, as was the former policy. This new sentiment, it now appears from a report by Consul Anderson of Amoy, is due largely to the influence of Chinese students who have received instruction in Japan. Knowing that Japan has built her own railroads and other important works, they reason that China can do the same. They do not take into consideration the question of finance. A study of Japanese conditions has inspired them with a burning desire to see China lift herself out of her present position by her own exertions, and without considering the difference in the character of the two peoples, they are urging a performance beyond their nation's power.

According to Consul Anderson, there is a remarkable movement of Chinese students to Japan. Scarcely a steamer brings less than 100, and 300 or 400 are always waiting at Shanghai for an opportunity to embark. The pioneers in this movement were two students who were sent by the Chinese government in 1897. The feature of this educational movement is the fact that these students, who will hereafter be leaders in Chinese progress, will give the preference to Japanese methods and materials. Even without the students' assistance, Japan has the inside track in China. It would seem the part of wisdom for other nations to attempt to divert a fair proportion of the Chinese students from Japan. In the United States there are numerous technical schools which would afford the young men better practical education. There are a few Chinese students in these schools, but many more Japanese and through these latter America will make an indirect impress on the new China.

A Democrat Treasurer.

Candidate Berry, he of the free silver and Prohibition proclivities, avidly seized on the Enterprise National bank affair as a text for a disquisition on the troubles of the state treasury. It is notable he began with the administration of Amos C. Noyes, Democrat. In a moment of weakness, under a hue and cry similar to that now raised in Candidate Berry's interest, the voters of Pennsylvania elected Amos C. Noyes, Democrat, to be state treasurer, in order to expose the iniquities of "Bob" Mackey, Henry Rawle and other state treasurers. As might have been expected, the only exposures were of the utter incompetence of Noyes.

This is an unfortunate allusion for Berry, since it brings to mind the worst administration the state treasury has suffered since the first treasurer was elected by the people. The treasurer was a Democrat. He secured election just as Berry is seeking election. He was lauded as an honest old man. He proved utterly incompetent and his administration was a miserable failure. The prospect, in the improbable event of the election of Berry, would be even worse. He has demonstrated his inability to understand the business of the treasury by his statements during the campaign.

King Edward's Popularity.

The opinion attributed to W. T. Stead that Great Britain, now in many respects a republic, will yet be one in name, with King Edward as president, while it may not be generally shared by thoughtful observers, calls attention to the remarkable popularity of Britain's sovereign. It is a common fallacy to regard him as simply a figurehead, whose chief duty is to maintain the splendor of the court and the glory of ancient traditions. Within the last few years King Edward has evinced an active interest in foreign affairs, as they affect his people, and has taken a personal part in the solution of diplomatic problems. He is also reported to have exerted an important influence on legislation. In this time the popular estimate of his character and abilities has undergone a radical change. Coincident with this change in public sentiment comes a revised popular estimate of parliament as an institution. In the opinion of a London editor, "You cannot now commonly talk with men about the times and not hear contempt expressed for parliament. Men are sick of parliament. The house of commons is out of fashion. This general contempt for parliament synchronises eloquently with a new and altogether vigorous faith in the wisdom of the British crown."

In theory, the power possessed by the British sovereign is enormous. All that is required to make it effective is the support of the people. As was said by Gladstone, "The sovereign in England is the symbol of the nation's unity and the apex of the social structure; the maker (with advice) of the laws; the supreme governor of the church; the fountain of justice; the person to whom all military, all naval, all civil service is rendered. The sovereign receives and holds the entire revenues of the state; appoints and dismisses ministers; makes treaties; wages war or concludes peace; summons and dissolves parliament." Since the king enjoys an absolute immunity from consequences, it is easily seen what powers he might exert if he saw fit. But, in the last analysis, the approval of his people would be necessary.

Even with the proposed reductions in salaries, it is not likely the relatives of insurance company presidents will be applying to the Society for the Improvement of the Poor this winter.

While the "yellow dog" has been a popular synonym for cheapness, certain gentlemen in New York are ready to testify that keeping one is sometimes pretty expensive.

Some of those financial operations disclosed by the New York investigation are entirely too complicated for plain, honest persons to understand.

Miss Tarbell's latest subject is the training of children. Miss Tarbell is a member of the class which is proverbially eloquent on the subject.

It will be noticed Mr. Bryan's speeches in Japan are not being cabled to this country. We probably know them, anyway.

A Prohibition candidate running on a Democratic platform looks about as much out of place as a whip on an automobile.

State conventions of women's clubs are now saying a few things that ought to cause some ear-burning at Princeton.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

How to Cease to Be a Man and to Become an Animal.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

He didn't have time to chew
The food that he had to eat;
But he washed it into his throat
As if time was a thing to beat.
At breakfast and lunch and dinner
'Twas a bite and a gulp and go—
Oh, the crowd is so terribly eager,
And a man has to hurry so!
A bite and a gulp and away
To the 'looks and the ticker! A bite
And a drink and a smoke and a seat
At a card table half of the night;
A pressure, a click and a pallor,
A cloth-covered box and a song;
A weary old fellow at forty,
Who is deaf to the noise of the throng.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

These are the chaps whom Dr. Osler was after, and it would be well if our preachers, and all others interested in the improvement of the race, would get after them, and keep after them until their tribe has grown less.

Of what moral worth are men who haven't a thought of anything except business, the business of making money, and then making a show of it?

It is the show made of money that reveals the character of its possessors. If it has been gained in an honest, modest way, it will be used in like manner, modestly and in the interest of good society.

Good society isn't made up exclusively of rich people. In fact the richest half of the social line is not greatly superior to the poorer half, for money leads to as much sinning as does the lack of it.

The man who has no time for anything but business must neglect the cultivation of his better part, and thus his spirit goes into decline and he develops into a cultured animal.

* * *

"How much is he worth?" is the first question usually asked concerning a man, meaning, of course, how much money does he possess or control.

To many young women, and to some ambitious mammas, it matters little whether he is worth anything really, just so he has the money wherewith to pay the freight, so to speak. His money will cover many grave shortcomings in their sight.

And how such girls and their mammas can pile on the freight, and how high they can step, and how heavily they walk over those who are not able to pay such heavy freight bills, as well as those in whose makeup there is less of the animal and more of soul, virtue and humanity.

The vanity begotten of riches is something to make good angels weep and to cause bad ones to laugh.

Money may pass away in a night, but true manhood endureth forever and a day.

* * *

"He is a hustler."

This is thought to be enough to say concerning any young man. It is something, but not all. Among the greatest hustlers on earth are promoters and agents whose business it is to scoop up the dollars that have been earned by honest toil.

Promoters of schemes by which to get rich without hard work, and to get there quickly, must be hustlers, for such schemes are always of the quick action type. They appeal mostly to those who act first and think afterwards.

Promoters are not all robbers, for many of them have faith in the schemes they represent. There are some, no doubt, whose sole intention is to deceive, but they are the exception. Were they not honest and earnest in their efforts they could not succeed as they do.

If getting rich was the whole scheme in life the promoter of get-rich-quick schemes would be the man to tie to. But when you can see for yourself that successful men and women are not of the promoter type, and have not been given to hustling and bustling, it is not only the part of wisdom, but of common sense, to follow their lead.

* * *

The age limit fad has had its day, as all fads have, and those offensive signs, "No Men Wanted Over 35," are being torn down.

Those signs were put up by hustlers who thought that men of mature years were too slow. But it turned out that promoters who wanted only hustlers were too fast.

In not a few instances these hustling heads of various enterprises hustled too much and promoted, too far. Their schemes looked well on paper, and sounded well around the table, but when results were paraded before the investors they were found to be unsatisfactory.

Railway companies were among the first to run up the signs which barred out many experienced, capable men.

It is gratifying to see these companies taking the signs down and offering premiums for efficiency. Careful employes save for their employers while hustlers waste.

Good men and true may get the worst of it now and then, but as a rule they make a better finish than those who start in the race at breakneck speed.

* * *

Hustling is an animal trait.

To be a successful hustler you must not only pay no heed to your neighbor but butt in and knock him out, the same as animals do when there is something to eat in sight.

Men do not hustle for much else than money. This proves hustling to be a sordid business.

Activity is one thing, but hustling is quite another. The one is healthful, the other killing; the one ennobling, the other demoralizing.

From this it may be inferred that practical education consists in fitting man for an active, useful life, and not in training him for phenomenal spurts, or for doing exhibition stunts.

Since the development of the man depends mainly on the training of the boy, would it not be well for our schools to give some attention to the money habit? School children are too much inclined to regard rich folks as the real folks, all others being failures, or the victims of the rich.

THINGS TO REMEMBER.

Same Old Crowd in New Disguises Intended to Deceive.

From the Turentum Valley News.

Once upon a time the voters of this nation listened to the smooth arguments of the Democratic party and that party was given a chance to see what great things they could do. Have you forgotten it? Do you remember how the starving workmen of Pittsburgh were given work at a dollar a day in those good old Democratic times? Have you forgotten the men who so deceived you at that time and persuaded you to desert the Republican party? Do you know where to find them now? Look in the Citizens party. There you will find them. They have put on a new coat and have an assumed name, but they are the same free trade, free silver, free soup fellows. Are you going to allow them to deceive you again? Don't give any encouragement to the fellows who brought such trouble upon us then. The Pittsburgh Post and all the gang which goes with it are supporting this scheme. Mr. E. X. Berr, one of the owners of the Post, has a $6,000 a year job in the court house and does not want to lose it. So in order to help him along, the Post has taken off its Democratic dress and tried to look like a Republican, talk like a Citizen and act like a mugwump in order to keep this office in the family. The Post has become a first-class lightning change artist. For a while she dressed in free silver, her next dress was made of the gold standard and now she is wearing the divided skirts of the be-any-thing-to-win party. All she has now to identify herself with is the poor old starved featherless Democratic rooster. Voter, remember the past and don't let them deceive you again. Pin your faith to the grand old party which keeps our factories running and brings prosperity to us all.

ROMANTIC CAREER TOPPED BY WEDDING

John G. Heckscher, Aged Seventy-Five, Weds Young Bride.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The presence of a beautiful young woman at the hippodrome last night with John G. Heckscher, Mayor McClellan's father-in-law, revealed that Mr. Heckscher was married for the third time 16 months ago. None of the members of his family attended the wedding. His bride was a Miss Otis, and, while she is not known in the smart set, her family is said to be wealthy and well connected. Mr. and Mrs. Heckscher are living at the Marie Antionette Hotel. They refused themselves to all callers today. The bridegroom is 73 years old. Mrs. Heckscher looks to be about 35. His third marriage adds a chapter to a career much crowded with romance and excitement. In 1872 he fought a duel in Canada with the husband of a woman whom he married, when his first wife died, after a lapse of 20 years. The second Mrs. Heckscher died five years ago. She was the favorite child of the late William R. Travers. Mr. Heckscher comes of an old New York family. When little more than a lad he enlisted and served in the civil war, fighting through the last two years of that contest and retiring with the rank of first lieutenant. Upon his return to New York he did not find it necessary to take up any line of business, for his father was a wealthy man for those days, and his position in society was of the best. He is a member of many prominent clubs.

This Looks Like a Boast.

The remarkable declaration of Lawyer A. S. Bacon in Part III. of the supreme court, Brooklyn, that he had been guilty ("fortunate" the Colonel called it) of kissing his neighbor's wife, startled the jurymen and spectators alike. Lawyer Bacon was trying to explain to the jury how innocent the relationship was between Mrs. Hortense Powers, who was sued for divorce by her husband, and William C. Campbell, the Brooklyn clubman named in Mr. Powers' suit. Lawyer Bacon ended his summing up with the statement: "Gentlemen, every one of you who is married probably has kissed his neighbor's wife. Without wishing to be egotistical, I might say that I have been myself fortunate in that regard." Just the same, Mrs. Powers lost her case.

Cruelty to Turtles Is Charged.

So terrible were the sufferings of the 60 turtles, brought here from Havana, Cuba, on the steamship Monterey, that some of the passengers have complained to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and an investigation is now in progress. Agents of the society have been told that the turtles during the voyage were kept from sliding overboard by ropes passed through holes bored in the flippers of the animals and bound tightly. As the turtles struggled these holes were enlarged and were apparently the source of great torment to them.

Duchess Responsible for Fad.

The visit of the Duchess of Marlborough to this country has resulted in a new fashion, and the "Consuelo ribbon" has been made for her. The "Consuelo ribbon" is a distinct novelty, and has been added to the new costumes in a Fifth avenue shop. The ribbon is a narrow satin band that clasps the neck, near the top of the collar. As a rule the collar is determined by the shade of the gown, but many "Consuelo ribbons" are seen in gold and silver braid. The duchess has a long, slender neck. When she arrived in America she interested all womankind by these ribbon bands. To her it was a necessity, and the others readily took up the fad.

Fresh Air, but Not Cold Air.

Monkeys in the Bronx zoo are having their "fresh air cure" served to them hot, now that winter is coming on. This is because the Simians are extremely sensitive to cold, and Director Hornaday, while having great faith in fresh air, is taking no chances. All during the summer Mr. Hornaday has lost no opportunity to get the monkeys out into the sunshine and air and attributes to this the fact that tuberculosis has been about stamped out of the Simian house. There are now few deaths from lung trouble in the monkey cages, where formerly there were many.

Wife Objects to Cat Thrown at Her.

That her husband threw a cat at her, hitting her in the face, was one of the charges Mrs. Harriet Levasseur made against Dr. Frank Levasseur, a physician of Haverstraw, N. Y., when the latter was arraigned today in Jefferson Market court. Magistrate Mayo said he would give the couple a chance to adjust the matter and adjourned the case. "He threw the cat in my face one night," said Mrs. Levasseur, "because he was mad about something."

Big Odds on McClellan.

A bet of $9,000 to $2,000 was made last night at an uptown hotel on the mayoralty election, the odds being in favor of McClellan. On the curb today Herbert C. Taylor bet $1,000 to $200 on McClellan. A. Libaire taking the short end of the wager. Wrenn Brothers bet $5,000 to $500 on McClellan. Werdhar Brothers took the Ivins end.

Herr Paur Is Now Near Us.

The new mammoth Hamburg-American liner Amerika, reported by wireless off Sable Island, is expected to dock tomorrow morning. It is reported that a delegation of steamship officials will meet the new ocean greyhound on her arrival here. Among the passengers is Herr Emil Paur, director of the Pittsburgh orchestra.

SUPERSTITIONS OF THE MOHAMMEDANS

Peculiar Hair Cut for Boys. Eclipses of Sun and Moon Viewed With Terror.

By JOHN FIELDING, JR.

ASSIUT, EGYPT, Oct. 4.—The lives of the Mohammedans in Egypt are filled with superstitions. This is especially true among the lower classes. We read in histories how the ancient Egyptians worshiped the sacred bull, how the beetle was peculiarly sacred to them, and how, at the death of a dog or cat all the members of the household shaved their heads. However, I have often wondered since I have come to Egypt whether most of the modern descendants of the pyramid builders—that portion which accepts the Mohammedan faith—far transcend the spiritual belief of their fathers.

A few days ago I was looking out of a window on the east side of the college, gazing into a neighboring garden, when a troop of children happened by. My attention was attracted to a very small boy in the group whose hair was cut in a peculiar style. The head was closely clipped, save for a small square patch on the crown, somewhat after the fashion of the American Indian; the Redskins reserving this tuft in which to insert feathers. Upon inquiring the cause for this peculiar custom, I was told that the little fellow was a Mohammedan and had his hair cut according to the proscribed style of their sect. After death everybody must walk across a bridge spanning hell. If the boy is a true believer in the Mohammedan faith, and should happen to stumble on his way over the bridge, the Prophet Mohammed will reach down from his home in heaven and save his follower from falling in the depths below, and from a life of eternal punishment and suffering.

Girls Didn't Count.

I then asked why the girls in the crowd did not have their hair cut in a similar fashion. Oh! they are only girls and it does not matter whether they fall into hell or not, was the answer.

These peculiar ideas, or superstitions, pertain not only to the spiritual world of the Mohammedans, but also permeate their whole secular sphere. In fact it is impossible to determine what is religion and what is secular, so closely are the two blended.

Natural phenomena cause great excitement among the lower classes. This was the case during the last eclipse of the sun on August 29 of this year. At Assiut nine-tenths of the sun was hidden from view. As I had often heard of the antics of the Moslems during solar and lunar eclipses, I determined to witness them. So waiting until about seven-tenths of the sun was eclipsed, I secured a guide, who could speak English, and started for the native Mohammedan section of the town. Long before I reached the native bazar I heard the mournful cries of the frenzied natives in the distance. Upon arriving at the place I beheld men, women and children running through the streets crying, "Oh! Lord, we are Thy servants and everything is done by Thy hand." "Oh! Lord, we are Thy servants and everything is done by Thy hand." Over and over again were these words repeated, until their very sounds grated on one's nerves. These Arabic sentences, being chanted to the notorious music of Egyptian drums recalled to my mind the hideous noises of the "Streets of Cairo" at the St. Louis exposition, but on a greatly intensified scale.

Eclipses Frighten Them.

My guide told me that the consternation of the natives is even greater during an eclipse of the moon than during an eclipse of the sun. This can possibly be accounted for by the fact that the moon assumes a dull copper color during an eclipse, so much different from its usual silvery appearance. I have been told that the prevalent belief is that some huge animal, similar to a whale or dragon, is about to swallow the moon, and that God is permitting the monster to do it, on account of the sins committed by the people on earth. The poor, deluded natives, having had this ridiculous belief instilled into them by their ancestors and also by the priests, pray fervently to God that He will make the animal cough up the moon, and not permit the world to remain in darkness by night.

These are but a few of the many delusions concerning natural phenomena which fill the lives of the Mohammedans, especially those of the lower classes.

A few weeks ago, while strolling through the city of Assiut, I happened upon a mosque, just about sundown. I was just on time to see the worshippers, with their faces turned toward their sacred Mecca, going through their services. They are a great contrast to the religious services of Christians. The whole congregation kneel upon the floor and bend their bodies in rapid succession until their heads touch the ground. All this while they keep chanting their prayer, which has been handed down through ages, and the substance of which is, "God is great, there is no other god but God, and Mohammed is His prophet." I was not permitted to gaze long upon this unique service, for as soon as discovered I was compelled to move on. The Mohammedans are very suspicious about permitting Christians to watch them worship.

Followers of the Prophet.

A faithful follower of the prophet must worship five times a day, the three principal times being at sunrise, high noon and sunset, each time facing Mecca. If a man has committed some great crime and faithfully worships in the mosque on Friday, his sins will be forgiven.

It is the duty of every Moslem to make a pilgrimage to Mecca at least once during his lifetime. From the sacred city the pilgrims bring back articles blessed by the priests of the sacred shrine of the Caaba. A short while ago the natives of Assiut celebrated the birthday of one of their sheiks. One of the main features of the celebration was a parade which lasted possibly three-quarters of an hour, and which was composed of men, women and children, either walking or riding camels, donkeys or horses. Many articles, blessed at Mecca, were displayed in this procession. An article, which struck me as being a peculiar thing to bless, was a handkerchief carried by an old woman, and with which she was vigorously wiping her brow in hope, I am told, of getting a blessing. A street parade of this sort is of the greatest interest to an American or European, so unique is it.

The fast of Ramadan begins the first and lasts until the end of November. To observe this fast has always been one of the four requirements of a faithful follower of the great prophet, the other three requirements being to give alms, to pray five times a day facing Mecca and to make a pilgrimage to Mecca once during his lifetime.

Mr. Fielding is an Alleghenian by birth, his parents living at 60 Arch street. He went to Assiut college to teach, and the above is the first of a series of letters he will write The Gazette of life among the Egyptians.

Our Irresistible President.

When President Roosevelt entertained Booker T. Washington, the south rose up in arms against him. When President Roosevelt gets through the south on his present tour, we predict that the south will stretch forth her arms and hug him. Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

The status of the railroad rate regulation matter that is to be promulgated vigorously by President Roosevelt before congress this fall will be known for the shipping interests of the Greater Pittsburgh district in a short time. Congressman C. D. Van Duser of Nevada has been spending a couple of days here in the interest of the rate bill. He left for the east last night on the Pennsylvania's New York flyer. In a short time he will take up the problem with the president and will discuss matters as he has found them in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. What he has found out from the shippers he would not reveal last evening, but judging from the sentiment that has been expressed by the shipping interests heretofore, the bill will not have as hearty support from these interests here as in other sections of the country.

Congressman Van Duser is a close friend of President Roosevelt and also of Charles M. Schwab. He is a Democrat, but he says that he is going to give his ardent support to the President in the rate regulation bill. When asked what he thought of the report that Mr. Schwab would become a resident of Nevada and would be chosen to the office of United States senator, he said that this might be possible and it would be a good thing for Nevada, although there are several good men for that office in Nevada.

Back to His Old Home.

Charles R. Beitler of San Francisco, who is making a tour of the country on behalf of the California promotion committee in an endeavor to interest further colonization in that state, is at Hotel Henry. Mr. Beitler was received by President Roosevelt in Washington on Tuesday last when the President took the opportunity to send his kindest regards and warmest esteem to the people of California. Mr. Beitler was born in Pittsburgh in the old Beitler homestead, Liberty and Penn avenues. His grandfather, John Beitler, was a pioneer settler in East Liberty and was a large owner of Pittsburgh property, including the present site of the Seventh Avenue hotel.

Mr. Parker resigned his position here July 1 and has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in the east since that time. He will probably locate here in private business.

The freight traffic men of the Pennsylvania railroad, headed by General Freight Agent Edwin P. They were returning from the two-day annual convention of the Freight Traffic Officers of the Pennsylvania System.

Off for National Prison Congress.

A party of Pittsburghers left over the Pennsylvania lines last night for Lincoln, Neb., where they will attend the thirty-fifth annual congress of the National Prison association, which will be held next week. The party included former Mayor W. J. Diehl, David B. Oliver, David Kerr, William McC. Johnston, Dr. C. G. Bennett, the Rev. Dr. J. L. Milligan, A. H. Leslie, the Rev. D. K. Imbrie and George A. Kelly. At Lincoln these delegates will be met by former Warden E. S. Wright of the Western penitentiary. On Monday Mr. Wright will give an address on "Reminiscences of Prison Reform." The Rev. Dr. Milligan, who has been secretary of the association for 17 years, says he will not accept a re-election because of his health not permitting. He says that the congress promises to be the largest and most interesting ever held. The sessions will be held in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church at Lincoln.

play, but work while you work, and remember that your having gone through college does not so much confer a special privilege as it imposes a special obligation on you. "Each one of you, if he is worth his salt, wishes, when he graduates, to pay some portion of the debt due to his alma mater. You have received from her, during your years of attendance in her halls, certain privileges in the way of scholarship, in the way of companionship, which makes it incumbent upon you to repay what you have given. You cannot repay that to the college save in one way. By the quality of your citizenship as displayed in the actual affairs in life, you can make it an honor to the college to have sent you forth into the world."

A bit of sentiment was responsible for a short stop at Lexington, where the President was greeted by several hundred people to whom he spoke briefly. Lexington is the county seat of Davidson county, the only county in North Carolina that gave President Roosevelt a majority at the last national election. Owing to this fact, the President was requested to stop for a few moments to extend greetings to the people and receive greetings from the 300 orphan children, cared for in an asiyum there. The little ones made a pretty sight, waving tiny American flags as the train came to a stop.

Tomorrow morning the President will pay a visit to Roswell, Georgia, the home of his mother. From there he will go to Atlanta, where most of the day will be spent. Mrs. Roosevelt will leave him when the capital of Georgia is reached, and return to Washington.

The President's speech at Raleigh is as follows:

Honorable Part in History.

I am glad here at the capital of North Carolina to have a chance to greet so many of the sons and daughters of your great state. North Carolina's part in our history has ever been high and honorable. It was in North Carolina that the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence foreshadowed the course taken in a few short months by the representatives of the thirteen colonies assembled in Philadelphia. North Carolina can rightfully say that she pointed the way which led to the formation of the new nation. In the Revolution she did many memorable deeds; and the battle of Kings mountain marked the turning point of the Revolutionary war in the south. But I congratulate you not only upon your past, but upon your present. I congratulate you upon the great industrial activity shown in your commonwealth, an industrial activity which, to mention but one thing, has placed this state second only to one other in the number of its textile factories. You are showing in practical fashion your realization of the truth that there must be a foundation of material well-being in order that any community may make real and rapid progress. And I am happy to say that you are in addition showing in practical fashion your understanding of the great truth that this material well-being, though necessary as a foundation, can only be the foundation, and that upon it must be raised the superstructure of a higher life, if the commonwealth is to stand as it should stand. Above and more you are giving care and attention to education; and education means the promotion not only of industry, but of that good citizenship which rests upon individual rights and upon the recognition that he has duties as well as rights—in other words, of that good citizenship which rests upon moral integrity and intellectual freedom. The man must be decent in his home life, his private life, of course; but this is not by itself enough. The man who fails to be honest and brave both in his political franchise and in his private business contributes to political and social anarchy. Self-government is not an easy thing. Only those communities are fit for it in which the average individual practices the virtue of self-command, of self-restraint, of wise disinterestedness combined with wise self-interest; where the individual possesses common sense, honesty and courage.

A Word About Forests.

And I want to say a word to you on a special subject in which all the country is concerned, but in which North Carolina has a special concern. The preservation of the forests is vital to the welfare of every country. China and the Mediterranean countries offer examples of the terrible effect of deforestation upon the physical geography, and therefore ultimately upon the national well-being, of the nations. One of the most obvious duties which our generation owes to the generations that are to come after us is to preserve the existing forests. The prime difference between civilized and uncivilized peoples is that in civilized peoples each generation works not only for its own well-being, but for the well-being of the generations yet unborn, and if we permit the natural resources of this land to be destroyed so that we hand over to our children a heritage diminished in value we thereby prove our unfitness to stand in the forefront of civilized peoples. One of the greatest of these heritages is our forest wealth. It is the upper altitudes of the forested mountains that are most valuable to the nation as a whole, especially because of their effects upon the water supply. Neither state nor nation can afford to turn these mountains over to the unrestrained greed of those who would exploit them at the expense of the future. We can not afford to wait longer before assuming control, in the interest of the public, of these forests; for if we do wait, the vested interests of private parties in them may become so strongly intrenched that it may be a most serious as well as a most expensive task to oust them. If the eastern states are wise, then from the Bay of Fundy to the gulf we will see, within the next few years a policy set on foot similar in that so fortunately carried out in the high Sierras of the west by the national government. All the higher Appalachians should be reserved, either by the states or by the nation. I much prefer that they should be put under national control; but it is a mere truism to say that they will not be reserved either by the states or by the nation unless you people of the south show a strong interest therein.

Such reserves would be a paying investment, not only in protection to many interests, but in dollars and cents to the government. The importance to the southern people of protecting the southern mountain forests is obvious. These forests are the best defense against the floods which, in the recent past, have, during a single twelvemonth, destroyed property officially valued at nearly twice what it would cost to buy the southern Appalachian reserve. The maintenance of your southern water powers is not less important than the prevention of floods, because if they are injured your manufacturing interests will suffer with them.

The perpetuation of your forests, which have done so much for the south, should be one of the first objects of your public men. The two senators from North Carolina have taken an honorable part in this movement. But I do not think that the people of North Carolina, or of any other southern state, have quite grasped the importance of this movement to the commercial development and prosperity of the south.

Credit to the Nation.

The position of honor in your parade today is held by the Confederate veterans. They by their deeds reflect credit upon their descendants and upon all Americans, both because they did their duty in war and because they did their duty in peace. Now if the young men, their sons, will not only prove that they possess the same power of fealty to an ideal, but will also show the efficiency in the ranks of industrial life that their fathers, the Confederate veterans, showed that they possessed in the ranks of war, the industrial future of this great and typically American commonwealth is assured.

The extraordinary development of industrialism during the last half century has been due to several causes, but above all to the revolution in the methods of transportation and communication; that is, to steam and to electricity, to the railroad and the telegraph.

When this government was founded commerce was carried on by essentially the same instruments that had been in use not only among civilized, but among barbarian nations, ever since history dawned; that is, by wheeled vehicles drawn by animals, by pack trains, and by sailing ships and rowboats. On land this meant that commerce went in slow, cumberous, and expensive fashion over highways open to all. Normally these highways could not connect with water transportation. If such was feasible between the connecting points.

All this has been changed by the development of the railroads. Save on the ocean or on lakes so large as to be practically inland seas, transport by water has wholly lost its old position of superiority over transport by land, while instead of the old highways open to everyone on the same terms, but of a very limited usefulness, we have new highways — railroads — which are owned by private corporations, and which are practically of unlimited, instead of limited, usefulness. The old laws and old customs which were adequate and proper to meet the old conditions need radical readjustment in order to meet these new conditions. The cardinal features in these changed conditions are, first, the fact that the new highway, the railway, is, from the commercial standpoint, of infinitely greater importance in our industrial life than was the old highway, the wagon road; and, second, that this new highway, the railway, is in the hands of private owners, whereas the old highway, the wagon road, was in the hands of the state. The management of the new highway, the railroad, or rather of the intricate web of railroad lines which cover the country, is a task infinitely more difficult, more delicate, and more important than the primitively easy task of acquiring or keeping in order the old highway, so that there is properly no analogy whatever between the two cases. I do not believe in governmental ownership of anything which can with propriety be left in private hands, and in particular I should most strenuously object to government ownership of railroads.

Must Regulate Railroads.

But I believe with equal firmness that it is out of the question for the government not to exercise a supervisory and regulatory right over the railroads; for it is vital to the well-being of the public that they should be managed in a spirit of fairness and justice toward all the public. Actual experience has shown that it is not possible to leave the railroads uncontrolled. Such a system, or rather such a lack of system, is fertile in abuses of every kind, and puts a premium upon unscrupulous and ruthless cunning in railroad management; for there are some big shippers and some railroad managers who are always willing to take unfair advantage of their weaker competitors, and thereby force other big shippers and big railroad men who would like to be decent into similar acts of wrong and injustice, under penalty of being left behind in the race for success. Government supervision is needed quite as much in the interest of the big shipper and of the railroad man who wants to do right as in the interest of the small shipper and the consumer.

Experience has shown that the present laws are defective and need amendment. The effort to prohibit all restraint of competition, whether reasonable or unreasonable, is unwise. What we need is to have some administrative body with ample power to forbid combination that is hurtful to the public, and to prevent favoritism to one individual at the expense of another. In other words, we want an administrative body with the power to secure fair and just treatment as among all shippers who use the railroads—and all shippers have a right to use them. We must not leave the enforcement of such a law merely to the department of justice; it is out of the question for the law department of the government to do what should be purely administrative work. The department of justice is to stand behind and co-operate with the administrative body, but the administrative body itself must be given the power to do the work and then held to a strict accountability for the exercise of that power. The delays of the law are proverbial, and what we need in this matter is reasonable quickness of action.

The abuses of which we have a genuine right to complain take many shapes. Rebates are not now often given openly. But they can be given just as effectively in covert form; and private cars, terminal tracks and the like must be brought under the control of the commission or administrative body, which is to exercise supervision by the government. But in my judgment the most important thing to do is to give to this administrative body power to make its findings effective, and this can be done only by giving it power, when complaint is made of a given rate as being unjust or unreasonable, if it finds the complaint proper, then itself to fix a maximum rate which it regards as just and reasonable, this rate to go into effect practically at once, that is, within a reasonable time, and to stay in effect, unless reversed by the courts. I earnestly hope that we shall see a law giving this power passed by congress. Moreover, I hope that by law power will be conferred upon representatives of the government capable of performing the duty of public accountants carefully to examine into the books of railroads, when so ordered by the interstate commerce commission, which should itself have power to prescribe what books, and what books only, should be kept by railroads.

Power of the Commission.

If there is in the minds of the commission any suspicion that a certain railroad is in any shape or way giving rebates or behaving improperly, I wish the commission to have power as a matter of right, not as a matter of favor, to make a full and exhaustive investigation of the receipts and expenditures of the railroad, so that any violation or evasion of the law may be detected. This is not a revolutionary proposal on my part, for I only wish the same power given in reference to railroads that is now exercised as a matter of course by the national bank examiners as regards national banks. My object in giving these additional powers to the administrative body representing the government—the interstate commerce commission, or whatever it may be—is primarily to secure a real and not a sham control to the government representatives. The American people abhor a sham, and with this abhorrence I cordially sympathize. Nothing is more injurious from every standpoint than a law which is merely sound and fury, merely pretense, and not capable of working out tangible results. I hope to see all the power that I think it ought to have granted to the government; but I would far rather see only some of it granted, but really granted, than see a pretense of granting all, in some shape that really amounts to nothing.

It must be understood, as a matter of course, that if this power is granted it is to be exercised with wisdom and caution and self-restraint. The interstate commerce commissioner or other government official who failed to protect a railroad that was in the right against any clamor, no matter how violent, on the part of the public, would be guilty of as gross a wrong as if he corruptly rendered an improper service to the railroad at the expense of the public. When I say a square deal I mean a square deal; exactly as much a square deal for the rich man as for the poor man; but no more. Let each stand on his merits, receive what is due him, and be judged according to his deserts. To more he is not entitled, and less he shall not have.

PARIS, Oct. 19.—The newspapers today lengthily discuss President Roosevelt's speeches in the south, and dwell particularly on his statement that the United States has special interest in preserving order in the West Indies and on the Caribbean coast. The semi-official Temps, in a leading article, strongly approves the President's utterance. The Liberte asserts that this is another step in the enlargement of the Monroe doctrine.

REVOLUTIONISTS GOT MONEY FROM TRUST

Asphalt Company Gave Up Plenty to Support Matos in Struggle Against Castro.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The payment of $130,000 through American asphalt companies to support Gen. Matos' revolution in Venezuela was testified to today by Gen. Avery D. Andrews, vice president of the National Asphalt Company. Mr. Andrews gave this testimony before United States Commissioner Gilchrist in the taking of evidence to be used to settle the suit of the Venezuelan government against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company for $11,000,000 damages for this company's alleged participation in Gen. Matos' revolution.

Early this week Gen. Francis V. Greene, former president of the National Asphalt Company, testified to the payment of $100,000 to Gen. Matos. Regarding this statement Gen. Andrews said that not only was the $100,000 paid, but that Gen. Greene failed to remember an additional payment of $30,000 to the revolutionists. Gen. Greene himself personally authorized and approved this latter payment, the witness said. He added that the $100,000 had been furnished by the Asphalt Company of America, a subsidiary company of the National Asphalt Company.

Gen. Andrews said that this money was really extorted: that it was paid to protect the property of the company and not in voluntary support of the revolution. He said that Gen. Matos came to New York in the summer of 1903, and upon his representation that the company's property was in danger they had paid first the $100,000 and then the $30,000.

The witness told of an attempt made by the Castro government to seize the property of the company through the granting of pretended concessions to others in 1900.

PREMIUMS ARE SMALL.

Choice Seats for Pittsburgh Orchestra Season Are Auctioned at Slight Advance Over Fixed Price.

The annual auction sale of seats for the Pittsburgh orchestra season was held yesterday morning in the Nixon theater. Attendance was not so large as in previous years, though many of those present were commissioned to secure many seats. Bidding was spirited at times, but many choice seats were sold at only small premium.

Twenty-five dollars was the highest premium paid. This was given by J. W. Friend for seats 5 and 6 in row F on the lower floor. J. H. Moore bid $2 premium on the two adjoining seats. J. H. Benedict bid $5 premium for two seats in row C. Other choice seats were sold exceptionally cheap, though it is believed that the sum total will not be far removed from previous years.

The best seats in the hall are in possession of regular subscribers and guarantors, and these were, of course, not offered for sale yesterday. Among the bidders yesterday were: Julian Kennedy, R. A. Bole, F. H. Taylor, Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, A. M. Imbrie, Judge J. R. Macfarlane, J. R. Mellon and Col. E. H. Utley.

VISIT INSTITUTIONS.

Poor Directors Pay Social Call at Morganza, Marshalsea and Woodville.

At the conclusion of the annual convention of the State Poor Directors' association in Washington, Pa., yesterday morning, a delegation of about 50 members visited the Morganza, Marshalsea and Woodville institutions.

The party were chiefly easterners and the visits to these institutions had no other than social purpose, it being customary at the conclusion of each annual convention to inspect and visit the neighboring institutions maintained for the benefit of the poor.

CHARGES AGAINST DIXMONT.

New Castle Man Appeals to the Governor.

George C. Brown of New Castle, in his crusade against the alleged brutality of the attendants of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont, has carried the matter to the state authorities and has made a personal appeal to Gov. Pennypacker for an investigation. He stated yesterday that a Pittsburgher is willing to appear in court and tell how a New Castle patient was struck on the stomach, knocked to the floor and died in 36 hours.

The physicians at Dixmont last night said that Brown is a patient who left the hospital before he was regularly discharged as cured. An investigation of his allegations, they said, would reflect favorably on the institution.

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health. Sold for 60 years.

M'CURDY WILL NOT BE BLUFFED

Mutual's President Declares Nothing Can or Will Drive Him to Resign.

TELLS OF TRUST AFFAIRS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, declared today he had no intention of resigning; that he was elected to serve until June 7, and that nothing can or will drive him out. Closing one of the most sensational and strenuous weeks of the insurance investigation, the committee just before adjournment today concluded the examination of President McCurdy, with the exception of a few details he is to supply next week.

Mr. McCurdy's testimony today was much of a technical nature, though it was of much value to the committee. When the witness resumed the stand this morning it was to take up his testimony as to the Mutual Life's connection with trust companies that was interrupted by adjournment yesterday.

The information furnished by Mr. McCurdy disclosed that the trust companies with which the Mutual Life was connected became very prosperous soon after they were taken up by the Mutual Life. Two cases in point were the Morristown Trust Company, at Morristown, N. J., where the McCurdy family live, and the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. The former is now controlled by the Mutual Life, and Mr. McCurdy testified that, besides a director of this trust company, he is a large stockholder and would take more stock if he could get it.

Favors It With Large Balance.

The Mutual Life keeps a balance of not less than $200,000 with this company, on which it draws from 2 to 3 per cent. The latter rate has been paid only since September 1. Mr. McCurdy did not know the holdings of the other members of his family in this company.

In the syndicate operations Mr. McCurdy said he participated not with the idea of drawing bonds, but to obtain his share of the commission allowed by bankers.

Mr. McCurdy was asked what life insurance he carried and he was unable to say at once, but James M. Beck, his counsel, presented a statement showing when the policies were taken out, for what amounts and the plan. These aggregated $200,000, all in the Mutual. Mr. McCurdy testified he was also insured in the Equitable, the Washington and the Connecticut Mutual.

Before he left the stand Mr. McCurdy said he paid $4,500 for his apartment in the Grosvenor building, which is owned by the Mutual.

When Mr. McCurdy was excused, his son, Robert H. McCurdy, was called to explain some charges for traveling expenses in 1904. He said one of his duties as general manager was to visit the agencies about the country. Three such trips were made, the expense of which aggregated about $3,600. Mr. McCurdy said that while on one trip he was accompanied by his father, mother, wife and the latter's maid, but that the expense accounts were for himself individually, and did not include those of any other member of his family or party. He had a private car on one of these trips. He could not tell why the expenses on these trips were so large, but said he would furnish the details later.

McCurdy's Syndicate Deals.

In the course of his testimony Mr. McCurdy handed in the following list of syndicates in which both he and the Mutual Life Insurance Company were interested:

Syndicate	Participation of McCurdy.	Profits.
Third Avenue	$100,000	$1,746
Chicago, Burlington & Quincy	50,000	1,266
Oregon Short Line	50,000	1,333
Pennsylvania Railroad	100,000	1,564
Republic of Cuba 5%s	150,000	3,450
Republic of Cuba 5s, subsyndicate	50,000	2,422
Japanese 6s, first series	50,000	976
Japanese 6s, second series	50,000	1,570
Japanese 4½s	75,000	1,886
Oregon Short Line	75,000	1,502
Southern Pacific 4s	150,000	3,725
U. S. of Mexico 4s	100,000	2,001
Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe	50,000	992
Japanese 4½s	75,000	.....
Pennsylvania Railroad 3½ convertible	50,000	.....

Mr. McCurdy said: "I took these participations not with the idea of taking bonds from the syndicate, but to obtain my share of the commission allowed by bankers."

James Timpson, assistant treasurer of the Mutual Life, was called and testified the Mutual participated in the syndicating of the securities of the Washington Traction & Electric Company, which was formed to take over electric light and street railway properties in Washington, D. C. This company was afterward reorganized as the Washington Railway & Electric Company. The Mutual withdrew $2,000,000 of stock from the syndicate at 92 and interest, then, in June, 1903, bought $1,000,000 worth of the Washington company's bonds from the United States Mortgage and Trust Company at 76½. Timpson is director and vice president of the latter company.

When asked what led the Mutual Life Insurance Company to make this investment, when the bonds had fallen 18 points within a year, Mr. Timpson said it was probably done to average the Mutual holdings down from 92 to 87½. Mr. Hughes asked what advantage there was in that except to show a lower average cost. He said they probably thought the bonds were cheap. Since June 30 last the Mutual had sold its holdings of preferred and common stock in the Washington company but still held these bonds.

Did Not Profit from Mutual.

Mr. McCurdy, on being recalled, said that in the case of the Southern Pacific syndicate the Mutual Life Insurance Company bought $4,000,000 worth of bonds in the public market.

"Now you have said none of your profits were ever contributed by the Mutual. In this case surely the Mutual contributed to your profits?" said Mr. Hughes.

Mr. McCurdy replied that it was not true. "I could no more make profits from the Mutual than the Mutual could from me. We were on equal terms as members of the syndicate," said he.

Mr. Hughes asked Mr. McCurdy if, when the policy holder loses his policy he was not required to give a bond issued by a specified surety company. Mr. McCurdy said he never had heard of it. The Mutual did not have any interest in any surety company nor did any of its officers, but he and his son are interested in the Casualty Company of America.

No Campaign Contributions.

Mr. McCurdy also stated the Mutual Life Insurance Company owned a controlling interest in the National Safe Deposit Company.

"Has the Mutual Life to your knowledge ever contributed to the campaign fund of any candidate for judicial office in the city of New York?" asked Mr. Hughes.

"No. I cannot conceive such a thing to be possible," replied Mr. McCurdy. He added that it is very likely that he had been solicited by the agents of a political party for campaign contributions, but he could not remember by whom.

"Were you solicited for a campaign contribution in 1896 and by what party?"

"My mind is a blank as to that. The talk about campaign contributions was vague and, I might say, in the air. I cannot remember if I contributed, but I may have been solicited."

Mr. McCurdy said he was not present at any meeting of insurance people at which campaign contributions were discussed.

DESIRE DUTY REMITTED ON MISS ROOSEVELT'S GIFTS

NASHVILLE, TENN., Oct. 19.—The Nashville chamber of commerce today unanimously adopted a resolution requesting Secretary of the Treasury Shaw if possible to admit free of duty the articles brought into this country by Miss Alice Roosevelt, inasmuch as they "were not her own selection and purchase, but were presents from foreign people and could not be refused without the possibility of giving offense."

POLICY-HOLDERS UNBURDEN THEIR MINDS TO DRYDEN

Tell Senator They Are for Such Regulation as Will Cheapen Exorbitant Insurance Premiums.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 19.—The following answer to the published letter of United States Senator John F. Dryden was made public today by the officers of the Ohio Policyholders' association:

Dear Sir—Your circular with four questions attached has been referred to the Ohio Life Policyholders' association by a number of persons receiving the same with the request that we answer the same on beoalf of this association.

The object you seem to have in view in your questions is to present as many names as possible in favor of a change from the mild supervision of the states, in order that insurance companies may escape the burden of state taxation.

As we understand it, you are not asking for any increase in the severity of regulation and control of the insurance business. The policyholders are asking, or will ask, for such regulation and control as will, as far as possible, protect them; for if they are protected the insurance companies are protected. To this end the Ohio Policyholders' association favors such control and regulations as will limit premium charges.

The excessive and exorbitant charges for all classes of life insurance leads to such phenomenal profits to stock companies, and to such enormous accumulations by mutual companies, that in themselves they are temptations to men to do wrong. So, if congress has the power to regulate and control, and will regulate and control, life insurance business because it is interstate commerce, it will also have the power to limit the rates charged, just as President Roosevelt asks congress to regulate the charges on interstate commerce on railways. It will be far easier to do justice to the insurance companies in this regard.

This association will read with interest the bill which you say you will introduce in the next session of congress. Would you be willing to submit that proposed measure to us prior to its introduction? You say it is a "matter vitally affecting the welfare of the American people," and so it is, and, therefore, you should be willing to submit it to the American people for their consideration if you really desire a comprehensive expression of qualified public opinion.

NEW CASTLE WOMAN GIVES LIFE FOR BABY

Went to Baltimore on a Visit and Was Dead Before She Met Her Friends.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Sadie Hamill is dead and her husband, Joseph Hamill, Jr., of New Castle, Pa., is suffering from severe burns caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove at 844 Harford avenue, yesterday afternoon. Both were taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where Mrs. Hamill died this morning. Her husband, whose injuries are not very serious, was informed of her death this morning. The body of Mrs. Hamill is still at the hospital, pending an investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamill came here from New Castle yesterday to see the former's father, whom he had not seen for seven years. The parent reached home last night and found his home almost gutted by flames resulting from the explosion. He had not seen his son, having worked all day.

The three-year-old son of the couple was alone in the room where the explosion occurred and the mother and father were burned in an attempt at rescue. The mother during the excitement jumped from a second-story window with her clothing in flames. The child was finally rescued uninjured by a stranger.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 19.—Joseph I. Hamill is a Baltimore & Ohio brakeman of this city. Four weeks ago he was seriously injured and was recently discharged from the hospital. He and his wife left Tuesday for Baltimore on a visit, and it is said that her relatives did not wish her to accompany him. This evening two of her sisters left for Baltimore to investigate. Mrs. Hamill was 22 years of age and was married five years ago.

TURN ON THE STEAM.

Representatives of Rival Companies Clash and Riot Ensues.

Joseph T. Miller, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Water Company of Wilkinsburg, with a gang of employes, undertook to cut off the water supply of the Penn Heat and Power Company yesterday afternoon. The Heat and Power Company anticipated trouble of this sort, and when Supt. Miller arrived he found the employes of the Heat and Power Company in possession of the water box.

A riot ensued and Ordinance Officer John Munford arrested four of the Fuel and Power Company's men. Supt. Miller dispatched a messenger for more men. Then the Fuel and Power Company, seeing that they were being outnumbered attached a hose to a steam pipe and defended their water supply with scalding steam. This last resort was a success.

LONG DEBATE AND SEVERAL WRANGLES IN ALLEGHENY

Ordinance to Compel Railroads to Erect Fences Along Their Lines Causes a Lively Discussion.

An ordinance compelling railroad companies to erect iron fences along all thoroughfares in the city traversed by such railroads, caused a wrangle for over an hour in the Allegheny common council last evening.

The measure had first been ordered printed by the committee on public safety, but this was reconsidered and the clerk ordered to send the ordinance back to the council with a negative recommendation. The clerk, however, sent the printed measure, and it was on the files for action last evening.

A long debate followed the bringing up of the ordinance and a decision of the chair was appealed from by R. K. Cochrane and sustained. The ordinance was read three times and was laid over for want of a legal majority on the vote for its final passage.

An ordinance which has been before council for nearly three years to pay the H. J. Heinz company for the erection of an addition of the municipal hospital was defeated.

An ordinance was introduced to grant a franchise to the Pittsburgh Railways Company for tracks on East and North Diamond streets, around the Carnegie Free library, to be used as a loop.

The new entrance is more inviting, affords better light inside, and better display windows outside.

We intend this to be the best and most agreeable Men's Furnishing Store in the two towns.

Men to wait on you who will consider your interest as much as the interest of the store, and in no case attempt to foist something inappropriate upon you, but strive by every possible means to meet your exact wishes and requirements to the full, and give you an honest opinion when you are in doubt, and desire it, whether he makes the sale or not.

We carry and intend to carry a stock so complete and tasteful that you can get just what you want and ought to have.

In the Men's Furnishing Store proper—corner of Park way—you will find besides the fifty different lines of Underwear, and the very choice collection of Shirts, a complete and satisfying assortment of Handkerchiefs and Socks, besides the articles usually kept in a Men's Furnishing store.

Such as Neckwear, Suspenders, Bath Robes, Night Shirts, Pajamas, Smoking Jackets, Sweaters, etc.

Immediately in the rear of this section are the Men's Shoes, and in the same aisle is an elevator that takes you to the Third Floor, where the Clothing and Hats are, so that men may come and get a complete outfit without coming in contact with any of the women's departments, if they care to avoid them.

This notice calls attention particularly to the conveniences, but preceding that, and overshadowing its importance, is the convincing fact that it is the best of stores to buy from by reason of the high character of the goods and the relatively lower prices at which they are sold.

Souvenir Sale—A quantity of exceptionally fine Neckwear—entirely new high-class things often advertised as Dollar Goods will be sold at 35c today and tomorrow.

This is done to find out whether men read and heed advertisements.

FORMER ENEMIES THANK PRESIDENT

Russia and Japan Give Formal Expressions of Gratitude to Mr. Roosevelt.

PART IN PEACE APPRECIATED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Formal, but none the less hearty, expressions of thanks from the Russian and Japanese emperors to President Roosevelt for his services in the cause of peace in the far east were made public by Secretary Root tonight. The Russian emperor's message is contained in the following instruction to Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador:

The Russian ambassador is ordered to express to the president in the name of the emperor the feelings of sincere satisfaction experienced by his imperial majesty at the re-establishment of peace for the good of all peoples and their future prosperity. At this historical hour his august sovereign cannot but recollect with sincere pleasure the efforts put forward by the President in order to co-operate in the attainment of that great result. These efforts have been the more highly appreciated, as they entirely responded to the sentiments of friendship and regard which animate his imperial majesty toward the President personally and toward the American people.

The note from the Japanese emperor reads:

Tokyo, Oct. 18, 1905.

The President, Washington, D. C.—The formalities necessary to bring the treaty of Portsmouth into full force and vigor, having been accomplished and peace having been definitely re-established between Japan and Russia, I desire again to express to you my very high appreciation of your distinguished and important services in the cause of peace and also to thank you most sincerely for the gracious hospitality we may plenipotentiaries, by which they were enabled to perform their important labors under the most favorable auspices.

In addition to this formal expression of thanks, the following letter from Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, requests that the American diplomatic and consular representatives be permitted to continue the care of Japanese interests in Russia until the Japanese diplomatic and consular service in Russia can be re-established. The letter follows:

Legation of Japan,
Washington, D. C., Oct. 19, 1905.

Elihu Root, Secretary of State:—Sir: Under instructions from his imperial majesty's government, I have the honor to express to you the cordial appreciation which his majesty's government entertains of the friendly action of the United States government in permitting their diplomatic representatives at St. Petersburg and consular officers in Russia and in the territory occupied by that country, to look after the Japanese interests and subjects during the war which has just been brought to an end, and to convey through you to those diplomatic and consular officers sincere thanks of his imperial majesty's government for the eminently satisfactory manner in which they rendered their delicate services. Further, I beg leave to request that the American diplomatic and consular representatives in Russia may be authorized to continue the exercise of their good offices on behalf of the Japanese government and subjects, pending the re-establishment of the Japanese legation and consulates.

TAKAHIRA.

TOKYO, Oct. 19.—The Official Gazette in an extra issue today announces that the emperor will proceed to the temple of Ise to report the conclusions of peace with Russia. A personal visit of the emperor to this temple is a rare event.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—An imperial manifesto was issued today proclaiming the ratification of peace between Russia and Japan. It says:

God has caused our fatherland to suffer sore trials from the blows of fate in a sanguinary war, but the struggles have afforded manifold proofs of the bravery and courage of our glorious troops against a brave and mighty enemy. This war, so painful for us all, is now over. The eastern portion of our country will develop itself in peace and good neighborliness with the Japanese empire, which has now become our friend.

In communicating the restoration of peace to our subjects we are sure they will join in our prayers to God to give a blessing on our great labors, in conjunction with men elected by the people for the development and prosperity of Russia.

JAPAN FEELS GREAT REPOSE ABOUT PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Minister Takahira Declares That the Mikado's Government Welcomes Uncle Sam's Occupancy of Archipelago—Will Defend Open Door.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Declaring that Japan welcomes the presence of the United States in the Philippines, Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, tonight gave out a statement that Japan feels "great repose about the Philippines because they are occupied by the United States with the firm hold of its authority over the archipelago, not to speak of many object lessons being given there by the new owner by introducing modern improvements in various ways."

Regarding Japan's future, Mr. Takahira said:

"I presume it would be better for you to wait a little while before you will be able to see what Japan will do actually. I firmly believe that there will be no departure made hereafter from the line of policy hitherto pursued by the Japanese government. The open door policy proposed by the United States and readily joined in by Japan in July, 1900, will be scrupulously observed throughout the future and the legitimate rights and interests of all nations will be duly respected wherever our influence would extend."

Regarding Japan's ability to meet her indebtedness, Mr. Takahira said:

"No doubt the burden is very heavy, but if we consider the fact that the extraordinary special tax alone was raised since the war to the amount of $75,000,000 per annum without hampering the growth of commerce and industry, I feel sure there is no cause for pessimism, and moreover a satisfactory sign is the continued development of both internal and external trade, and when we also consider the great interest that can now be given to our commerce in China and Korea with perfect security, as the result of the treaty of Portsmouth, as well as the Anglo-Japanese agreement, we can confidently look forward to our prosperity in the future."

DOCKERS OF HORSE'S TAIL PLEAD GUILTY; PAY FINE

Humane Society Starts Another Crusade Against Practice—Homeric Tussle for Hirsute Trophy.

The Humane society has declared another crusade against the practice of docking horses' tails, and yesterday its agent had two men fined for the offense, cruelty to animals being the charge. It is possible that the society may try to have a law passed by the next legislature authorizing the confiscation of horses deprived by violence of their chief glory, the tail. The Humane society is not convinced of the aesthetic beauty of a stub-tailed nag, its officers resembling in this respect Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who likes a steed with tail sweeping the earth.

Somebody telephoned to the society's office on Tuesday that a horse which had been bought for a prominent Sewickley family was about to be denuded of his tail at a livery stable at Montgomery avenue and Federal street, Allegheny. Agent W. G. Stanley hurried over to the stable and arrived, so he afterwards swore, just as the tail was docked, four inches from the horse's body.

Stanley says that O. Eiseman ran back into the stable as soon as he learned Stanley's identity, and tried to bury the tail in a pile of sawdust, but the hirsute decoration was so fine and bushy that it could not be hidden so easily. Then ensued a Homeric tussle for the tail. Stanley says Eiseman and he struggled hard for the trophy, which would have been the envy of any Turkish pasha. Eiseman tried to put the Humane agent hors du combat by tickling him in the face with the tail, but Stanley's whiskers rendered his cuticle impervious to titillation and aside from sneezing a few times, he was not seriously incommoded, finally securing the prize of battle.

Eiseman and George Thubron escaped arrest then, but Stanley secured a warrant from Alderman Toole and the next evening he and Constable James O'Donnell arrested Eiseman and Thubron. They pleaded guilty yesterday and were fined $20 and costs each.

AMERICAN SENTENCED TO DEATH IN TURKEY

Intervention of Mr. Leishman, However, Saves Another Citizen of United States from Execution.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 19.—Ghirkis Vartanian, who claims to be a naturalized American citizen, was again sentenced to death by the criminal court at Stambul for the murder of a prominent Armenian merchant, Apik Undjian, in Constantinople on August 26.

Alfarian, another Armenian, who also claimed American citizenship, and who is charged with participation in the plot to assassinate the sultan on July 21, when a bomb was exploded as the sultan was leaving the mosque, killing about 40 persons, was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment.

Vartanian and Alfarian were sentenced to death for the crimes charged against them, but owing to the intervention of Mr. Leishman, the American minister, the sentences were quashed and new trials ordered.

Fumes from Paint Ignite.

William M. Reed, manager of the McKeesport Steel Construction Company, was painfully injured in an explosion at the company's plant yesterday afternoon. While mixing some paint in a tool house Reed struck a match. The explosion that followed threw him down, ignited his clothing, burned his face, head and hands and burnt off his mustache. His condition is not serious.

Going to Bed Hungry.

It Is All Wrong and Man Is the Only Creature That Does It.

The complete emptiness of the stomach during sleep adds greatly to the amount of emaciation, sleeplessness and general weakness so often met with. There is a perpetual change of tissues in the body, sleeping or waking, and the supply of nourishment ought to be somewhat continuous and food taken just before retiring, adds much more tissue that is destroyed, and increased weight and vigor is the result. Dr. W. T. Cathell says: "All animals except man eat before sleep and there is no reason in Nature why man should form the exception to the rule."

If people who are thin, nervous and sleepless would take a light lunch of bread and milk or oatmeal and cream and at the same time take a safe, harmless stomach remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in order to aid the stomach in digesting it, the result will be a surprising increase in weight, strength and general vigor. The only drawback has been that thin, nervous, dyspeptic people cannot digest and assimilate wholesome food at night or any other time. For such it is absolutely necessary to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they will digest the food, no matter how weak the stomach may be, nourishing the body and resting the stomach at the same time.

Dr. Stevenson says: "I depend almost entirely upon Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in treating indigestion, because it is not a quack nostrum, and I know just what they contain, a combination of vegetable essences, pure pepsin. They cure Dyspepsia and stomach troubles, because they can't help but cure." Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. They are in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and contain nothing but pure pepsin, vegetable essences and bismuth scientifically compounded. Your druggist will tell you they give universal satisfaction.

READY TO BUILD THE SHORT LINE

J. V. Thompson and D. F. Maroney at Head of the Uniontown-Wheeling Railroad.

THE DREAM OF MANY YEARS

Waiting until their plans were well matured and the success of their project assured beyond chance, J. V. Thompson, the Uniontown banker, capitalist and coal land owner, and D. F. Maroney, the well-known railroad man, announced yesterday the formation of the Uniontown & Wheeling Short Line Railroad Company. It will cover the distance in 68 miles.

As its name implies, the new railroad is to be the long-desired line from Fayette county across Greene county, Pennsylvania, to Wheeling, W. Va., giving not only an outlet for the mineral riches of Greene county, but an opportunity for the Wheeling district to obtain easy access to the Connellsville coke region, obtaining its furnace and foundry coke without the necessity for the long haul now required by way of Pittsburgh. The western and lake markets are also brought nearer.

In the construction and equipment of the new railroad and in the development of the coal properties which are owned by Mr. Thompson and his associates, upward of $10,000,000 will be spent during the next two years. It is expected that by an immediate start on the construction of the railroad, it can be put into operation by the spring of 1907, and in the course of that summer enough openings can have been made in the coal properties and enough coke ovens constructed to turn over to the new railroad an enormous tonnage.

Absorbs Four Small Lines.

The new road will extend from Uniontown, Fayette county, to Wheeling and Benwood. It is incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania and by consolidation embraces the charters and rights of way of four other companies, granted early in the present year. They are the Leckrone & Little Whitely Railroad Company, the Midland Railroad Company, the Waynesburg & Monongahela Railroad Company and the Ohio & Marshall County Railroad Company. The consolidation was effected a short time ago, the surveys completed and the final estimates made so that the purpose of the projectors to begin the construction work between now and January 1 can be realized.

The construction of the new short line as projected by Messrs. Thompson and Maroney and their associates, is but the consummation of a plan which has been the dream of many who were familiar with the coal, coke and railroad situation in Fayette and Greene counties.

Capital and Experience Combine.

Their ideas have many times blossomed out into projects, but opposition of the strongest kind or lack of capital has in each case put an end to the plans. Not until the present time has there been the combination of sufficient capital and first-rate railroad ability to give the project definite shape.

In this plan Mr. Thompson, who is president of the First National bank of Uniontown, represents not only himself, but a number of associates. Mr. Maroney likewise has as associates in the project several New York interests of importance.

It is said that when the plan was first proposed to those not especially familiar with Greene county, they could not understand the neglect which that district has encountered in the general industrial expansion of Western Pennsylvania. It was only when the interests of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads were pointed out that the neglect of Greene county could be understood. The county's enormous mineral riches was at no time in dispute, and when the complete project was understood capital for its completion was easily enlisted.

In the engineering features of the work it is designed to render the new "Short Line" beyond criticism. Its maximum grade will be seven-tenths of one per cent and that grade "favors the load," since it slopes toward the west. To reduce the grade to this figure it was necessary to build several tunnels, but this expense was undertaken rather than sacrifice to false economy the heavy trainloads which will be possible on the comparatively low-grade line.

Big Monongahela Bridge.

The Monongahela river will be crossed at McCanns Ferry on a bridge 1,300 feet long, with a channel span of 424 feet and a height of this span of over 70 feet above full pool.

The present eastern terminus of the line will be at Uniontown, extending thence to Ache Junction, to Lackrone, in Fayette county, to the Monongahela river at McCanns Ferry, thence following Little Whitely creek, Muddy creek and the south fork of Ten-Mile creek to Waynesburg, the county seat of Greene county; thence to Rogersville and Ruff's, crossing the divide or summit to the headwaters of the north fork of Wheeling creek, following this stream through Dunkin and Crows Mills, Greene county, at the Pennsylvania and West Virginia state line, thence along Big Wheeling creek through Viola, Marshall county, W. Va., and Elm Grove, Ohio county, West Virginia, into Wheeling and Benwood.

The line will have connections with Pennsylvania railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio, the Masontown & New Salem, owned and operated by the United States Steel Corporation, the Monongahela railroad and the Wheeling Terminal, which allows of an exchange of traffic with the Pennsylvania lines west, the Baltimore & Ohio east and west, the Ohio River railroad and the Wabash line.

Reduces Distances Greatly.

The projected road reduces the distance from the Connellsville field to Wheeling more than 50 miles, the Uniontown and Wheeling being but 68 miles. As compared with the Baltimore & Ohio there is a saving of 72 miles and the Pennsylvania railroad and Panhandle 67 miles. The road also reduces the distances from the coke regions to Chicago, Cincinnati and the northwest and southwest from 25 to 40 miles, and to the south and seaboard 50 odd miles. By reason of this the road will divert much of the through traffic from Pittsburgh.

Since the opening of the Klondike coke region which was developed by Mr. Thompson and several associates, further effort has been made to get additional coal of a quality to produce Connellsville coke. After a careful investigation and test, the last remaining Connellsville coking coal was found in Greene county, between the Monongahela river and Waynesburg, comprising 160,000 acres. The acreage of the original Connellsville and Lower Connellsville or Klondike fields is entirely in the hands of the large steel interests, thus placing at a great disadvantage the independent mills and industries. The co-operation and material assistance has been given the project by several of the larger independent steel manufacturers. This entire field is owned and controlled by Mr. Thompson and his associates.

Not Built to Antagonize.

"With this in view," said Mr. Thompson in discussing the new railroad, "the Uniontown & Wheeling Short Line was projected and will be completed in the shortest time possible. It will be built because necessity and the industrial world demand it, and to give Greene county, enormously rich in mineral deposits, a long delayed development, which hostile interests have heretofore denied it. It is not for the purpose of competition or to antagonize."

J. V. Thompson, who is chairman of the board of directors and the leader in the project, has been identified for years with the development of the coal fields of Fayette and Washington county. He is the largest individual holder of coal lands in the United States. He occupies a leading position among the bankers of the state. With his associates he owns a large part of the coal acreage of Greene county.

D. F. Maroney, the president of the road, who has been the directing head of the operations in the field, is well known in Pittsburgh, having been a former general superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, with the reputation of handling more tonnage over the road with meager motive power and equipment than ever in its previous history. Mr. Maroney's connection with the Baltimore & Ohio in different capacities extended over a period of 20 years. Until taking charge of the organization of the Uniontown & Wheeling Short Line last January, he was vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern.

MOURNING FOR WIFE LASTED BUT FEW DAYS

Will of Deceased Helpmate Stipulates That Husband Shall Forfeit Property if He Remarries.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ZANESVILLE, O., Oct. 19.—Simultaneously with the departure yesterday of Dr. J. L. Holden, a former mayor, and Miss Hazel Coyle, for Cincinnati to be married, came the equally sensational announcement that the will of the late Mrs. Holden, who died less than a month ago, has been found and was filed for probate late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Holden's will gives to her husband the handsome new residence and office building in South Fourth street, upon condition that he shall not remarry. One article of the will is incomplete and might supply the basis for a contest. The property disposed of is worth about $50,000. Until the filing of the instrument it was not known that Mrs. Holden had ever made a will.

Dr. Holden's bride is still in her teens. During her childhood Miss Coyle was a favorite in the Holden home. Mrs. Holden lavished upon her attentions and gifts, in about a week Dr. and Mrs. Holden will leave for a European trip.

DIFFICULTIES OF OUR DEPENDENCIES

They Are Discussed by Eminent Speakers at the Lake Mohawk Conference.

HAWAII NEEDS LABORERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The status and interests of the Filipinos and the Hawaiians were considered and discussed today by the Lake Mohonk conference of Friends of the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples. Among the speakers was Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks of Cornell university, who was sent to the orient as a special commissioner by the United States government to investigate questions of currency, labor, internal taxation and police. His topic today was "Some Difficulties in the Administration of Dependencies." He said in closing:

For us Americans who have in our dependencies many problems that are new and important it will be the part of wisdom, first, to recognize our own ignorance and to attempt to overcome it by careful non-partisan investigation, and by a determination not to prejudge actions or conditions on the basis of an experience of our own far different history. We should not permit local private interests here to interfere with the development of an interest of national importance there. We should send to these dependencies as officials men of the highest ability and character and be willing to pay enough both in salaries and in other allowances to secure the best men for the positions.

We should then give to those officials discretion and power so that they, who are on the ground, who know the conditions and who must bear the responsibility, may act promptly and wisely, and we should stand ready to give to them our hearty support.

W. A. Sutherland of the bureau of insular affairs at Washington, who has charge of the Filipino students in American schools and colleges, gave an interesting account of the work they are doing.

"Two years ago," said Mr. Sutherland, "there were in the schools in the Philippines 14,000 pupils, one year later 250,000 and now it is estimated that there are 500,000. There are now in the United States 178 Filipino students, of whom eight are girls. These students are selected after competitive examinations and are scattered from Boston to Los Angeles, in many of the leading institutions of the country. Their support is provided by the Philippine government."

In discussing "The Labor Question in Hawaii," Graham D. Gilman, formerly Hawaiian consul general for New England, said:

Hawaii, on coming under the laws of the United States found the Chinese exclusion law come into force, and what was claimed to help the labor of California proved a great detriment to Hawaiian interests. The shutting out of the Chinese compelled the planters to turn to Japan for help, and somewhat over 61,000 of that people are now in the islands, nearly one-half of the entire population. There are those who feel that it would be unwise to increase further this already large number of Japanese, elated and self-confident over the success of the late war.

Under existing circumstances, the very life of the plantations is threatened; without labor at a living rate they must fail. What Hawaii needs today is an adjustment of the labor legislation by which foreign labor may be introduced where no other is possible.

FORM NEW COMPANY.

Barnsdall Interests Create the "Bradford-Osage" to Hold Securities.

A charter for the "Bradford-Osage Company" was taken out at Dover, Del., yesterday for the T. N. Barnsdall gas and oil interests. Its capital stock is placed at $2,250,000. Its charter rights enable it to acquire by purchase or otherwise, hold, own and dispose of stocks, bonds, debentures, etc., and to do a general trust business.

It was impossible, owing to poor telephone service, to converse with Mr. Barnsdall last evening. It is believed that the purpose of the company is to consolidate the interests which he and his associates in Pittsburgh and the oil country of Pennsylvania have in the Osage nation, Indian territory.

WANTS COUNTY TO PAY $40,000; ALLEGES ASSAULT

Workhouse Prisoner Says His Skull Was Fractured by Blow from Blackjack, and Claims Damages for Negligent Employment of Watchman.

Attorney Leonard K. Guiler on behalf of Joseph O'Donovan yesterday entered a suit against Allegheny county, asking $40,000 damages and making sensational charges against a jailer and watchman of the Allegheny County workhouse, Joshua Kisken, whereby he alleges that Kisken used a "blackjack" on him, fracturing his skull and almost costing him his life. The suit is brought against the county on the charge that negligence was used in the employment of a keeper who would use violence on prisoners who were under his care.

O'Donovan, in his statement, which was filed in court of common pleas No. 3, states that the defendant owned and operated the workhouse, and it was its duty to employ keepers who would manage, control and treat prisoners in the institution in a humane, careful and merciful manner, and not maltreat, strike, beat, abuse and subject prisoners to cruel and unusual punishment and brutal and violent assaults; that it was the county's duty to protect them from bodily harm.

It is claimed the plaintiff was a prisoner there on December 31, 1904, and his body was subject to the absolute control of the keepers.

He claims that without cause or provocation Joshua Kisken assaulted him with a "blackjack on the temple and forehead," rendered him unconscious for several hours and fracturing his skull. He claims a blood clot was formed on his brain and that the day following he was seized with an epileptic fit and has suffered with two or three every week since that time, and because of this injury has been unable to make a living for himself or family. He wants $40,000 because of the alleged negligent employment of Kisken.

TWO DEATHS MAY RESULT FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Brain Fever Threatens Mrs. Davis, While Miss Krissinger Is in Danger of Paralysis.

Two of the victims of the automobile accident of Wednesday evening lie at their homes in a serious condition, and grave doubts are entertained as to their complete recovery.

Mrs. Minnie Castle Davis of 5809 Wellesley avenue, who was cut on the back of the head and internally injured by one of the wheels of the machine passing over her body, suffers intensely, and the physician in attendance fears that brain fever is developing. Her condition is very grave and her chance for recovery is slight.

Miss Gertrude Krissinger, living with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Miller, 5801 Wellesley avenue, who was run over and crushed, is in such a condition that her clothing has not yet been removed. She suffers great pain, and it is feared that in addition to internal injuries about the chest she will be partly paralyzed.

The other women injured, Miss Delamater and Mrs. Lappe, were reported somewhat improved last night, although it will be some time before they will be about.

Murphy, the chauffeur of the automobile, was arrested yesterday morning, and at a hearing before Alderman Negley was held in the sum of $1,000 to await the result of the women's injuries.

ORDINARY SCORES MADE IN THREE LEAGUE MATCHES

Troy Hill Trots Out a Veteran and Defeats the North Side Boys Handily.

LATEST FROM THE ALLEYS

The matches last night in the three sections of the Allegheny County league did not develop large scores. In Allegheny the Troy Hill team took two out of three games from the young North Side five. The feature was the reappearance of old man Gebhardt, who began with 177 and ended up with 203, the highest score of the match. Gebhardt did the best work and showed the youngsters a thing or two. The North Side boys were extremely erratic, but they managed to capture the second game by five pins, much to the delight of their rooters. Capt. Haddock did the best bowling for his side. Scores:

On the Glenwood alleys, in the Pittsburgh section, the Friendship team, on its first appearance in the league, won two out of three games from the Glenwood team. Ordinary scores only were made. Gemperle, who used to shine in the Diocesan league, made high score, just missing the double century mark. He was the star of the evening. The Glenwood team used seven men and made a strong finish, rolling up 832 in the third game, the highest scores. Scores:

Last night in the Pittsburgh league, on the Hill Top alleys, the Werries and Southerns came together in their regular schedule match and the Southerns won two out of three games. Some creditable scores were chalked up and some remarkably big scores made. A record of the league for the present season was broken when Hirsch of the Southern team rolled the big score of 257 in the last game. This score will no doubt stand for some time. Scores:

The Central met last night in its regular schedule games on the Club alleys, and some big scores were chalked up—in fact, scores that the county league would be proud to have. The best bowling was done by the Field club members, they starting off with 951 and finishing with 947. The Unitys were there strong, but succeeded in winning only one game. High score was made by Bisel of the Pirates, with 253, and best average by Underwood of the Nationals, with 202 2-3. The games and scores are as follows:

There was some great doings in the Amateur league last night on the Wylie avenue alleys, when Contractor Vanner's Y. M. I.'s and ex-Councilman John Voskamp's commercials came together. There was excitement galore, and a few predictions made about "what we were going to do to the other fellows" went wrong. Ex-Councilman John Voskamp had promised a chicken supper to the winners of the Amateur league championship, but there will be no doubt some crow left for those who expected to win. The Commercials won two out of three games and Beecher had high score and best average. Scores:

McDonagh, Brighton road, Allegheny, Pa.

Owing to cancelation by Latrobe, the Superior A. A. is without a game for tomorrow. This makes the eighth time Superior has suffered by cancelation this season, and the management is at a loss to understand why such should be the case, as visiting teams are accorded the best of treatment, and the playing field is kept entirely free of spectators, something seldom seen on an amateur field. Full expenses for 18 men will be given to any 80 or 85-pound team. Address F. J. Meals, 2910 Shady avenue, Allegheny, or call up Bell 'phone 9665-J Brady, or P. & A. 10 Chester.

YALE IS LEADING IN GOLF TOURNEY

Thomas Liggett, Jr., a Pittsburgh Player in Princeton, Beats W. J. Howard, Yale.

EIGHT CONTESTANTS REMAIN

GARDEN CITY, L. I., Oct. 19.—Eight collegiate golfers were still in the race for the individual championship of the Intercollegiate Golf association at the close of today's play on the Garden City links. Of these, four are from Yale, three from Princeton and one from Harvard. Percy Gilbert is the single representative member left for Harvard, and while his work throughout the tournament has been very consistent, he has a hard task before him to gain a place in the finals. That Yale is very strong in this year's contest is shown by the fact that she has four men in, one of whom made the second best score in the qualifying round today.

The hopes of the Princeton men are centered in the good all-around work of H. J. Gee, who, up to the present, has the best record of the week. Thomas Liggett, Jr., a Pittsburgher on the Princeton team, also won his match.

The feature of today was Gee's excellent form in the qualifying round. He turned in a card of 77, which is only two strokes behind Pargolf for these links and just one stroke behind the competitive record of 76 on this course.

As there were six men tied with scores of 80 each for the last three positions in the first eighteen, they had to play off the tie, with the result that Malcolm McBurney, T. Briggs and W. F. Harrison, all of Harvard, were left in for the championship rounds at match play, the defeated three being F. W. Kemble, Harvard; D. H. Barrows, Princeton, and J. A. McCurdy, University of Pennsylvania.

The pairing is the result of the first round:

Dwight Partridge, Yale, beat Fay Ingalls, Harvard, 3 up and 2 to play.

Ellis Knowles, Yale, beat T. Briggs, Harvard, 4 up and 2 to play.

Mason E. Phelps, Yale, beat W. E. Clow, Jr., Yale, 6 up and 5 to play.

Howard J. Gee, Princeton, beat W. F. Harrison, Harvard, 6 up and 5 to play.

Thomas Liggett, Jr., beat W. I. Howard, Yale, 1 up.

Percy Gilbert, Harvard, beat D. Laird, Princeton, 4 up and 3 to play.

Robert Abbott, Yale, beat Malcolm McBurney, Harvard, 2 up and 1 to play.

Ralph Peters, Jr., Princeton, beat Bruce D. Smith, Yale, 1 up.

The semi-finals in the ladies' tournament at the Edgeworth links for the cup offered by E. A. Woods were postponed yesterday on account of rain and will be played today if the weather permits.

CHEVY CHASE TOURNEY.

Pittsburgh Golfers Do Well in Qualifying Round at Capital City.

R. D. Dalzell, Edgewood, was qualified twenty-fourth among a field of 54 players with a score of 95, 85-180. Wesley G. Carr, Oakmont Country club, finished next best to R. D. Dalzell with a score of 90 101-191.

WUP KICKERS ARE OFF FOR CORNELL

Squad of 23 Leaves for Start on a Journey to Meet the Strong Ithacans.

NEWS FROM OTHER COLLEGES

The W. U. P. team last night left for Ithaca, N. Y., where it will tackle the Cornell eleven tomorrow afternoon. The party included 23 players, Coach Mosse, physicians and attendants. The Cornell game is one of the most interesting features of the W. U. P. schedule this season, and every effort has been put forth by the Pittsburgh eleven to present as strong a line-up as possible against the heavy Ithacans, in spite of the fact that the squad has been weakened by discouraging accidents during the last fortnight. Reports from Cornell show that that team has greatly strengthened its line-up during the past few weeks. That the Ithacans expect a hard game is attested by the preparation which has been made. The Cornell management did not play the Alfred university team as scheduled for last Wednesday, but the team is saving its strength for the W. U. P. contest. As regards games played, W. U. P. is at a disadvantage, and the local management regrets the scarcity of practice contests in preparation for the big event. W. U. P. had a short period of signal practice in the rain yesterday afternoon and after supper at the training house journeyed to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot, where the Special Pullman sleeper was waiting. The boys will arrive at Buffalo at 5:20 this morning and will rest a day at Geneva, N. Y., going over to Ithaca Saturday morning.

Some rearrangement of the line-up was necessary on account of Zieg's injury, and the coach last night announced that, barring the unforseen, Saturday's line-up would appear as follows: Left end, Perry or Q. Rainey; left tackle, Turnel; left guard, Waddill or Yloiding; center, McKean, right guard, Edgar; right tackle, Marshall; right end, East; quarterback, Ritchie; halfback, A. Griggs; right halfback, Schmidt; fullback, Banbury or Mehl.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Coach Bill Edwards issued an urgent call today for new football material, asking for a rally on the part of men of the least football ability, and urging all Princeton men to use their personal influence in persuading likely players at least to try for the team. His appeal represented Princeton's present dilemma in very plain terms, and it is clear that the coaches consider the situation a serious one. Many valuable players are temporarily laid up with injuries of varying severity and this fact is to worry over with the approaching hard games of the year. Tomorrow there will be another big mass meeting for the purpose of organizing the cheering and practicing football songs, and after the meeting the whole college will parade down to the field. Today's playing was done behind closed gates, and was the first secret practice of the year. Tenney has reappeared on the field, but Herring will probably be laid up for some time. Bard and Daub have turned stale, and this goes a step farther toward complicating the situation. These two are, on the whole, about the most satisfactory pair of half backs that the Tigers possess, and a mishap of this sort is always likely to result disastrously. The fact that the weather has been humid and hot has served to put most of the men in anything but good football condition, and it is this fact that may be responsible for the epidemic of boils that have been keeping Dr. Carnochen busy of late.

Pittsburgh Lyceum.

Lyceum players practiced on a sloppy field last night on the Pittsburgh college grounds. In order to have the eleven in the best possible condition for the game with the Villa Nova eleven Saturday Coach Bird has called for another practice this evening, when the Lyceum players will leave the Lyceum in Washington street at 7:30 o'clock and practice will begin about 8 o'clock at the Pittsburgh college grounds. Coach Bird is not satisfied with the work of the eleven at Washington and Toledo and is doing his best to strengthen the team before the big game tomorrow. One of the Campbell brothers will play left end in place of McManus, who had a leg broken in the W. and J. game, and it is probable that Trump, a former W. and J. player, will go in at the other end. About 20 of the players turned out at practice last night and went through a signal drill. They were also put through a series of plays in taking the ball down the field and practicing punting and catching. The greatest drawback the Lyceum has to contend with is that the members of the eleven cannot get out for daylight practice. Although the Pittsburgh college field is well lighted at night the dark shadows make it difficult for the players to keep an accurate watch on the ball. Great preparations are being made for the game with Villa Nova Saturday and it is expected that the Pittsburgh college grounds on the bluff will be crowded to their capacity.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Forcing the second eleven steadily backwards, and hammering the line at will for splendid gains, the Harvard varsity ran up two touchdowns on consecutive rushes this afternoon in the last hard practice before meeting the cadets at West Point Saturday afternoon. The second eleven was strengthened again by old men, but they were unable to offer any substantial resistance to the fierce driving attack which characterized the play of the varsity. Harvard will not send a very strong team to line up against Uncle Sam's youngsters at West Point. Captain Hurley is out of the running for at least two more weeks. Squires and Fultz, the two right tackles, are on the hospital list also, and Hall, Burnham and Leary, the ends, are among the missing regulars. At center Captain Hurley will be obliged to use White, as Cunniff's knee is still bothering him. White is way off in passing and Reid is anxious to get Cunniff back into form. The guard positions will probably be occupied by McAlden and Kerslake, the latter who was tried on end, is destined for a good working-out at right tackle. A squad of 30 men will be taken on the trip, including several coaches and subs. In the secret practice this afternoon two new formation plays were exhibited, and in these the tackles were called upon to carry the ball repeatedly, indicating that Reid expects to use his heavy men on the cadets Saturday.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Yale's coaches are guarding secret practice zealously because new plays of considerable power are being worked three weeks earlier than in recent seasons. The nature of the plays cannot be learned beyond the general statement that they are of the open, wide-awinging style, whose efficiency depends largely on strong and quickly-forming interference. Lest any play escapes to the public, there was no scrimmaging after the gates were opened today. Should Penn State college give evidence of strength Saturday, some of the new plays will be tried. The Yale coaches have not in years had such apparent confidence in their eleven as now. Today 14 backfield players were ranged on a side, seven kicking to seven others who returned the punts at a range from 40 to 50 yards. This alone is evidence of a new source of strength in the kicking department. The linemen were given dummy tackling practice during this period.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Secret practice was the order of the day at Cornell football headquarters this afternoon, when the practice was conducted behind closed gates for the first time since Monday. The varsity has given some light scrimmage work and a good deal of signal practice, though nothing heavy was attempted. Besides the signal work, the men were also given a lot of punting to do, and George B. Young, '05, the famous Cornell quarterback, spent a lot of time in coaching Walder, Pollak and Rice. There were five teams out on Percy field this afternoon, including the varsity, scrubs and freshmen elevens. The coaches are somewhat alarmed over the rumor that the Western University of Pennsylvania team, that Cornell plays this Saturday, is reported to be both strong and heavy. The Ithacans are not in the best of shape at present, and not exactly ready to stand a hard game. Coach Warner has made an appeal to the students to send out more heavy men for line positions, as he says that the big men he now has on the team do not have enough competition to keep them going.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Yale freshmen learned tonight of heavy punishment in the form most feared by them for the street riot of Sunday evening, October 6. The faculty decrees that none of the academic freshmen living in Pierson Hall and in the private dormitories opposite it on York street can take any "cuts" or "marks" during the fall term. This means that about 200 men must remain away from the class game with Princeton freshmen at Princeton in November and from the varsity games at West Point and Cambridge. Moreover, none of them can remain away from a single recitation or from morning prayers or chapel service on Sunday. It virtually ties them up in New Haven and at their books. Academic freshmen will be unable to play on the football team. The usual privilege is to allow each freshman eight "cuts," or allowed absences each term from recitations and ten absences from morning prayers.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WILL BATTLE TODAY

Pittsburgh to Tackle Johnstown Lads and Allegheny to Face Sewickley Highs.

The outlook of Pittsburgh High school's game today with Johnstown High school is very gloomy. An epidemic of broken noses has apparently struck the local squad and the team is pretty badly crippled generally. Woodside, McAllister, Watterson, Griffith, Lee, Orr and Smith are on the hospital list and it is doubtful if any of them will be able to take part in this afternoon's game. This, together with Wassel and Frankle being dropped from the squad on account of deficiencies in their studies, is very discouraging for a hard game. The boys were put through light signal practice last evening, and given a talk by the coach. The boys are anxious to make a good showing against Johnstown, as it is their first opportunity to test their comparative strength with their bitterest rival, Shadyside academy, who was defeated by Johnstown last Saturday to the score of 10-6. The probable line-up will be: Left end, Page; left tackle, Dunn or Smith; left guard, Neiman; center, Patterson; right guard, Chalmers or Josh; right tackle, Williams; right end, Clark; quarterback Haggerty; left half, Page, right half, Wassel (Captain); full back, Dornberger.

The game will begin at 3 o'clock at Friendship park.

Allegheny High school plays Sewickley High school today at Sewickley. Captain Gray, Buhl and Morrison will be unable to play owing to injuries. Much is expected of the freshmen, Herd and Boyd, who played good football against Wilkinsburg High school. A number of rooters will accompany the team. The train leaves the Pt. Wayne depot at 1:50 p. m.

Westminster Wins at Slippery Rock.

SLIPPERY ROCK, PA., Oct. 19.—Slippery Rock Normal is jubilant tonight over its football team, which held the fast Westminster eleven to a score of 22 to 0. The game was fast and clean, despite the muddy field. Slippery Rock's line was too strong for the visitors, whose touchdowns were all made on trick plays. M. There will be a battle of sophomores this afternoon on the W. U. P. grounds, when the second year boys of that place will line up against the Pittsburgh college aggregation. The college boys will be somewhat weakened, owing to the injury of some of their players in the game with W. and J. academy, yet Capt. Duffy is confident of making a good showing.

Interest in Pennsylvania Synod Meeting at Greensburg Centers in the Moderator.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 19.—It is generally conceded tonight by the delegates to the Pennsylvania synod of the Presbyterian church that the Pittsburgh presbytery will name the next moderator. The two candidates, the Rev. William R. Harshaw, D. D., of West Pittston, and the Rev. William P. Fulton, D. D., of Philadelphia, arrived here today at noon and their supporters immediately began the canvass for votes. The chances are slightly in favor of the Philadelphia divine tonight, but Dr. Harshaw is strong in the central section of the state. The election will be held immediately after the organization of synod tomorrow morning, and the interest in the first day's program centers in the result.

Over 150 delegates have reached Greensburg this evening. All of them are being entertained by members of the First and Westminster Presbyterian congregations. Among the first arrivals were the Rev. Dr. Robert Laird Stewart of Lincoln university; the Rev. Dr. William Laurie of Bellefonte; the Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton of Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. W. Scott Nevin of Philadelphia; the Rev. Dr. Richard S. Holmes of Philadelphia, editor of the "Westminster"; the Rev. Dr. William S. Fulton of Pittsburgh.

A feature of the sessions will be the music of the solo singers of all the choirs of Greensburg. The synod will end on Monday morning.

SINKING SHIP RESCUED BY MEANS OF WIRELESS

Communicates Her Plight While in Mid-ocean and Vessel Which Catches Messages Comes to Her Aid.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The story of a 29-hour struggle to keep from sinking at sea, during which time the vessel's hull once disappeared partly under the water, and in which wireless telegraphy finally brought rescue, was reported by the oil tank steamer City of Everett on arrival today from Port Arthur, Texas.

In a heavy storm October 5, the pounding of the seas broke the steamer's hauser pipe plate, carrying away the turret door and allowing the sea to rush through the opening and causing the steamer to settle by the head to a depth of five feet. Oil was pumped hurriedly out of one tank to lighten the steamer and to quiet the seas, but the vessel became unmanageable.

By wireless telegraph, the steamer Captain A. F. Lucas was informed of the oil steamer's plight and came to her assistance. For 29 hours the Lucas stood alongside, making a lee for the disabled craft until the flooded compartment was pumped out and repaired sufficiently to allow the City of Everett to proceed.

A Special Offer For Pipe Smokers

A 50c. Belfast Pipe, together with A 25c. Box of "Three States" Mixture } for 50c.

THE PIPE is the famous "Belfast," one of the exclusive specialties of the United Cigar Stores, and the cleanest, coolest pipe that has ever been devised. It is the "real thing" in a briar pipe—made from the knurly, close-grained root—and seasoned for three years before manufacture. The above picture shows important features of construction. All the liquid products of the burning tobacco fall into the "well," from which they are easily cleaned out. Nothing reaches the mouth but pure, clean, cool smoke, and that is diverted upwards by the tip of the stem towards the roof of the mouth, which prevents scorching the tongue as with an ordinary pipe.

The "Three States" is a flake-cut mixture—a happy combination of Kentucky and Virginia leaf, with Louisiana Perique and a dash of Latakia, very fragrant, mellow and rich, but mild. Burns slowly, does not "coal" in the pipe or burn the tongue.

For a limited time we offer both pipe and tobacco at all United Stores at the usual price for the pipe alone, 50c.

WOMEN'S MEETING CLOSES IN SONG

Cambridge Springs Resounds With National Music as Session Draws to Close.

DELEGATES SPEND BUSY DAY

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
ANNA R. STRATTON, Staff Correspondent.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., Oct. 19.—With the singing of the national air, "The Star Spangled Banner," the tenth annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women closed tonight. There was a strict attention to the business of the federation all day long, commencing with the election in the morning.

The continued rain kept everybody in the hotel.

Tonight the feature of the program was a debate on "Pennsylvania, Its Strength and Its Weakness." The strength of Pennsylvania was presented in glowing terms by Mrs. I. H. Rhoads, Lansdowne; Mrs. L. H. Fassett, Franklin, and Mrs. Janet S. Harris, Donora. The weaknesses of the Keystone state were painted in as startling colors by Mrs. George A. Gormley, Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. Ludwig Koethen, Jr., Pittsburgh, and Miss Jane Campbell, Germantown.

Resolutions were adopted advocating free kindergartens in every locality, the introduction of manual training and domestic science in the school curriculum throughout the state, the establishment of school cities, the use of influence toward the passage of national legislation against food adulteration, the limitation of immigration, the unseating of Reed Smoot, and the establishment of the juvenile court in all parts of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Iams of Pittsburgh, was chairman of the committee on resolutions. Reports occupied the entire morning session. The credential committee reported six officers, and 127 delegates, representing 52 clubs, in attendance at the meeting of the federation, who with the visiting club women, made a total registration of 414 women.

The various standing committees reported their work for the past year. Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, chairman of the legislation committee, reported the legislation in congress and the Pennsylvania legislature, which was of interest to the federation, and the fate of measures bearing its support. Miss Myra Lloyd, chairman of the forestry committee, covered the work done by the committee and by the individual clubs in all parts of the state, and was followed by Deputy Forest Commissioner Williams of Harrisburg, who told of the gains made in forest reservations this year by purchase or contract to purchase, making an area of 1,100 square miles, acquired by Pennsylvania for its forest reservations up to the close of 1905. Next year the first class of trained foresters will be sent out from the school on the Mt. Alto reservation.

The industrial condition committee reported through Mrs. Wilbur F. Rose, chairman, the juvenile court committee through Miss Edith Behrhorst in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Richard R. Quay; the report of the civil service committee by Mrs. Imogene B. Oakley, chairman, was read by Miss Mary Garvin.

C. B. Cochran, of the department of chemistry, West Chester, made an address on "Food Adulteration," at the afternoon session, which proved one of the most interesting features of the convention.

The various methods of adulteration were described and their analysis given, provoking animated comment and discussion.

Smallpox, typhoid and diphtheria were the subject of an address by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state commissioner of health, Harrisburg. Tomorrow morning a conference of club presidents will be held, which with a meeting of the newly-elected board, will close the annual gathering of Pennsylvania club women.

The election of officers today resulted in the following:

President, Miss Kate C. McKnight; vice presidents, Mrs. I. H. Rhoades, Miss Myra Lloyd Dock, Mrs. Ida M. Houghton; secretary, Miss Mary Knox Garvin; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Fisk Litch; directors, Mrs. Irving Elder, Mrs. W. F. Beitzel, Miss Jane Pressly, Mrs. Levi Bird Duff.

The state delegates to the biennial meeting of the general federation of Pennsylvania women next June in St. Paul, include Miss Kate C. McKnight, Miss Mary Knox Garvin, Mrs. Charles N. Thorpe, Mrs. Peter M. Speer, Mrs. James I. Chamberlain, Mrs. J. A. Herron, Mrs. S. Blair Luckie, Miss Jane Campbell and Mrs. Rudolf Blankenberg.

Alternates, Miss Martha McClure, Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Miss Florence M. Dibert, Mrs. Minnie O. Roberts, Mrs. A. Nevin Pomeroy, Mrs. Charles F. Hunter, Mrs. W. J. Askin, Mrs. John Harmon and Miss Anna R. Stratton.

CORONER HOLDS NEGROES FOR MURDER OF MARKS

Are Said to Have Been Seen Near Where the Crime Was Committed.

Samuel Proctor and Alexander Hamilton, negroes, were held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder, by the coroner's jury, yesterday. They are suspected of the murder of Abraham Marks, the huckster, who was killed at Monongahela and Swissvale avenues, Swissvale, on the night of September 28. He was shot to death by two colored highwaymen. The men are said to have been seen in the vicinity of where the crime was committed.

John Stultz, aged 37, of North Bessemer, was run over on the Union railroad while working as a brakeman yesterday morning. Both legs were cut off and he died five hours later at the East End hospital. He leaves a wife and three children. He formerly lived at New Kensington and the remains will be taken there for burial.

A man supposed to be E. J. Evans, aged 60, was found dead on the Ft. Wayne tracks, just outside of Allegheny, yesterday. It is supposed he was run over by a train. He wore a G. A. R. button and a button of the "Mt. Union P. P. of North America." There was also a receipt for $128 from the Enterprise Printing Company found on his clothing. He was evidently an old soldier. On a piece of paper found in his pocket was written "Koerner avenue, Allegheny."

Mrs. Mary Modery of Greenleaf and Shiloh streets, Mt. Washington, died at the South Side hospital last night from burns received last Saturday while starting a fire in the kitchen. Her clothing caught, and she was burned about the body.

Mrs. Mary Truby of Corbett street, Tarentum, died at her home yesterday from heart disease. For years she conducted the West Penn house. The woman was found dead in bed. She was 58 years old, and is survived by a daughter.

John McCann, aged 49, of Belmont avenue, died at the Allegheny General hospital, yesterday from blood poisoning, caused by having his finger crushed in a boiler shop several days ago.

SOCIETY—CLUBS

VISITORS to the Country club in Squirrel Hill yesterday forgot the disagreeable weather, for indoors all was warmth and beauty. The occasion was the Homeopathic hospital fair, for which the entire clubhouse was thrown open with each apartment beautifully decorated. The spacious verandas were all enclosed and along the front veranda were the college booths, voted by many the most striking feature of the fair. College flags and banners were strung across the walls and in festoons from booth to booth, while at the back of each booth was its own representative banner. To the left of the entrance was the Pennsylvania College for Women booth, decked in the college colors, purple and white, and presided over by young women in the cap and gown of the student. Everything sold at this table was finished in the two predominating colors. The booth just across the way, that of the Westminster Neville school, carried a line of exquisite handkerchiefs and stocks on its purple and gold counter, and near by was the gorgeous orange and black of old Princeton, a strong attraction for the men. Princeton banners were made a specialty at the booth. Yale's booth, in its royal blue, was a rival for favor, and Cornell with its brilliant crimson and white, made a bright spot in the group. Miss Gleim's school was represented by a red and gold booth and Shadyside academy's, done in blue and gold, was hung about with descriptive mottoes.

The pumpkin patch, in which pumpkins of a size and character beyond description, were grown; the orchestra and the ice cream tables filled the end of the front veranda, while the beautiful little dining room during the afternoon was given over to the flower dance under the direction of Mrs. Omar Scott Decker. In the evening the tables were surrounded by dinner guests. The huge white mantel was banked with drooping Cibodium ferns and over the lights which stud the ceiling were giant poppy shades of a peculiar pink tone.

Despite the rain, the gowning was exquisite. The women and girls serving at the various booths had donned their smartest afternoon toilettes, the majority of the younger ones choosing white. Mrs. Alexander King's flower booth, which occupied a central position in the large living room of the clubhouse, was perhaps the most pretentious. Every variety of flower was there, nodding its head in greeting to fancy baskets of the most luscious fruits. The booth was surrounded by a wicker fence, which added to the garden-like appearance. Many of the girls wandered about through the room with trays of blossoms hanging on ribbons from their necks. At the oriental booth, a neighbor to the floral booth, were sold Syrian drawn work, oriental hangings and bric-a-brac, while one corner of the room, where stood the doll booth, resembled nothing so much as an orphan asylum. There were rag dolls, china dolls, tiny dolls, large dolls by the hundreds and from the top of the bark booth little woolly bears were suspended. Smaller exhibits, a household booth, a "57" corner and the "Good Housekeeping" stand aided in filling the room. A most picturesque affair was the tea room, usually the billiard room of the clubhouse. Ragged chrysanthemums of a delicate shade of lavender adorned the large tea tables and over the lights were the prevailing poppy shades. Lavender-shaded candles with huge bows of lavender ribbon were effective on the mantel shelf, while palms and ferns softened the outlines of the room. The office of the club was transformed into a most attractive candy booth, and the grill room was a veritable corner of the orient. Cigarets of a special make and bearing the Country club monogram; all sorts of tobacco, pipes and cigars were disposed of in this apartment, where the walls and floor were entirely covered with magnificent oriental rugs. The room was dimly lighted with quaint lamps and candles; divans were loaded with pillows and draperies and not the least important were the racks of exquisite kimonas.

An exhibition of moving pictures was carried on by S. Jarvis Adams, Jr., on the circular porch, and in the Egyptian room, on the second floor, Miss Maloney, Miss Ella Maloney, Mrs. William Varker and Mrs. William Wishart told "good" fortunes to all who came their way. The fair, which is one of the most important semi-social events of the season, will be continued today and tomorrow in the interest of the Homeopathic hospital.

Monro-Sinclair.

Mrs. Mannis MacCloskey, wife of Capt. MacCloskey of Fort Worden, Washington, was one of the guests last evening at the wedding of her sister, Miss Alice Monro, and John James Sinclair of Morristown, N. J. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Monro, in Dithridge street, Bellefield, with the Rev. Dr. Edward B. Ward, rector of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, as officiant. Miss May Sinclair, a sister of the bridegroom, and little Miss Grace Monro Scully, a niece of the bride, were maid of honor and flower girl, while A. H. Maginnis, Fred Day of Morristown and George N. Monro, Jr., took their places in the bridal procession as best man and ushers. The bridal robe was an exquisite creation of white messaline satin and point duchesse lace, the lace being one of the wedding gifts. A tulle veil was worn and the bouquet was a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Sinclair wore a gown of white batiste over pink, with a pink silk girdle, and carried Madame Chatenay roses, while little Miss Scully, in a simple frock of white batiste and Valenciennes lace, carried a hat filled with Chatenay rosebuds. Mrs. Monro and Mrs. George W. Sinclair, mother of the bridegroom, received with the bridal couple following the ceremony, both mothers wearing gowns of gray crepe meteor.

It was a beautiful wedding, the decorations displaying the most artistic taste and skill. Boughs of leaves in the golden autumn tints adorned the walls, and at one side of the arch at the foot of the stairway a round basket of ragged white chrysanthemums. Yellow dahlias brightened the library and also formed the centerpiece on the dining-room table, while over the board were scattered sprays of asparagus sprengeri and candy tuft with white baby ribbons. Boston ferns entirely hid the fireplace in the dining-room, where the mantel, banked with pandanus plants, white chrysanthemums and farleyense fern, served as a background for the bridal party. Miss Graham of Baltimore and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Keane of Chicago, with Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sinclair of Morristown, were other out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Sproull-MacGregor.

The Central Reformed Presbyterian church in Allegheny was the scene of an interesting wedding last evening, the bride being Miss Gertrude Sproull, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Sproull, while the bridegroom was Scott Hutton MacGregor. Dr. Sproull solemnized the marriage at 7:30 o'clock, the bridal party including the maid of honor, Miss Myrtle Evens of the East End; the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Watson of Allegheny, and Miss Agnes Black of Sewickley; the best man, H. D. Place; and the ushers, John Wallace Sproull, brother of the bride; Ralph MacMichael of Ben Avon; Samuel Shelly of this city; William R. Kirkpatrick of Lexington, Va.; Robert W. Carper of Gala, Va., and Charles Trumbull of McKeesport. The bride, wearing a dainty lace-trimmed gown of white chiffon with a tulle veil, carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley in shower effect. Ragged white chrysanthemums were carried by Miss Evens, who appeared in a toilette of white, while the maids, each in a frock of white point d'esprit with lavender girdle, carried lavender chrysanthemums to match. Palms, ferns, with lavender chrysanthemums and the usual greenery were used to decorate both the church and the Sproull home in North avenue, Allegheny, where a reception followed the ceremony. At home days have been announced for after December 1 in Bellevue.

College Girls at Bridal Party.

An interesting event will be the marriage of Miss Adele Bushfield Cleavenger to Joseph Wallace Busch of Chicago, which will take place at 8 o'clock Monday evening, October 23, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. D. Cleavenger, in Wilkinsburg. Miss Cleavenger will have as her attendants Miss Margaret Danaher, a classmate at Miss Mason's school, "The Castle," Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, as maid of honor, and Miss Jennie Weaver, also a "Castle" girl; Miss B. Eleanor Carpenter, and Miss Helen Beatty, both Smith college girls, as bridesmaids. Miss Cleavenger has as house guests Miss Danaher of Chicago and Miss Mary Busch of Gladwin, Michigan, a sister of the groom. Mr. Busch is a graduate of the University of Michigan and holds a position with the Westinghouse Company in Chicago. He will have for his best man William Donald Cleavenger, a brother of the bride-elect.

Sands-Ferry.

Very quietly the marriage of Miss Helen Sands and Dr. Herbert Ferry of Drane, Texas, was solemnized yesterday afternoon by the bride's father, the Rev. J. D. Sands, at his home in Roup street, East End. The bride, wearing white mousseline de soie and real lace, and carrying a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, had but one attendant, her sister, Miss Martha Sands. The latter wore a simple gown of soft white material and carried yellow dahlias. These two colors, yellow and white, were carried out with dahlias and chrysanthemums in the decorative scheme. Four o'clock was the hour set for the ceremony, which was witnessed only by the immediate relatives, with a few intimate friends of the bridal couple. After the wedding dinner Dr. and Mrs. Ferry left for the west. They will make their home in Drane.

Anniversary and Housewarming.

The celebration of the first anniversary of her marriage yesterday also served as a housewarming for Mrs. Clarence Van Dyke Tiers' handsome new home in Oakmont. The affair took the form of a tea from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by an evening card party, at which Mr. Tiers also entertained. During the afternoon the hostess was assisted by Mrs. La Rue Tiers, Mrs. Harry S. Paul, Mrs. Clarence P. Tiers, Mrs. Laurens McLure and Mrs. H. Will Alexander, all of whom were in the receiving line, and by Miss Mary Lee Paul, Miss Anna Tiers, Miss Juliet Patterson, Miss Emma Johnston and Miss Ruth Armstrong. Each room was decorated in its own color, red roses being used in the den, pink in the drawing room, red carnations in the dining-room and white chrysanthemums in the hall.

Tupper-Marshall Nuptials.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss May Belle Tupper, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Kerr Boyce Tupper, and Mr. Warren Marshall took place this afternoon in the First Baptist church. Miss Helen Crosby of Grand Rapids, Mich., attended the bride as maid of honor. Henry C. Marshall, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Percy W. Brooks of New York; Leon K. Thomas of Youngstown, O., Horace Baker of Pittsburgh and Frank Boyce Tupper of this city. The bride's father, formerly rector of the church, performed the ceremony. The bride and bridegroom will make Pittsburgh their home.

Connelly-Yarnall.

The Rev. W. P. Strom officiated last evening at the wedding of Miss Maud Connelly and J. A. Yarnall, which took place at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Patterson, in Atlantic avenue, East End. There were no attendants and the ceremony was very quietly performed at 7 o'clock, the bride wearing her traveling gown of dark green broadcloth with a hat to match. Mrs. A. T. Lovett of Philadelphia was the only out-of-town guest. After November 1 Mr. and Mrs. Yarnall will be at home in Butler, where the former is connected with the Standard Steel Car Company.

Wilmarth-Merrill.

At the home of Maj. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, Tenth avenue, Homestead, last evening at 7 o'clock, their niece, Miss Rebecca Wilmarth of Pittsburgh, was married to Mr. Hollis Merrill of Lynn, Mass. There were 50 guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Shultz, assistant rector of Epiphany Church of the Ascension, this city. Mrs. Howard Heath, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Richard Wilmarth, a brother, was best man. A wedding supper followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill will live at St. Marys, Pa.

Montgomery-Young Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Annie Dawson Montgomery of Westminster street, Shadyside, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Joseph C. Montgomery, to John Mason Young of Florida, will take place on Monday evening next. Owing to the recent death of Miss Montgomery's father, only the immediate relatives will be present. After December 1 Mr. Young and his bride will be at home in New York city.

SACRIFICES POST TO PARTY FEALTY

Chief of Philadelphia's Bureau of Street Cleaning Resigns $4,000 Position.

WILL NOT INDORSE WEAVER

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.

Rather than desert the Republican party, in which he has been an active worker for 30 years, Samuel Sutcliffe, chief of the bureau of street cleaning, today resigned his position with its salary of $4,000 a year. Both Mayor Weaver and Director Acker expressed regret.

Not only was Sutcliffe regarded as one of the most efficient bureau chiefs ever in the employ of the city, but his political influence amounts to control in his home ward. For some time his superior officers have been trying to have him support the City party, and they even said they would be satisfied if he would resign from the Republican city committee. This proposition, they believed, until today, he would accept. His reasons, in part, Sutcliffe gives as follows:

"I resigned my place as chief of the bureau of street cleaning only for the reason that I cannot see my way clear to remain a part of an administration as inimical to the Republican party as is Mayor Weaver's. I feel assured I could continue in my position were I disposed to declare publicly my political ideas were along the same lines as those which have been laid down recently by the mayor, but I cannot do that conscientiously and face my friends and neighbors, who know I have boasted of the steadfastness of my Republicanism since my first vote. I cannot mar the record of fealty which includes the continued service of 20 years in the Republican city committee."

Chief Clerk Mehaffey also resigned with his chief.

Senator Penrose and the other Republican leaders are delighted with the success of last night's mass meeting. The crowd and enthusiasm, they say, exceeded their anticipations. Another meeting, in which every ward will send a marching club, will be held October 28.

In political circles the Allegheny bank closing was the topic today. City party leaders say it means the election of Berry as state treasurer, and they are working the incident to the limit. Some go so far as to predict further bank troubles. A panic would be welcomed by the "reformers" if it would defeat the Republican ticket.

A matter apart and entirely disassociated with politics, is the view the Republican leaders take of the Enterprise bank trouble. The state being protected and subject to no loss, they regard the matter as one concerning the management and depositors. Philadelphia has had some important bank failures, notably that of the Keystone, and conservative people are not encouraging the effort to shake public confidence in banking institutions for political effect.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

SENATOR FORAKER ILL AND CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 19.—A letter was received from C. L. Pryor, law partner of Senator Foraker in Cincinnati, at Republican headquarters to the effect that the senator is ill and will be compelled to cancel engagements to speak at Newark tomorrow night and at Coshocton the night after. Senator Foraker believes that he will be able to keep next week's engagements.

Boundary Street Details Known.

Details of the proposed Boundary street boulevard have been arranged by Director Bigelow and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad engineers. It was found to be practicable to connect the street with Fifth avenue at a comparatively easy grade. The filling material for the grade will be taken from a knoll, which will be leveled off, as it is in the way of the proposed new railroad tracks. The new street will follow the curve of the present railroad tracks down to the end of Greenfield avenue.

COSSACKS AGAIN FIRE ON RUSSIAN RIOTERS

Disorders Follow Funerals of Victims of Disturbances—Universities Are Closed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

EKATERINODAR, RUSSIA, Oct. 19.—Disorders were renewed yesterday evening after the funerals of the victims of the disturbance of October 17. The Cossacks again fired on the rioters, wounding a number of villagers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The death of Prince Troubetskoy and the encounter which took place after the funeral have resulted in a suspension of work at the University of Moscow of which the prince was rector. The students refuse to attend lectures until their comrades who were arrested on the day of the funeral are released.

The situation in the University of St. Petersburg is also serious and there is no academic work in progress. The university may be closed at any moment. The universities of Kaben, Dorpat, Tomsk, Odessa and other cities have been closed and a number of secondary schools and professional institutes have suspended work. There is a strong prospect that the entire educational system of the empire will again be paralyzed indefinitely for revolutionary purposes, notwithstanding the granting of autonomy to the universities.

Entertains Coke Producers.

W. C. Magee, president of the Pickands-Magee Coke Company, gave a dinner last evening at Uniontown to those associated with him in the company and a number of other coke operators. Mr. Magee and his party, which included W. L. Brown, C. T. Soynton and H. F. Perkins of Chicago, and H. G. Dalton and Samuel Mather of Cleveland, left Pittsburgh yesterday morning in a special car and will spend the rest of the week on a tour of the coke region.

A Wisconsin live stock man recently testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Chicago that he shipped cattle to Chicago by the way of St. Paul, three hundred miles farther than by a direct line, because it was cheaper that way.

This is but one of the many paradoxes of freight rates which Ray Stannard Baker will explain in his series of papers entitled "The Railroads on Trial," the first number of which, "The Railroad Rate," will be begun in the November McClure's.

ROAD IS UNIQUE FOR ITS ROUTE

Santa Fe Central Runs Through a Territory With Great Possibilities.

MAY BE VALUABLE SOME DAY

The Santa Fe Central railroad bids fair to have a financial history quite as interesting as is the road itself, for among modern railroad lines this 116 miles that stretches from Santa Fe, N. M., to Torrance, in the same territory, is somewhat unique.

According to a Pittsburgher who has spent some time in the vicinity of Santa Fe and who went down over this railway from terminus to terminus in leisurely fashion, the projection and building of the road may be considered one of the most singular and seemingly aimless enterprises that has ever used Eastern capital. Not that the road is wholly a wildcat scheme, for with certain circumstances in conjunction the venture might have proved profitable to the investors, if not largely advantageous in the development of New Mexico. The territory of New Mexico might some day get national aid for irrigation to such an extent that the latent resources of its soil in the southern part of the territory might be developed and great fruit orchards blossom where now there are only white sand fields or alkali mesas. The Rock Island railroad might some day want the Santa Fe Central as a link. So might the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. Additional coal might be found at Moriarty, the site of the present coal mines, and a branch road be built to tap these mines, and so make the Santa Fe Central a necessary iron link in building the industrial resources of a territory that so far has done little to show that her resources are ever to be developed.

Why the Road Is Unique.

Said this Pittsburgher, it is only necessary to understand the situation of the road to comprehend something of the uniqueness of the venture. Its northern terminus is Santa Fe, the capital of New Mexico. Santa Fe has two railroad termini. The narrow-gauge branch of the Denver & Rio Grande ends in this quaint old town, while a branch of the Atchison & Santa Fe runs from Lamy. But Santa Fe is almost as much isolated as if it were in a corner of the world by itself. The big trunk line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe passed it by 18 miles to the south, and the narrow-gauge of the Rio Grande offers no inducement to travel except of local character. From a railroad standpoint Santa Fe was deader than the proverbial door nail before the Santa Fe Central people projected their line. When it was projected it took an almost directly southern course and ran to a point on the open plains where the Rock Island railroad crosses Southern New Mexico. This place was named Torrance, and has a real station, a small cottage, called a hotel, a store and one or two other buildings. Rock Island trains, some of them, stop at Torrance, and within the past year the United States government has given the Rock Island mail contracts that cause most of the eastern mail intended for Santa Fe to go via Torrance and thence by Santa Fe Central. A train leaves Santa Fe each morning and one leaves Torrance at about the same time.

Easily Handle the Business.

These trains are nearly always combination freight and passenger and find no difficulty in doing the business of the road. There are 13 stations, including the termini. The road crosses the A., T. & S. F. at a station called Kennedy, and, entering the canyon below, passes through interesting Indian memories in the shape of figured chalk cliffs. Passing from the canyon the road traverses the open plains over land slightly rolling all the way to Torrance.

There are a number of sheep grazing tracts along the roadway and for this industry there is possibility of great development. Moriarity, as noted above, is the station for the coal mines that have been opened and an excellent quality of coal found. At Estaucia there has been a laudable effort made to promote fruit growing and several prospectively profitable fruit farms are already in existence. It was at Estaucia that the Santa Fe Central people held a fair last year that entered largely into the political discussions that followed during the campaign for congressman-at-large for the territory.

No Link to Albuquerque.

On the map of the Santa Fe Central road there is indicated a line from this road to Albuquerque, but there is no link connecting the road with the progressive city of Southern New Mexico, and the recent promotion of a cut-off by the A., T. & S. F., known as the Balen cut-off, will serve to make useless any project looking to pushing the Santa Fe Central into Albuquerque. It is thus seen that this remarkable road has the unique distinction of starting at a dead town and running through an almost wholly undeveloped country to a town that has so far not been built.

The physical equipment of the road is excellent. Its chief engineer was Allen Gilmore Kennedy, not in any way a relative of Arthur Kennedy, however, and the work was done with rare skill. The track is well laid with heavy T-rails and is smoothly and effectively ballasted. The offices of the road are in Santa Fe, occupying a commodious building on the corner of the famous plaza of that old town. There are neat stations along the line, the one at Santa Fe being used in connection with the Rio Grande.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 last night was 4.5 feet and the river was rising.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—River 7.5 feet and stationary. There were no towboat movements in the local harbor, except those of the boats which are taking care of the landings. The heavy rains of the past 24 hours will serve to hold the stage of the water here for a few days. Many of the rivermen are of the opinion that there will be water enough to ship coal earlier than usual from the Pittsburgh harbor. All of the boats lying along the bank from Cincinnati to points above have been stored with provisions in anticipation of being able to get empties to the harbor for reloading. Cloudy with heavy rains in the morning, and growing colder.

LOUISVILLE—River rising. In canal, 8.7 feet; on falls, 1.5 feet; below locks, 6.9 feet. Cloudy and cool.

MARIETTA—River 5 feet, rising. Rain. Bessie Smith up 9 a. m.; Valley Belle down 9 a. m.

OIL CITY, PA.—River 2 feet 4 inches and rising; clear and warm.

GREENSBORO—River 6.7 feet and rising; rain and cooler. Woodward down Friday, Columbia up.

MORGANTOWN—River 6 feet 4 inches and stationary. Rainy.

STEUBENVILLE—River 5 feet 5 inches and rising. Cloudy and warm.

PT. PLEASANT—River 5 feet 6 inches and rising; heavy rain. Down, Clifton, Tacoma, Kanawha. Towboats getting ready to go below with coal.

GALLIPOLIS—River 7 feet and rising. Cloudy and warm, with rain.

PARKERSBURG—River 6 feet 6 inches and falling; rain all day. The French left at 4 p. m. for Creston. The deed conveying the Little Kanawha river improvements to the United States was placed on record today.

WHEELING—River 5 feet 7 inches and rising. Cloudy and warm, with rain. Departed—H. K. Bedford, Parkersburg, 11 a. m.; Jewel, Newport, 11 a. m.

WARREN—River 1 foot 8 inches. Rain and warm.

RISE IS EXPECTED SOON.

Rainfall of the Past Two Days Has Been General.

Rivermen have little doubt but that there will be a good rise in rivers by Saturday or Sunday. The rain of the past two days has been general, and more of it is forecasted for today. With a general downfall for three days there is little doubt but what some of the large boats will be able to get away by Sunday.

The rise this year is about two weeks early and there is fear that it will not last. A number of the boats are not ready for service and to get them out for possibly one or two trips would be a large expense and the rise at this time is not looked upon with great favor.

Capt. James A. Henderson has been elected chairman of the rivers and harbors committee of the chamber of commerce, vice Capt. John F. Dravo, deceased.

Considerable repairing is being made on all the wharves in the vicinity of Smithfield street. Carpenters and painters are hard at work getting things in shape for the coming winter.

STOCKS WELL SUPPORTED ON THE EARLY DECLINE

In the Afternoon the Whole Market Rallied and Closed Higher—Pittsburgh Stocks Dull and With Few Exceptions Declined.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The tone of the New York market at the opening yesterday was weak, and nearly everything on the list declined. A conspicuous feature of the early dealings was the heavy liquidation by two houses which have recently been prominent buyers. This liquidation, however, was well taken, as was also the moderate selling of stocks by London. After a period of hesitation the market became firm in the afternoon, made a good rally, and with few exceptions closed higher. The sales for the day exceeded 750,000 shares.

Before the market opened Wall street was somewhat relieved by the receipt of cables announcing that the governors of the Bank of England had permitted the rate of discount to remain unchanged. There had been some expectations that the rate would be raised, and this was a factor in the weakness in the market on Wednesday. The weekly report of the English bank showed an increase of $5,400,000 in reserve, an increase of nearly $6,500,000 in loans, and a slight increase in the percentage of reserve to liabilities, which now stands at 43.21 per cent, compared with 41.47 per cent a week ago. The changes in the statement of the Bank of France were not particularly important, the loss in gold for the week being less than $1,000,000. Foreign money markets, however, were reported firm, and while the call loan rate in Wall street was slightly easier, time loans were firm.

United States Steel withstood the heavy liquidation of the early part of the session and finally closed steady to firm, the preferred at an advance of ¼ per cent. Confirmation was made to the report printed in this column several days ago of the purchase by the corporation of an additional block of pig iron, the price of $16 a ton being an advance of 50 cents over recent sales and the highest of the year. Republic Iron and Steel preferred advanced to 97, a new high price for the year, and the common advanced to 25⅞. Both reacted slightly in the late trading, but closed ⅝ higher for the day. It was announced that the matter of liquidating the accumulated dividends on the preferred stock had been referred to the new executive committee with power to act. Tennessee Coal and Iron closed 1 per cent higher.

The railroad equipment stocks were notably active under the leadership of American Car and Foundry, which advanced to and closed at 41⅜, a net gain of 3⅜ per cent. There was less activity in American Locomotive, and that stock closed at a slight decline.

Amalgamated Copper was one of the weak stocks at the opening and declined to 83½. Later it rallied to 84⅝, but closed lower at 84⅛. All rumors regarding the dividend were set at rest by the directors declaring the usual quarterly 1¼ per cent. American Smelting closed 1 per cent higher at 127¾, after opening at 125⅞, which was the low point of the day.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit was one of the most active and at the same time the strongest member of its group. It opened at 71⅞ and on heavy buying advanced to 74, the highest of the year, closing at 73⅞. There were rumors of Pennsylvania buying of the stock, possibly based upon the fact that large orders came from Philadelphia; but another story was that a prominent room trader, who had concluded a successful campaign in Locomotive, had turned his attention to the traction stock.

The Harriman stocks were the strongest of the railroads. Union Pacific closed ⅞ higher and Southern Pacific 1¼ higher. The Pennsylvania group closed ¼ to ½ higher. The only prominent railroad stock to close lower was Rock Island, which scored a net loss of ⅛ per cent.

The action of the Pittsburgh stock market demonstrated that the closing of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny City had no disturbing effect upon securities. It was stated by the comptroller of the currency at Washington and this statement was reiterated by some of the most prominent local bankers—that no other national bank will be affected by the suspension of the Enterprise National. The dealings on the Pittsburgh exchange were smaller, but while in the majority of cases stocks closed lower, the losses were confined to small fractions. The largest decline was ⅝ in National Fire Proofing preferred, which sold down to 21⅜, or within a fraction of the low point of last week. Crucible Steel issues were only ¼ lower. Pittsburgh Brewing common was fairly active and closed ½ higher. Westinghouse Electric closed ¼ higher at 85½. The strongest stock was Lustre Mining, which advanced to and closed at 36¼, a gain of 1⅛. The natural gas stocks were steady and unchanged.

In the banking department small lots of Cosmopolitan National sold at 115 to 120, the latter an advance of 5 per cent. Safe Deposit and Trust was unchanged at 400.

Bonds were firmer. Pittsburgh Brewing 6s selling at 112½ and River Coal 6s at 109¾, an advance of ½ per cent in each case.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
The bank suspension caused no flurry in the stock market.	Stock market opened weak and lower, but recovered and closed firm.
Prices held steady or closed only small fractions lower.	Brooklyn Rapid Transit advanced to the highest of the year.
National Fire Proofing preferred declined to and closed at 21⅜.	American Car & Foundry and Republic Steel strong and higher.
Lustre Mining advanced to and closed at 36¼.	Regular dividend on Amalgamated Copper and the stock closed lower.
Cosmopolitan National closed 5 points higher at 120.	Sales included 733,700 shares stock and $2,450,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The prominence given the alleged political significance of the suspension of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny has completely overshadowed any financial importance it may have had. From present indications, the monetary loss to stockholders at least will equal, if it does not exceed, that involved in the bank suspensions of two years ago, but whereas the latter event caused a great convulsion in the stock market, the present suspension has caused scarcely a ripple. General financial and stock market conditions now, however, are so strikingly different from what they were two years ago that it is not surprising Fourth avenue takes the suspension with comparative indifference. There has been no overspeculation in the local market and prices are low by comparison with those current in other markets. Besides, the troubles of the Enterprise National are well understood to be special, and do not apply to other financial institutions. Assurance to this effect was given by the comptroller of the currency yesterday in Washington, and his judgment in this connection is affirmed by local bankers of prominence thoroughly conversant with the situation.

The reorganization of the Republic Steel board of directors was regarded as a promise of aggressive policy by that corporation. S. G. Cooper, Pittsburgh was elected president in the place of A. W. Thompson and Charles S. Guthrie chairman in place of G. Watson French. The following executive committee was appointed: S. G. Cooper, Charles S. Guthrie, Grant B. Schley, L. C. Hanna and W. Gates. The matter of providing for payment of accumulated back dividends was placed by the board in the hands of this executive committee, with instructions to report at a future meeting of the full board. Ex-President Thompson will serve his term as a classified director.

Mr. Lawson's "copper crash" missed connections yesterday, and his professed "official information" of an increase in Amalgamated's dividend was disproved by the action of the directors in declaring the old rate. Mr. Lawson has heretofore been credited with great proficiency in reading the tape, but he has made as many "misses" lately as any other fake tipster.

The market for Luster Mining is very narrow, and the price is easily affected when a genuine market order is executed. On transactions of 850 shares yesterday the stock jumped from 35 to 36¼. Mail advices from the mine have been received this week which are said to be more brilliant than any yet received. The other listed mining stocks were unusually quiet and closed unchanged. In the curb market Golden Anchor was quoted at 50c bid, 70c asked, and Oriental and Masbate was offered at 50c. Sales were reported of 200 shares Golden Anchor at 90c and 2,000 shares Black Hills Copper at 30c.

Lawrence & Co. was a seller of National Fire Proofing preferred and $16,000 River Coal 6s at 109½, the latter an advance of ½ per cent.

The statement of earnings and expenses of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, exclusive of the controlled and affiliated lines, for the month of September, 1905, as compared with the corresponding month of 1904, shows: Gross earnings, 1905, $2,547,806; 1904, $2,048,760; increase, $499,046. Expenses, 1905, $1,922,453; 1904, $1,536,290; increase, $386,154. Net earnings, 1905, $625,353; 1904, $512,469; increase, $112,892. For the three months ending September 30, compared with the same period last year. Gross earnings, 1905, $18,714,722; 1904, $17,192,674; increase, $1,521,068. Expenses, 1905, $11,712,479; 1904, $10,442,069; increase, $1,270,805. Net earnings, 1905, $7,002,350; 1904, $6,751,585; increase, $250,765.

Charles A. Painter, president of the Pittsburgh stock exchange, who returned from New York yesterday, says the "big men" in Wall street are still confident that the stock market is all right, that there will be no serious decline from the present level, and that the New York money market is being relieved by loans made by western banks. The high rates in the east attracting money from the rest of the country.

The Standard Sanitary and Manufacturing Company has declared a dividend of 1 per cent on the common stock. The directors meet October 31, when action will be taken on the dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock.

Reports of traffic blockades on the railroads, both in the grain regions and in the iron and steel industrial centers, and the resulting urgent demand for additional railroad equipment, helped the railroad equipment stocks and the independent iron and steel industrials generally.

Amalgamated Copper was rather quiet, but was inclined to heaviness on the failure to advance the dividend rate, as there had been some buying of the stock in the expectation of an increase.

The presence in New York yesterday of the secretary of the treasury gave rise to the usual discussion of the likelihood of government measures for the benefit of the money market.

The Pocahontas Collieries Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on its preferred stock, payable November 1 to holders of record October 28.

There was some selling of stocks this week on a professed apprehension of the effect of the president's remarks at Raleigh on the subject of railroad rate legislation. The publication of the text of the address yesterday was followed by some demand from the short account.

More than half the capital stock of Locomotive common changed hands on the New York exchange in the three days this week, which is proof of the speculative character of the dealings.

The annual report of the Mergenthaler Linotype Company for the fiscal year ended September 30 last shows: Gross receipts from sale of machines, $2,436,573; from miscellaneous machines sold, $25,975; from miscellaneous supplies sold, $280,236; from rental of linotype machines, $497,452, and from interest, $163,685. The net gain from all sources was $3,204,529, against $2,883,256 in the previous year, a decrease of $178,776. The number of machines sold was 868, against 839 in the previous year. The number of machines leased was 447.

The net earnings of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, owned by the United States Steel Corporation, are expected to approximate $2,400,000 for the calendar year ending December 31. This will be an increase of more than 12 per cent over 1904 and of 55.48 per cent over 1901, when the Steel Corporation was formed. This year the iron ore hauled by the Bessemer & Lake Erie will probably exceed 5,000,000 tons, a clear gain of about 1,000,000 tons over 1904 and more than that over any previous year in the road's history. The increase in ore is due to the present prosperity in iron and steel and the tremendous demand for raw materials by the blast furnaces.

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Money was in good demand in the market today and supplies were growing scarcer. Discounts were maintained. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet. Home rails mostly had a better tone on satisfactory traffic returns. Americans opened dull on New York selling. The movements were erratic. Prices ruled a shade above parity. The transactions were meager and the market weakened later owing to lack of local support, and closed flat, with some stocks a shade above the lowest quotations of the day. Canadian Pacific fluctuated and improved a fraction at the close. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 161⅜. Consols for money, 85⅛; consols for account, 85⅛. PUBLIC IS UNINTERESTED IN IRREGULAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Stocks were irregular yesterday, in a market which showed some increase in the volume of business, but none whatever in the general character of the trading, except for the shifting of some activities into the class of specialties. Commission houses were practically unanimous that there was little or no public participation in the market, which was confirmed by the concentration of activities upon a limited number of issues.

Speculative sentiment was still decidedly mixed, but a little less bearishly inclined than on the preceding day in consequence, probably, of the fact that none of the unfavorable rumors which were conjured up the preceding day materialized in an unpleasant way. The recovery in the market was due to moderate short covering, forced by the aggressive tactics of the bull contingent in bidding up the specialties. Prices as a rule sold a shade under the best at the close, with some specific late weakness in Rock Island.

There was far less in the way of news or rumor than on the preceding day, and none of the rumors of the preceding day materialized in disagreeable fashion. As is well known, the chief disturbing feature of the preceding day's close was the report that the president's speech on railway rate supervision by the interstate commerce commission, would be a severe arraignment of these corporations. It had been held in some quarters that Mr. Roosevelt would urge an investigation of railroads similar to that of insurance companies. The only point which in any remote degree bore upon such a thing was found in these words:

"I wish the commission to have power as a matter of right, not as a matter of favor, to make a full and exhaustive investigation of receipts and expenditures of the railroads, so that any violation or evasion of the law may be detected."

This does not suggest any inquisitorial investigation, and so the street breathed easier.

COKE PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE FOR THE WEEK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 19.—There was a slight increase in production and shipments in both the Connellsville and Masontown coke regions the last week. The car supply, though short of the region's requirements, has been better than was anticipated.

A summary of the Connellsville region for the week ending October 14, shows a total of 23,235 ovens, of which 17,776 are in operation. The week's production amounted to 268,575 tons, an increase over the previous week of 11,240 tons.

The shipments aggregated 11,570 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 4,350 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 6,115 cars, east of Pittsburgh, 1,249 cars. The shipments amount to 267,292 tons, an increase of 1,035 tons over the week previous.

The Masontown shipments aggregated 2,462 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 246 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 2,077 cars; east of Everson, 139 cars. These shipments are estimated at 68,776 tons, an increase of 70 tons over the previous week.

GOOD CONTRACT MADE FOR RENTS

Avey & Irish Get Exclusive Agency for Handling All the Wabash Buildings.

EAST END GETTING BUSY

Avey & Irish yesterday captured one of the big plums of the year in the renting business, by getting the exclusive agency for all the Pittsburgh properties of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Company. The contract is for five years, dating from October 15, and was authorized by President E. A. Delano. Included in the properties to be handled are four entire floors of the new Wabash station, each of which has 12,500 square feet of floor space, as well as several other large office rooms on the other floors which are not at present occupied by the Wabash. There will also be 14 new warehouses under the elevated tracks in Ferry street, between First and Third avenues. These warehouses will be provided with grain chutes and individual freight elevators, and in that locality should be rented very readily. As stated in The Gazette last week, none of them will be rented to produce commission houses, because the Wabash cannot provide cellars for them and because of the offensive odors. There will also be two-story brick stores and warehouses provided under the Wabash elevated tracks between Liberty avenue and Duquesne way. The one fronting in Liberty avenue will be 22 feet wide. Those facing in Penn avenue will be 48 and 20 feet wide, respectively, the distance from Penn avenue to Duquesne way is 420 feet, and in addition to this strip there is an L, 100x80 feet, running out to Fourth street, all of which will be provided with new buildings underneath the tracks. The buildings will all be finished by April 1 and will afford first-class modern buildings for a large number of business firms. Avey & Irish make a specialty of downtown renting, and although they have been in business less than a year, they have lined up some large renting contracts.

Three Good East End Sales.

Through the office of Woods & Coleman, H. Schneideman has purchased from D. H. Wallace the property at 2226 and 2228 Shady avenue, East End, for $25,000. They consist of two modern 10-room brick houses on lots 30x105 feet each, facing on the west side of Shady avenue, near Alder street, Twentieth ward. The houses are rented for $150 a month, and were secured for an investment.

J. W. Sherrer, the East End broker, has bought from Samuel W. Crosby a double-brick house on the north side of Broad street, near Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $22,000. The lot is 48x109 feet and is almost in the rear of the property of the East End Savings and Trust Company at Penn and Sheridan avenues, which is a two-story brick dwelling and are now rented for $90 a month. Mr. Sherrer takes the property for an investment, as it is near the center of the East Liberty district, where values are advancing rapidly.

Through the office of S. H. Lloyd, George W. McClure has bought from Julius Fleisher 6412 Penn avenue, between Shields avenue and Putman street, for $15,000. It is nearly opposite the holdings of the Consolidated Ice Company, and consists of a large brick house on 30x198 feet. The property was formerly owned by the heirs of Margaret M. Cowley, and was sold through the same agency to Mr. Fleischer.

Good Buy in Wilkinsburg.

The Wilkinsburg Real Estate and Trust Company through the office of George Brothers has sold to the Realty Corporation of Pittsburgh the Montgomery property, at 820-822 Penn avenue, near Center street, Second ward, Wilkinsburg, for a price approximating $35,000. The building is a substantial four-story brick structure on 67.5x132 feet. It contains two good store rooms and six flats of five rooms and bath each, and brings in a total revenue of $3,180 a year. The purchase was made for an investment.

Through the office of W. L. Scott & Co., C. H. Bowman has sold to W. H. Stitt four houses at 1005-1011 Manhattan street, at the corner of Page street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, for $15,000. The houses are six-room brick dwellings, well rented, and each on 20x80 feet.

George C. Norris & Co. has sold for Charles Cunningham to A. Sherrer four six-room brick houses at 1931-1937 Webster avenue, Eleventh ward, for $10,200. They occupy a site facing 61 feet in Webster avenue, and 66 feet in Devillers street, and are rented for $82 a month.

Idlewood Is Making Rapid Strides.

Idlewood, the new Third ward of Crafton, is taking on airs at a rate that will soon make it fully as pretentious as the older and more improved part of the pretty borough. Two years ago, when it was taken into the borough, it was practically vacant. Now there are at least 75 houses in the ward and nearly a score are under way. Most of these are dwellings that will cost $4,000 or more each. Two first-class flat buildings will also be completed soon. One of them is a $20,000 building in Emily street extension and the other is the Dunning flats in Noble avenue, near Crafton avenue, which cost about $18,000. These are the first flats in Crafton and the fact that they are rented away in advance shows the demand for buildings of that kind there. The work of sewering the Third ward, which was started over a year ago, is nearly completed. Most of the streets are graded and petitions are now being circulated, it is said, for paving the main streets, which are 40 and 50 feet wide. This done, Idlewood will offer to home-seekers one of the most attractive localities in the Crafton valley. The most pretentious building in the ward, the Presbyterian church, is now up to the roof. It will cost $50,000 and will face in Crafton avenue, between Station street and Noble avenue.

SUGAR IS SCHEDULED TO DROP TEN POINTS

Lowest Price for Some Months Will Be Reached—Florida Oranges on Market.

Today will see a drop of ten points in sugar. This will bring it down to the lowest point it has been in some months. The quotations given out yesterday place standard granulated at 4.80. It is possible another drop will occur before many days.

Florida oranges made their appearance in the market yesterday and sold from $3 25 to $3 50. Late valencias are not to be had now at any price. Other fruits were steady and no change in price was noted.

Potatoes made no advance yesterday and can still be bought for from 70 to 75 cents. There was no change in apples during the day.

Chestnuts are at the height of their season although the market does not seem to be overloaded with this nut, and good ones appear to be scarce.

There has been no change in the price of cheese for several days with the exception of limberger, which had an advance on Tuesday. Good cream cheese sells for about 13 cents and finds a good market.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 36 cars hay, 32 cars oats, 2 cars straw, 10 cars feed, 2 cars rye. Baltimore & Ohio, 4 cars hay. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars hay, 1 car rye.

The market was strong in all lines while receipts of oats were heavier than usual, yet arrivals were soon picked up and the market closed firm and active. Corn arrivals are not equal to the demand, hence a scarcity is noted for the same. Hay continues in good demand and as was noted yesterday, clover and clover mixed hay are badly wanted. The season for pasture is over and it is necessary to buy feed for cows. Straw continues in demand.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The Lake Superior and Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh and Duluth are smelting 250 tons a day at their new smelter. Ore from the Lake Superior and Pittsburgh is running 22 per cent copper.

Cripple Creek's new drainage tunnel, by which the camp will be drained to a depth of over 3,000 feet, and will permit the marketing of enormous bodies of low grade ore from a great depth, seems now assured with the publication of the report of Engineer D. W. Brunton, who was selected by the principal owners of the great properties in the district to decide on the most feasible plan of three submitted. In his exhaustive report Mr. Brunton comes to the conclusion that the tunnel should be driven from below Window Rock, extending from that eastern portion of the camp to the Vindicator tunnel, about three miles. He estimates that the driving of the tunnel would require 1,164 days, or three and one-fifth years. The portal elevation would be 7,600 feet; depth below Cripple Creek tunnel, 1,130 feet; distance to El Paso shaft, 17,720 feet; distance to main water channel, 18,200 feet; distance from portal to tunnel shaft, 12,600 feet; depth of tunnel shaft, 1,150 feet; cost, $100,000; depth gained, 1,000 feet; cost per vertical foot of depth drained, $468.

Work at the Sunset mine, belonging to the Sunset company of Glens Falls, N. Y., at Index, Wash., has been resumed. W. W. Black, its western director and manager, is in charge. The company expects to drive the tunnel to cut the Copper King vein, and build a concentrator.

Try to Increase the Production With Doses of High Explosive

Nothing better than light pumpers were drilled in the lower southwest fields. In an effort to increase the production of the old wells shooting is now the order in nearly all fields, in most instances the production is temporarily increased. In the Manningion district, Marion county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled down No. 2 on the H. F. Haught farm, and the first 18 hours after it was drilled into the fourth pay sand, produced 75 barrels. This was formerly an old producer in the Big Injun. In the Fairview district, same county, the South Penn company has drilled its No. 7 on the Haught-Walker farm through all sands and has a duster. It will be abandoned.

In the Fallen Timber Run district, near Smithfield, Wetzel county, the Parker & Edwards Oil Company has drilled its No. 5, an old well, on the Jack Francis farm, through the Gordon, and has a duster. The same company's No. 1 on the D. B. Fisher farm is still producing 150 barrels a day from the Big Injun. In the Palace district the South Penn Oil Company has shot No. 8 on the Genine Robinson tract, and it responded with a production of 92 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. Near Smithfield the same company has drilled its No. 15 on the Fairfield Peterson farm 24 feet into the stray, and has developed no oil or gas. The same company has shot its No. 1 on the Mary Stapleton farm and increased its production to 45 barrels a day. In the Garner district, Marshall county, the same company gave its No. 3 on the Wylie-Allen farm a shot and it failed to respond.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn company's No. 2 on the Lloyd Randolph farm is holding up at 40 barrels a day, and on Rock Camp run, Judge Goff's No. 40 is producing 75 barrels a day. On Sugar creek, Meade district, Tyler county, Ellsworth, Davis & Tress' No. 5 on the B. L. Bullman farm is still producing 100 barrels a day. The Melrose Oil and Gas Company's No. 1 on the A. D. Arnett farm is producing 75 barrels a day.

On the Ohio side, on Leith run, Washington county, C. C. Stover has drilled in a very good producer in old territory. Wells starting at 100 barrels a day have been so few and far between on the Ohio side that one of that magnitude attracts attention, even though it does not open up any new producing territory. The new strike was made Wednesday evening when C. C. Stover drilled his No. 4 on the McMahon farm into the Maxon sand and it began to flow at the rate of five barrels an hour, and is rated as good for 100 barrels a day. In the Cow Run district, same county, the Gray Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Morgan farm through the Big Injun and has a duster. C. W. Van Law has completed No. 18 on the George Myers farm, and has a very light pumper. Bauser & Wilson have completed No. 21 on the Ellwood Yarnell farm, and have a five-barrel pumper. The Heasley Oil Company has completed a test on the Edward Parker farm, and has a very light pumper, not good for more than two barrels a day. Bailey & Co. have drilled their test on the Samuel Miller farm through the shallow sand and have a duster. In the Wolf Creek district, in Washington county, J. J. Lorenze & Co. have completed No. 14 on the Lida M. Palmer farm, and have a shoe for a 12-barrel pumper in the shallow sand.

In the Macksburg field, J. F. Ward & Co. have completed No. 13 on the C. Schimmel farm and have a five-barrel pumper in the Buels Run sand. In the Marietta district, in the same county, Briggs & Co. have drilled a test on the Henning farm through the sand and have a very light show of oil. After shot it may make a two-barrel pumper.

The Independence (Kan.) Daily Reporter is compiling information for a special oil and gas edition (magazine form) to be issued in a short time, giving a complete and authentic history of the Kansas-Indian territory oil field. This will be the most comprehensive story of the mid-continent oil field yet published, and the only thing of its kind in print.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The weather was a depressing influence in the drygoods market today, both at first and second hands. The comparative apathy displayed by buyers had no influence upon prices, which were held very steadily, owing principally to the sold-ahead condition of the majority of lines.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5 points and soon increased the decline to a matter of 10@15 points under liquidation of nearby longs, somewhat disappointing European cables and favorable weather reports from Brazil. There was some support from trade interests at the decline, but the market developed no rallying power and closed steady at a decline of 10@15 points. Sales were reported of 64,750 bags, including October at 6.60c; November, 6.60c; December, 6.65@6.75c; February, 6.95c; March, 6.90@7.05c; April, 7.15c; May, 7.10@7.20c; July, 7.25@7.30c; September, 7.40c; spot Rio quiet; No. 7 invoice, 8¼c; mild quiet; Cordova, 10@13c. Sugar—Raw quiet; fair refining, 3c; centrifugal, 96 degrees test, 3⅝c; molasses sugar, 2¾c; refined quiet.

PENNSYLVANIA DIRECTORS HERE

President Cassatt and Official Party Inspect Lines and Terminals of System.

PASSENGER OFFICERS TO MEET

President A. J. Cassatt and the directors and officers of the Pennsylvania system spent yesterday afternoon and last night in Pittsburgh, this being a portion of the annual inspection of the system. The party had spent the time from Monday until yesterday afternoon in an inspection of the company's lines west of Pittsburgh. After their arrival at Pittsburgh yesterday attention was paid to the terminal improvements in this vicinity. The special train, in which the officers spent the night, was at Shadyside station. This morning at 8 o'clock the president, directors and officers of the lines east will start for Philadelphia, spending the entire day in an inspection of the main line.

One of the particular points of interest to President Cassatt and the directors was the new Duquesne freight station work at the Point. After their arrival here they rode in carriages to the Point, where the site of the station was inspected. They returned along Duquesne way and looked over the Duquesne way elevated line. This is Mr. Cassatt's first inspection of the work since it was started. Another point of interest was the Scully yard, which has just been opened for service. The party made a trip over the Monongahela division terminal line and also over the Brilliant branch. Attention was paid to the work in Allegheny and the proposed improvements at Sharpsburg, where the company will build a yard.

Second Vice President Charles E. Pugh of the Pennsylvania railroad said that the work is going on nicely on the Pennsylvania system, but that no work of large proportions is being considered here for next year. The extension of the Monongahela division along the Monongahela river above Brownsville is proceeding nicely. Work that has been approved and upon which some construction has been done on this division will probably go ahead next year, including the extension of the Shire Oaks yard. A new freight station will be built at Homestead. On the West Penn division about six miles of second track will be added shortly. The company will build a yard at Sharpsburg to care for the traffic of that immediate district. On the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley division double track was placed into service last Sunday between Red Bank and Phillipston station.

In the special train, which was in charge of George F. Ege, the well-known Pullman conductor of the Pennsylvania limited, who has had charge of similar trains for several years, were the following: President Cassatt, Directors N. Parker Shortridge, George Wood, C. Stuart Patterson, Lincoln Godfrey and T. DeWitt Cuyler, Vice Presidents John G. Green, Samuel Rea and Henry Tatnall, Secretary Lewis Neilson and Chief Engineer W. H. Brown of the Pennsylvania railroad; Vice Presidents James McCrea, Joseph Wood, I. J. Turner and E. B. Taylor, General Manager G. L. Peck, Chief Engineer Thomas Rodd and Secretary S. B. Liggett of the lines west. General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer accompanied the party over the northwest system and General Superintendent R. E. McCarty over the southwest system, while the division superintendents and engineers of maintenance of way accompanied the party over their respective divisions. The Pennsylvania railroad party will be accompanied east this morning by First Vice President McCrea of the Pennsylvania lines west, who is a director of the Pennsylvania railroad, resident assistant to the president, Robert Pitcairn, and by Second Vice President Pugh, Fourth Vice President J. B. Thayer, General Manager Atterbury, General Superintendent G. W. Creighton, Superintendent S. C. Long and Assistant Engineer G. W. Snyder of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Bridge People See P. & L. E. Shops.

The visiting superintendents of bridges and buildings, who have been here this week attending the annual convention of the Association of Railway Superintendents of Bridges and Buildings, enjoyed a visit to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie shops at McKees Rocks yesterday afternoon, and last evening the entire party took a boatride on the three rivers. The women were entertained at luncheon by the Patterson-Sargent Company, special trolley cars taking the party to Bellefield. The visitors will spend today in a trip over the Pennsylvania terminals here, and a reception will be held at the Monongahela house this evening.

At the concluding business session yesterday morning Boston was selected as the place for the next convention. The officers were elected as given in The Gazette yesterday morning, with the exception that A. E. Killam of the Intercolonial railway was chosen an executive member instead of G. Aldrich of the New Haven road.

Passenger Men to Meet Next Week.

The semi-annual meeting of the Association of Passenger Representatives of the Pennsylvania system will be held at the Hotel Schenley in this city next Friday. The last meeting of the association was held in Chicago last spring. The passenger traffic managers and the entire staff of passenger representatives down to and including the division and district passenger agents will attend.

J. B. Thayer, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, was given a welcome by the freight traffic officers of the Pennsylvania system at the Union station yesterday in honor of his recent advancement to the head of the department. He gave a brief address. The former officers were re-elected, D. T. McCabe as president, George D. Dixon as vice president and Charles D. Gaunt as secretary. The traffic men had an enjoyable meeting. The next meeting will be in Philadelphia next October.

Old Sweeper Passes Away.

Edward Gaughan, whose name was known to few people but whose appearance was known to thousands from his having swept the steps and walks of the Union station for possibly 20 years, was found dead in bed at his home in the Hill district Wednesday morning. Gaughan was an Irishman and enjoyed a joke or good yarn as well as an Irishman can. He worked in all kinds of weather and kept his portion of the station premises clean while he was on duty during the day hours.

H. C. Frick Is Re-Elected.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Stockholders of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company held their annual meeting here today. Among those present were: James C. Fargo, New York; H. C. Frick, Pittsburgh; Daniel P. Kimball and Oliver Ames, Boston, and Zenas Crane, Dalton, Mass. The meeting re-elected six directors whose terms had expired. The present executive officers were all re-elected.

Railroad Notes.

Maurice Coburn, engineer maintenance of way of the Vandalia at Terre Haute, was in the city.

The fall schedule meeting of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway will be held at Rochester next Monday.

William Sinram, the veteran baggage master of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh division, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the West Penn hospital, is reported to be improving.

The coal and coke shipments of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie for the week ended October 14 amounted to 949,780 tons—642,381 tons of bituminous coal, 223,901 tons of coke and 83,618 tons of anthracite.

W. L. Garland, inspector of passenger equipment of the Pennsylvania at Altoona, has been appointed general foreman of the West Philadelphia car shops as successor to his father, Richard T. Garland, who was killed in the recent wreck at Paoli.

The American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents will meet next year at Atlantic City. A. J. Smith was elected president and C. L. Stone vice president, and A. J. Burne was named official orator. C. M. Burt was re-elected secretary.

President A. G. Yates of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railway, accompanied by friends, left here for Rochester yesterday morning after having spent the night here. Mr. Yates confirmed the previously announced lease of the company's line from Dubois to Clearfield to the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Surgeons association held its regular meeting in the terminal building yesterday afternoon. Dr. J. W. McFarlane presented a paper on "The Invisible Railway Injury." A general discussion was held on "Testimony of Company Surgeons in Railway Damage Suits and Its Effect Upon the Jury." The discussion was opened by Dr. J. H. Allen. Reports were made by the delegates who were present at the American Association of Railway Surgeons.

City Plumbers' Strike Over.

The strike of the plumbers who were setting water meters for the city is about over, and most of the men are back at work. Controller Larkin had announced that he would stop the setting of meters, on the ground that the money available must first be used for water extension, and about the City hall men are wondering what the controller will do, after he is convinced that Director Bigelow proposes to have the 3,000 remaining meters installed.

SOPHIA SCOTT IS ACQUITTED

Former Pupil of Booker T. Washington is Adjudged Not Guilty of Murder.

SHERADEN SUITS ARE SETTLED

Booker T. Washington and the Tuskegee institute were vindicated in the criminal court yesterday when Sophia Scott, a 15-year-old negress, was acquitted of the murder of her stepfather, Grant Scott, at Leetsdale. The man was shot dead one evening at his home, while both he and the girl were asleep. Sophia never varied from her story that she was awakened by the shot and saw a man leaving the house. Later she found her stepfather had been killed. The defense contented itself with proving the good character of the girl and that her relations with the dead man were of the most filial nature. It was shown that she is better educated than the ordinary girl of her class and color. She is a graduate of the Avery school in Allegheny, of a private school for colored children in Pittsburgh, and of the Tuskegee institute. Arrangements had also been made to send her to Wilberforce university, Ohio. The case was given to the jury at 3:20 o'clock and the court took a recess until 5 p. m. When court reconvened the jury was ready with its verdict of acquittal.

After being out over 25 hours the jury in the case of Frank Hamilton and Charles Aukson, charged with passing counterfeit dollars, appeared in the United States circuit court yesterday afternoon and announced that they could not agree and were discharged. It was decided to retry the men at the next session of court.

The grand jury in the United States district court returned true bills yesterday against John Lewis, who is at present serving a term in the Riverside penitentiary. He is charged with making molds used in counterfeiting and engraving bank note plates.

An estate of $75,000 left by Benjamin Masseth of Butler was the basis for two arguments before the supreme court yesterday. Masseth died in 1903, leaving a will giving part of his money to a woman with whom he had lived, provided she could prove that she was his wife. The will was attacked on the ground that it was made just after the man had undergone an operation and immediately before death, and a former will was held to be more equitable. This case was lost in the Butler courts. Meanwhile the reported Mrs. Masseth compromised her claim for $12,000, and died shortly after, leaving her estate to friends, with the exception of $5,000 given to the family of her sister, Mrs. Margaret F. Campbell of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Campbell attempted to break the will on the ground of testamentary incapacity and undue influence. She lost her case in Butler and both are being argued before the supreme court.

A verdict of $8,000 was returned yesterday by the jury in the suit of J. J. Wallace against the Panhandle railroad for alleged damages growing out of the Sheraden disaster. In a previous trial Wallace was given a verdict of $10,000. Following this, verdicts were taken by agreement in the cases of Lucy Bovle for herself and her children, Leora and Exil, also alleged victims of the Sheraden disaster. The verdicts total $10,000. Louise B. Watson of Allegheny entered suit against the Pittsburgh Steeplechase Company for $20,000 damages because of injuries alleged to have been received while riding in the miniature railroad in Kennywood park.

Executions issued: Charles A. Robb executor, vs. Daniel W. Wylie, $4,704; D. Wilson Sarver, use, vs. George Ferguson, $5,565; Winifred K. Bedell, use, vs. Thomas R. McKenna, deceased, etc., $1,144; J. H. Sorg vs. William M. Ewing, administrator, $396; Dollar Savings bank vs. Charles A. Northup et ux., $2,024; William Frazier vs. Richard S. Miller, $416; Merchants Land Company vs. L. E. Umstead, $3,272.

"The Call of the Wild."

Those interested in a place to go hunting this fall should write for a copy of "Haunts of Fish and Game," a publication issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System, telling where all kinds of game may be found, list of game laws, descriptive matter regarding the several hunting districts, maps, etc., sent free to any address on application to W. Robinson, Traveling Passenger Agent, 506 Park Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BUT FOUND STRENGTH IN DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Used After the Grip and Wasting Fevers They Make New Blood And Good Health Follows.

The evil effects that follow many diseases—particularly the grip and the wasting fevers, such as typhoid and malaria, are caused by the bad condition in which these diseases leave the blood. As a result, the flesh continues to fall away, the sufferer grows nervous and irritable, and even slight exertion causes shortness of breath. These are dangerous symptoms and indicate that the system is in a state that invites pneumonia, bronchitis or even consumption. What is needed is a new supply of rich, red blood to carry health and strength to every part of the body. Such a specific has been found and in hundreds of cases it has been proven that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have accomplished this result.

"I was all run down from the effects of the grip," said Mrs. Amelia Hall of No. 5 Hight street, Norwich, Conn., "and could not seem to get strength to walk; could not eat a full meal, my stomach was so weak, and I was so nervous that I could not sleep. I could only stay in bed a few minutes at a time, either night or day. The least little thing would startle me. I had difficulty in breathing, had frequent fainting spells and felt that every hour would be my last.

"My general health was completely wrecked and I had neuralgic and rheumatic pains, dyspepsia, constipation and female weakness. My physician attended me for the grip and again for the condition that it left me in, but I got no strength from the tonics he prescribed. In fact, nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they cured me.

"I grew stronger and gained flesh from the time I began taking them. I am satisfied that the pills are all that is claimed for them and I shall always do all I can to make their good qualities known."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured Mrs. Hall because they actually make new blood. In the same way, they strike straight at the cause of many diseases like rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, stomach trouble, debility, spinal weakness and the secret sufferings that only a woman knows. But, of course, imitations or substitutes can't cure you. You must get the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. An Open Letter to John A. McCall President New York Life Insurance Company

Every man who is now denying himself luxuries, comforts and even necessities, in order that, after his death, his family may enjoy comfort and safety—every such man should read Mr. Lawson's burning words in his open letters to John A. McCall, President of the New York Life Insurance Company, and to the public. Every woman who is depending on insurance for her support. Every one closely or remotely connected with life insurance should get the November number of Everybody's, read the full text of Mr. Lawson's letters (of which parts are quoted below) and send Mr. Lawson their proxies or add their names to the hundred thousand who have already written him.

To John A. McCall President New York Life Insurance Co.

Sir: It is time your attention was called to the moral sense of the American people. * * * It is time you were shown yourself as you are today seen by the millions of your countrymen, who, a month ago, believed you to be a great and honorable man.

In spite of the terrible exposures of the past few weeks, * * * in spite of the unveiling of the jugglery, grafting and corruption of your administration of the most sacred trust that can be confided to man, you remain unconvinced of your fall and unpenetrated by your shame. * * * Insisting that the enemy against whom your maneuvers were directed was the American people, and that * * * your character and reputation were as absolutely before the bar as though you had been indicted for sequestration of the funds of some dead friend's wife. * * *

You have made yourself the custodian of these funds under sacred pledge of square dealing and honest administration. You have made yourself the national executor * * * of the widow and the orphan. * * * Hundreds of millions of dollars have been confided to you annually—scores of millions of the nation have been turned into your coffers. * * * With this money you have been rigging syndicates, debauching Legislatures, manipulating stock markets, and doing other things which will be proved later. Instead of employing the vast power and the immense wealth intrusted to you to conserve the interests of your policy-holders, you have made yourself a part of the cruel robbing machine which the "System" has created to deprive the American people of their savings. * * *

Yet today you describe the investigation being conducted into your operations as an impertinence * * * you are unrepentant, unashamed and defiant. * * *

One year ago, in Everybody's Magazine, I said:

"The officers, trustees and officials of the 'Big Three' life insurance companies have been and are now squandering their policy-holders' money. They are grafters—mean, contemptible grafters."

I gave specific instances of their thieveries.

You replied, not by hailing me to Court, but by:

Circulating throughout the world documents by the millions, disparaging my reputation by advertisements and "news" and "editorial" statements from your subsidized insurance press, denying my charges, attacking my character, all at the expense of your policy-holders and without their approval.

You employed James M. Beck, ex-Assistant Attorney General of the United States, then and now chief attorney for Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil Company, the "System" and the Mutual Life Insurance Company, to ridicule my utterances and asperse my honor in addresses in the cities of Philadelphia and Boston.

You employed James H. Eckles, ex-Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, now president of the Commercial Bank and representative of the "System" in the West, to attack my arguments and distort my motives in Chicago.

You ordered Vice President Perkins of the New York Life Insurance Company to perform similar service in Philadelphia; and

The burden of all these documents, advertisements and disguised advertisements and addresses was: "Lawson is an unmitigated liar and scoundrel, whose sole reason for attacking the insurance companies is that we refused him insurance." * * *

Today you and your fellow-plunderers stand convicted in the eyes of the world, not only of juggling the money of the widow and the orphan in the stock market, but of manipulating these trust funds for the benefit of your own pockets.

* * * Notwithstanding the turpitude already exposed to the people, you still imagine you can so conduct yourself as to prevent the investigators from fastening on you and your associates the more desperate crimes that have been committed in the past—the 150 to 200 millions stolen and diverted or used in corruption. * * *

But you have mistaken the tempers of your countrymen.

I have been authorized in writing by over 16,000 policy-holders, carrying over fifty-four millions of insurance, to act for them.

I had intended to await the finish of the New York investigation before proceeding, but as I have had placed in my hands during the past few days evidences of the determination of yourself and your accomplices and fellow-conspirators to face it out regardless of consequences, and as I believe men capable of committing the acts that have been proved during the past few days fully capable of taking the transportable part of the billion and a quarter funds to foreign countries, and using them to keep themselves from their justly deserved punishments, I have decided to act now. * * *

Thomas W. Lawson.

To Life Insurance Policy-Holders.

At the beginning of my story, nearly a year and a half ago, I made certain accusations against the management of the three big life insurance companies.

I knew when I began my story that the big life insurance companies were in the hands of grafters and thieves, just as are the great banks, trust companies, railroad companies and big corporations and trusts.

This I know, and, in plain language, said it.

Today the press of the world is devoting its space, news and editorial, to a recital of the contemptible and heinous crimes of the New York Life and the Mutual Life Insurance Companies—not as I relate them, but as their own officers and trustees publicly confess them.

In the July installment of my story I called upon policy-holders to sign a coupon blank inserted in Everybody's Magazine, and send same to me that I might speak for them in a plan to further their interests.

In response to my call I have received up to today, October 4, 16,307 answers, representing $55,165,916.

As soon as I received a number of signatures sufficiently large to warrant it, I quietly began operations.

The first direct result is the investigation now being held. This investigation has proceeded far enough to put before the public absolute proof of all the crimes I have charged, and three to thirty times as many more.

It is now evident to all that:

1st. The policy-holders in the great companies have yearly paid into their company scores of millions more than necessary.

2d. The policy-holders have been robbed of hundreds of millions.

3d. The vast funds now on hand have been habitually used by the grafters now in control of them in the rankest kind of stock gambling.

4th. These funds have been habitually used to corrupt the ballot box and the lawmakers of the country.

I repeat, absolute proof of all this has been made public.

It should now be evident to all that:

1st. The funds now on hand are in actual jeopardy, because they are in the absolute control of unprincipled scoundrels.

2d. Unless something is done * * * at once by the policy-holders * * * every one of the largest companies may become insolvent; that is, they may not be able to meet the engagements of their policies, because of waste of funds, tremendous falling off of new business, tremendous cost of new business, and the nature of the new business—so-called "graveyard business," for I am credibly informed that they are now seeking to insure those who formerly have been refused insurance because of physical infirmities.

It should be plainly evident that if the policy-holders move, and move quickly, they can be absolutely assured that:

1st. The funds as they are today will remain intact.

2d. They will be added to by the restitution of from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000.

3d. A score of the thieves who have plundered policy-holders in the past will be sent to prison.

4th. The future payments of policy-holders will be largely cut down.

5th. The present swollen surpluses will be returned in large part to policy-holders.

6th. In the future policy-holders will actually run the company.

7th. All policy-holders can be assured that in the future they will receive the actual worth of their policy at surrender.

All this being so, it is most eminently desirable for policy-holders to act, and at once. * * *

Thomas W. Lawson.

Beginning over a year ago, Everybody's Magazine has steadily attacked the legalized robbers of the business community, until the whole country has become keenly alive to the evil powers which we are struggling to destroy, and which have been in the way of President Roosevelt's "Square Deal for Every Man."

This destructive process must go on until the money of widows and orphans shall be safe; until beef trusts shall no longer control the food supplies; until the concentrated rottenness of many years shall be shaken out of the great businesses of our country; and until municipal, state and federal governments shall everywhere be clean and honest.

Charles Edward Russell, in his Foreword to his eloquent and constructive series on Man's Struggle for Equality, says: "In some way the Americans will find a cure for the evils that now beset and hamper them, as in old days they found a cure for monarchical despotism, and again for African slavery."

Lawson is helping. Russell is helping. Everybody's Magazine is helping. Let every man who has pity for the under-dog read what Mr. Russell has to say in his series beginning in Everybody's Magazine for November that he may learn, and think, and, when the time comes, act.

A great magazine—Everybody's for November—for everybody. For everybody; that means you.
